

PORTIC RECESS

From the New York Mirror.

THE PASSAGE.

[FROM THE GERMAN OF ENGLAND.]

Years have faded like a dream
Since I crossed this gliding stream;
And the sunset fair as then
Tints the river and the glen.

Then in this same shallow frail,
Canoes towed with me sail—
O'er a sea almost inspired,
O'er a youth, whom glory fired.

One for knowledge paled his brow,
Him a lingering death laid low,
One in battle and in blood,
Sank beneath the stormy flood.

So when e'er a lock I fast
On the whirling past,
Comes the thought that never more
May I see the loved of yore!

Yet can death forever part
Friend from friend, and heart from heart!
Ah! our souls were mingled then,
Let them mingle be again!

Boatman! twice thy ferry take—
Take it, boatman, for my sake;
For, by time though answered,
Two with me have crossed the tide!

VARIEY.

An Apt Reply.—Sheridan once succeeded admirably in entrapping a member who was in the habit of interrupting every speaker with cries of "hear, hear." Richard Brinsley took an opportunity to allude to a well known political character of the time, whom he represented as a person who wished to play the rogue, but had only sense enough to play the fool. "Where," exclaimed Sheridan in continuation and with great emphasis, "where shall we find a more knavish fool than this?" "Here! hear!" was instantly bellowed from the accustomed bench. The wicked wit bowed, thanked the gentleman for "his ready reply to the question," and sat down amid convulsions of laughter from all but his unfortunate subject.

Candor.—Children and fools, they say, speak the truth. A story is traveling the rounds, which represents that a good lady, in welcoming her friends, said, "Do make yourselves at home, I'm at home myself, and wish you all were!" This is nearly as good as the story of the most distinguished statesman in Massachusetts rather remarkable for his bluntness now, tells of his boyhood. His mother had long been expecting a visit from a neighbor's family to tea. Among the company expected was an out-of-town visitor of the family afterwards; and in honor of the occasion, all the niceties had been prepared and consumed, and prepared again two, or three times over. At length, having all right, and being fearful that her labor would be lost again, the lady one day dispatched her son to invite the company to come that afternoon. He acquitted himself of the message as follows: "Ma'am says she wants you and your company to come over to our house this afternoon, and says she wishes to the Lord it was over."—N. Y. Dispatch.

A man in Vermont who wanted employment as a schoolmaster, was asked, if he was acquainted with mathematics. "The would-be schoolmaster supposing some great literary character was meant, replied, "Matthew, Mattcock, sir!—Why no sir, I am not acquainted with Matthew, but I know his brother Jack very well."

A conceited actor boasted of the number of characters he had played in one evening. "I have seen you play two characters at once," said a seer and said his brother. "What were they?" "Why you attempted the Character of Casper, and played the Devil with it," replied the latter.

The destinies of a nation depend less on the greatness of the law, than the virtues and vices of the many. Eminent individuals cast further the features of her glory or shame; but the realities of her weal or woe lie deep in the great masses.—The curling tops of lofty waves are the crest of the ocean, but from its depth flows the overpowering strength of its tides.

A giant mind may be held in suspense, but that suspense must be brief, and the action which follows it will be more decided and energetic in consequence of that detention; just as a steam rushes with greater force for a temporary obstruction.

The Chicago Democrat says: "Eastern gentlemen, travelling in the West with their wives, will do well to take their marriage certificates along with them, as some of our landlors are growing inquisitive."

"A man can't help what happens behind his back," as the lauffer said when he was kicked out of doors.

Lazy Club.—They have a "Lazy Club" in Buffalo. A member was expelled the other day for running down hill; and another for talking with a person in the street without leaning against a post.—Greenboro' Post.

Experience has taught us little, if it has not instructed us to pity the errors of others, and to amend our own.

Deathly Thoughts.—Life would be as insupportable without the prospect of death, as it would be with sleep.

Swartout is known in Paris by the euphonious title of "Comte de la Abiquatization."

Dust.—No dust affects the eye so much as gold dust.

UNEXAMPLED MAMMOTH SCHEME:

THE following details of a Scheme of a Lottery, to be drawn in December next, warrants us in declaring it to be unparalleled in the history of Lotteries. Prizes to the amount have never before been offered to the public. It is true there are many bluffs, but on the other hand, the extremely low charge of $20 per ticket—the value and Number of the Capital, and the revival of the good old custom of warranting that every prize shall be drawn and sold, will, we are sure, give universal satisfaction, and especially, to the six hundred prize holders.

To those disposed to adventure, we recommend early application being made to us for Tickets—when the Prizes are all sold, blanks only remain—the first buyers have the best chance. We therefore emphatically say—DELAY NOT! but at once remit and transmit to us your orders, which shall always receive our immediate attention. Letters to be addressed and applications made to Heath Tract.

THE HEATH TRACT, containing six hundred Acres of Land, situated about six miles East of Lexington, Davidson Co. on the road leading from Lexington to Fayetteville is now offered for Sale.

There are about 100 acres improved, and 500 in Wood and Timber.

The Tract is located in a very HEALTHY REGION, and is peculiarly adapted to Farming. It has on it a fine Orchard, and a good Meadow.—And independent of these advantages, the prospect for Gold, is unquestionable, as one or two GOLD VEINS, have already been opened, and some very rich ore extracted from them.

The celebrated Conrad Gold Mine, is situated a few hundred yards south of it; and according to the direction of the Veins of that Mine, they must necessarily pass through a part of this Tract.

Any person wishing to view the premises or get a more minute description, will call on Rigdon Wadsworth, in Lexington, who will give the desired information; or any person wishing to contract for the same, will call on Dr. Austin, Salisbury; or address a Letter to the Subscriber, Trenton Post Office, Jones Co. New Foundry.

I HAVE lately completed and put in operation a large Iron foundry at my mill on the South-Yadkin river (formerly Pearsons) in Davie county; where we are prepared to make all kinds of castings, such as the running works of cotton or woollen factories, cotton gins, grist and saw mills, thrashing machines, wind mills, plumer blocks, gudgeons, iron shafts, pulleys, drums, driving wheels, and, in short, every thing else that is usually made at iron foundries. We are also prepared for Turning shafts, &c. and for finishing and fitting up all kinds of machinery in this line of business.

I have employed JACOB WAINSWORTH, formerly of Baltimore, a very skillful Mechanic, to superintend and manage my establishment. Mr. Wainsworth has worked all his life in establishments of this kind, and is distinguished for his skill as a Mechanic, and Millwright—he will also make calculations for water-wheels, mill-gearing, &c.; and when the machinery is obtained from us, he will attend to putting it up. Our prices are those of similar establishments at the North.

Orders addressed either to Jacob Wainsworth or myself, at Salisbury, will be promptly attended to.
