Having purchased the printing stock and subscription list of the Old North State, in accordance with the terms of the sale those who had paid in advance for that paper, will look to us to fill out their term. Those who were indebted to that paper at 12 o'clock on Saturday the 16th ult., had their indebtedness transferred to us, and it is a matter of importance that all should be promptly paid. Those not behind exceeding three months may yet pay at the advance rates of $2.50 for the year.

J. J. BRUNER.

EDWARD A. K. HENRY, is agent for this paper in Richmond, Va., to receive and forward advertisements for its columns, at published rates.

A discourse to the young men of Salisbury, will be delivered at the Methodist Church, next Sunday evening. Rev. J. P. Simpson officiating.

The extraordinary Fall of 1871 is probably of vegetable wonders. Mr. Wm. H. Howard has exhibited to us a lot of Irish potatoes, comprising four different varieties, and all of them from two to three times larger than usual. They were planted in July last, and dug on the 13th instant.

This has certainly been a very remarkable Fall, the first killing frost occurring on the 12th Nov. inst.; and not a very destructive frost at that. The gardens, many of the trees, &c., are green. We have a second crop Irish potato (Early Rose) Mr. M. A. Smith, which will weigh six or eightounces. We have had a second crop Bartlett Pears in our own garden. Cotton plants are green and yet blooming. If farmers had known at what harvest what a Fall was coming they could have raised magnificent crops of corn on their stubble fields.

MORTON HOUSE.—We are indebted to the publishers, D. Appleton & Co., N. Y., for a copy of this New Novel, by the talented authoress of "VALERIE ALDERMER," one of the most popular works of the kind which has issued from the press since the war. "MORTON HOUSE" bids fair also to be a decided success, the first edition, unusually large, having been exhausted on the day of publication. The publishers are now printing a new edition, and expect to fill all orders.

There are a few copies yet remaining at Stewart's Book Store in this place. Price, in paper, $1; in cloth, $1.50.

The Religious Sentinel speaking of "Morton House," says:

"It is a work of great merit, and well may North Carolinians be proud of it and its talented young authoress."

The story is told in the south and is of southern scenes and southern homes in the good old time. The plot is complex, yet simple, the moral tone is of the highest order, its philosophy is pure and perfect, and the great lesson taught is, that amidst the trials and mysterious afflictions of this world, the soul is sure of just retribution and punishment, and virtue—enduring virtue—of a happy and lasting reward. The description of southern life and manners, and of southern scenes and scenery, are graphic and attractive in the highest degree."

NEW YORK OBSERVER.—The year 1872 will be a jubilee year to the New York Observer, which was established in the beginning of 1823. This paper is one of the most influential in the country, and has acquired its influence by a rigid adherence, to, and a fearless advocacy of sound principles in Church and State. It has both a Religious and a Secular Department, kept distinct; and although not political or partisan in its character, it freely expresses and ably defends its views on matters of public policy. It has been for almost half a century a light in the Church and a pillar in the State. It will celebrate its jubilee by presenting to each one of its subscribers a New Year Book—an encyclopaedia of the most valuable information in regard to all those matters in the Church and in civil life which every one desires to have constantly at hand. The book alone will be worth a year's subscription to the paper. New Subscribers will receive the paper free until January 1st.

A dispatch from Weldon to the Raleigh Sentinel of yesterday says: "A shooting affair occurred in Flora Hall this morning, under the following circumstances: R. A. Boyd, Sr., of this (11th) county, met up with Mr. Richard Harris, of the firm of Cowan, Harris & Co., of Norfolk, Va.—Some words ensued in regard to an old account. The lie was given, when Mr. Boyd struck Mr. Harris. A struggle ensued, when Mr. Harris drew a pistol and shot Mr. Boyd just over the left eye. Fortunately the ball glanced, inflicting only a flesh wound. Mr. Harris was promptly placed under arrest by the chief marshal."

RAIL ROAD.

