

TERMS OF THE WESTERN CAROLINIAN. CHAS. F. FISHER, Editor and Proprietor.

The Western Carolinian is published every Friday... Terms of subscription... Advertising rates...

JOB PRINTING, SUCH AS, CIRCULARS, PAMPHLETS, CARDS, LABELS, WAY BILLS, HORSE BILLS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, SALISBURY, N. C., September 9, 1892. Attention! OFFICERS OF THE 64th REGIMENT!

YOU are hereby commanded to parade at the Court House, in the Town of Salisbury, on Wednesday, the 12th day of October...

The Old Business Revived. LOOK HERE! THE SUBSCRIBERS, HAVING sold the old establishment which they formerly occupied, have commenced business in two shops...

Blacksmithing Business. THE SUBSCRIBERS, HAVING sold the old establishment which they formerly occupied...

NOTICE. THE Subscriber has opened a Public House, in Mocksville, Davie County, where he is prepared to accommodate Boarders and Travelers...

FOR SALE. THE Subscriber having determined on removing to the South, wishes to dispose of his valuable Plantation, lying within three miles of Salisbury...

200 ACRES. Apple, Peach and Cherry Trees. THE Subscriber has for sale a fine tract of 200 acres of land, containing an excellent orchard...

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Lunatic's Curiosity. A very high wave of excitement occurred at the Lunatic Asylum in Salisbury...

The Responder of course promised compliance and the lunatic walked back to the inn, where he found the overseer still asleep...

The overseer then began to fumble in his pockets for the order, when the lunatic produced it, and gave it to the keeper saying, "This is the man I want..."

The lunatic returned now very afraid that the lunatic in a fit of frenzy had murdered the overseer, and they asked him with great trepidation what he had done with...

Amusing.—It is not a little extraordinary how many of our most important discoveries owe their existence to chance...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

Goats.—The Philadelphia Express states that a gentleman in Philadelphia who had his pocket picked at the Post Office, presented a small snail...

Presently a struggle commenced, a half-suppressed exclamation, and the hand of the roger was suddenly withdrawn...

DEATH. (BY PERCY R. SHELLEY.) There is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whether there be...

THE MYSTERIOUS MUSIC. This strange, wild and yet unaccounted for—this fairy-like music still floats over the beautiful bay in front of Mrs. McCrea's at West-Paragonia...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

INFLUENCE OF WATER UPON NUTRITION. Water influences vegetation not only by the nutritive principles furnished to plants by its composition...

In this manner dead plants supply food to the living, and all the elements composing the first are found differently combined in the last.—Chaptal's Chemistry.

POLITICAL.

THE TARIFF DEBATE. At the conclusion of the great debate on the passage of the Tariff in the Senate, Mr. CALDWELL made the following impressive review of the character of the bill...

Mr. Caldwell said he felt it due to himself, and those he represented, that he should give his opinion on this bill, and the reasons that were alleged for its passage...

He would begin with promising that it was apparent a large portion of the party in power were much embarrassed in determining how they should vote on this bill...

An examination of this bill will show that there is no such thing as a free lunch, and that no one which might come into competition with one that is, that is not subject to high protective duties...

It results from all that is stated, that this bill is so constructed as to give the greatest amount of protection to the most revenue, in proportion to the rates of the duties proposed...

But our political friends who are about (unfortunately, as he believed) to give this bill their votes, professor to convince us by telling us it is a mere protective measure, intended to meet present exigencies...

Do they really think that the manufacturers will be better able to bear a reduction of these high duties than to be imposed, as it is alleged, to save these, than they are now to do without them?

They are, in the nature of things, there can be no compromise between those who hold that the power of levying duties was given only for the purpose of raising revenue for the support of the Government...

than a quarter of a century, the manufacturers of the same article come and ask a still higher duty, in proportion, than what they then did...

These, then, of our political friends who intend to vote for this bill, deceive themselves, in supposing they are imposing a provisional or temporary burden...

Such, at least, was his conception; and he believed he might say that of the many friends around him, and who, with him, are opposed to this bill...

But will the passage of this bill settle the question, and give repose? The very reverse. It will greatly increase the agitation. The principles involved in the controversy are so directly hostile...

Already, if we may judge from the declarations of the Senator from Massachusetts, (Mr. Choate,) and other advocates of this measure, the protective policy which this bill carries so far, has made fearful changes for the worse in a large portion of the population of our country...

The portion of our party who have unfortunately separated from us on this measure, rest their support on different grounds. They plead, in the first place, the condition of the treasury as a justification of the vote...

They are, in the nature of things, there can be no compromise between those who hold that the power of levying duties was given only for the purpose of raising revenue for the support of the Government...

The portion of our party who have unfortunately separated from us on this measure, rest their support on different grounds. They plead, in the first place, the condition of the treasury as a justification of the vote...