[We find the following touching lines in the Richmond Enquirer. They were written by Mrs. Townsend at the neglected grave of one who was a member of the Twelfth Georgia, a regiment whose gallantry was conspicuous on every field where its colors waved, and which won praise for peculiar daring, even among the " foot cavalry of Jackson.]

Far up the lonely mountain side, My wandering footsteps led ; The moss lay thick beneath my feet, The pine sighed overhead. The trace of a dismantled fort Lay hidden in the forest nave, And in the shadow near my path, I saw a soldier's grave.

The bramble nestled near the weed Upon the lowly mound, The simple head-board rudely writ. Had rotted to the ground; I raised it with a reverent hand, From dust its words to clear; But time had blotted all but these-"A Georgia Volunteer."

I saw the toad and scaly snake From tangled coverts start, And hide themselves among the weeds Above the dead man's heart; But undisturbed, in sleep profound, Unheeding there he lay-His coffin but the mountain soil,

His shroud, Confederate gray, I hear the Shenandoah roll Along the vale below, I saw the Alleganies rise Toward the realms of snow. The "Valley Campaign" rose to mind-

Its leader's name—and then I knew the sleeper had been one Of Stonewall Jackson's men. Yet whence he came, what lip shall say, What tongue will ever tell,

What desolated hearths and hearts Have been because he fell? What sad eyed maiden braids her hair-Her hair which he held dear-One lock of which, perchance, lies wit

The Georgia Volunteer. What mother with long-watching eyes, And white lips, cold and dumb, Waits with appalling patience for Her darling boy to come?

Her boy! whose mountain grave swells up, But one of many a scar Cut on the face of our fair land By gory handed war!

What fights he fought, what wounds he wore are all unknown to fame; Remember, on his lonely grave There is not e'en a name! That he fought well, and bravely too, And held his country dear, We know-else he had never been "A Georgia Volunteer !"

He sleeps—what need to question now If he were wrong or right? He knows ere this whose cause is just In God, the Father's sight. He wields no warlike weapons now,

Returns no foeman's thrust-Who, but a coward, would revile An honest soldier's dust? Roll, Shenandoah, proudly roll

Adown thy rocky glen; Above thee lies the grave of one Of Stonewall Jackson's men! Beneath the cedar and the pine, In a solitude austere, Unknown, unnamed, forgotten, lies "A Georgia Volunteer!"

Fall of a Scaffolding in Wheeling, West Virginia - Four men fall Fifty Feet.

Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, a portion of the scaffold erected for the use of the bricklayers at Dewey, Vance & Co.'s new blast furnace, just this side of Benwood, broke down, letting Francis Britt, Britton Falloure, Andrew Grass and Albert Chesley (an apprentice) fall a distance of from forty-five to fifty feet, dangerously injuring two, and seriously injuring the others, Lamed above, and a negro helper, living in Bellaire, who is only known by the name of John,

The scaffold was considered safe, if not over weighted, and at the time of the accident the four persons, whose names we have given above, were on the section that fell. A hod load of bricks had been emptied by John, and he had just time Reaping Machine. "ledgers," as they are called, boards nailed to support the platform and keep the Britt Falloure was the first to strike the ground. He struck on his head, and was picked up for dead. His leg is broken in two or three places. He was ta-ken to his residence, in East Wheeling, Francis Britt struck the ground on his hip; it is very seriously injured. He also received several cuts in the head and on the legs. Though his hurts are very painful there is nothing to excite apprehension. Andrew Grass struck on his hands and knees. He was very much injured by the falling bricks, one of which struck him on the head inflicting a dangerous wound .-We heard last evening that his skull was broken. His hurts are daugerous. All bert Chesley, the apprentice, fell on the arm, breaking it in two places. We could not learn his residence so as to see for ourselves, but we hear that he is very badly injured.

The injured men were taken to the redence of Mrs. Snodgrass, near by, when their injuries were attended to by Dr Foard and Frissell, of this city, and De Junkins, of Bellairs, and everything the could be was done to alleviate their sufferings.

The negro helper, John, was struck kinds of by the falling bricks and boards, and cut about the head and face. He was taken to his home in Bellaire for surgical aid. Some of the workmen on that portion of the scaffold that did not fall, told lus they would not again endure the agony of the brief time that elapsed from the breaking of the "ledger" until the men struck the ground, for worlds. It was a to find the men dead when they got to Tax moment of intense agony. They expected

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Toute, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a lowerful egent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, in young of ol 1, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the farn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatish and tout, Dyspepsia or ladigestion, Billions, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidnews and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitlated

Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs. HYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Beadach, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tight Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stonneh, Bad Taste in the Month. Bilious Attacks. One bottle in such cases will convince the most increditions of their curative officers.

leanse the Vitlated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleause it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow. Piu, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the carth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No System of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these litters.