The statement that a young lady was stolen from Salem Female Academy, which has been going the rounds of the papers, was a mistake. The President writes to the Raleigh Carolinian that the young lady referred to was married, at the special request of her father, by himself to the enterprising young man from New Orleans."

The Rutherford Star says: Our town contains four churches, five stores, four doctors, nine lawyers, four bar-rooms, one wagon manufacturer, one drug store, two printing offices, one hotel, two boarding houses, one tan yard, two boarding houses, one tan yard, two private schools and about twenty-seven loafers.

Shall South Carolina Repudiate Her Bonds?

THE TAX-PAYERS AT BAY.

Excitement in the State About the Great Frauds.

THE RULE OF THE BAYONET.

Midnight Raids of the Rough-Riding Cavalry, d.c., d.c.

WASHINGTON, November 12.—The expose in The World of the financial condition of South Carolina is creating consternation throughout the State, and repudiation is openly talked of. The Charleston News of yesterday, received here to-night, states that while the State treasury is empty and without credit, the county treasuries, or many of them, are better off. These county treasuries have received the enormous taxes levied for county purposes. In Charleston county the county tax for 1869 alone was $300,000, and yet Charleston county pays not a cent of the large claims outstanding and long overdue. Colleton is bankrupt. Beaufort is bankrupt. Other counties, doubtless, are in the same impetuous condition. Taxes are levied sufficient to pay the honest expenses of the State three and four times over, but the money does not go to the public creditors. This has certainly been a very remarkable Fall, the first killing frost occurring on the 12th Nov. inst., and not a very destructive frost at that. The gardens, many of the trees, &c., are green. We have a second crop Irish potato (Early Rose) Mr. M. A. Smith, which will weigh six or eightounces. We have had a second crop Bartlett Pears in our own garden. Cotton plants are green and yet blooming. If farmers had known at what harvest what a Fall was coming they could have raised magnificent crops of corn on their stubble fields.

The close of the war found Mr. Blackwell with no capital that his indomitable energy, tact and perseverance. Now he is one of the wealthiest men of the State; all the result of industry. Why are they not more Blackwells among our young men.—Rich. Carothers.

The decree of emancipation which passed the Brazilian Parliament on the 27th of September, decides all children born of slaves after its date; fixes the slaveship by the government, numbering 1,700; establishes an emancipation fund, and makes various other provisions for the benefit of existing slaves. The declaration of the vote was received in crowded Senate-house with applause, and rose leaves were showered from the galleries upon the Senators. Religious corporations had commenced early last month to set at liberty slaves owned by them, and there were already evidences of a movement among slave owners in the direction of either converting their slaves into free tenant farmers or of freeing them on condition of a few years' service.

To Avoid the Auge.—1. Avoid exposure to the material fair after sunset and before sunrise. 2. Occupy rooms at night on the sunny side of the house and upstairs. 3. Build a fire in the house as soon as the dew begins to fall. The heat of the fire will do much to kill the malady.

4. Keep the skin healthy and active by a thorough bath every day on rising, in a warm room, with sufficient friction to produce healthy reaction. 5. Keep the bowels open by a proper diet. In nine cases out of ten the cause of ague would be easily overcome if the depraving organs were not overtaxed and mobid matters allowed to accumulate in the system to oppress it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Trust What Time has Sanctioned.

The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity may in some cases be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses, extending through a series of years, and all to the same purpose, worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world, innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down the extinguisher-sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that can go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and demands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to injure the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

The primary cause of consumption is derangement of the vegetative organs. This derangement produces languid nutrition and assimilation. By means of the blood process by which the materials in the food are converted into blood and carried into the tissues, the body is gradually destroyed, having less and less power to resist disease. The cure consists in the removal of the cause, and the restoration of the body to a state of health.

For the cure of consumption, the following articles are recommended:

1. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, one bottle.

2. Hostetter's Liver Tonic, one bottle.

3. Hostetter's Lung Tonic, one bottle.

4. Hostetter's Brain Tonic, one bottle.
