To Southern Teachers and Parents

A CARD FROM GEN. GORDON.

My excuse for addressing you must be the great importance of the subject to which I would call attention that of the proper education of our children, and the proper development of their self-respect and character.

I need not repeat any commonplaces in regard to the lasting effect of early impressions, the almost impossibility of diverting the minu from the bent given it in early years-all this you know as well as I. Nor need I say anything a siness strictly confidential. about the powerful silent influence, in this educational work, of the school books from which our children derive their views of right wrong, and their knowledge of the facts, or misrepresentations, of history-for this, too, you

And when I say that having been, for long years, almost entirely dependent upon the North for our school books, we have been compelled to use many which were very distateful to us, because we had no alternative, I only state that which every reader can substantiate. Long before the war we all felt the necessity for a change in this respect—the necessity for nnobnoxious school books-for unsectional, uppolitical books-school books prepared by our own scholars, if that might be; and since the war this necessity has increased ten-fold. Individual efforts, of the most praiseworthy character have, from time to time, been made in this direction by Southern men, but not of a sufficiently comprenhensive nature to accomplish the purpose in view.

To meet the want thus universally felt, several of our ripest scholars, and most successful teachers, united in preparing a Series of School The best, and ONLY TRUE GUARANTEE of its C. M Tremaine & Brother, beauty and cheapness.

Maury wrote Geographies and Astronomy. Venable wrote Arithmetics Algebras, &c. Holmes wrote History, Grammars and Read-

Schele de Vere wrote French Books. Gildersleeve wrote Latin Books. Le Conte wrote Scietific Books.

Dunton made Writing Books, &c., &c. And the combined seri s is called the University Series of School Books; a series not only not objectionable to our people, but positively attractive to a degree heretofore entirely unknown. Our history, institutions and modes of thought here receive impartial treatment; and instead of being ignored, the interests of the South here receive equal representation. Then as to intrinsic merit, who knows more about Geography than Maury, or of History and Grammar than Holmes, or of Mathematics than Venable, and so on through all the list? Each author is a master in his special depart It is for this Series of books, so excellent, se acceptable, so cheap (they are the cheapest books published) that your favor is solicited.

The books of the University Series are presented directly upon their merits: you are not asked to use inferior books. If these two questions can be answered affirmatively :-

Are these books equal to any in merit?

Are they as cheap as any? Should they not receive your preference? What is more reasonable than that Southern Schools should be supplied with books written by Southt ern scholars, provided they are equally goods with those written by Northern men? Is it notbetter both for us, and for our children, that such books should be used? Already the response which was inevitable, to this question, has come. More than 5,000 of our best Southern Schools are using these books; several Southern States have already adopted them for exclusive use in their public schools; County Boards in every Southern State are adopting them; and the best private schools are replacing books hitherto used, with them. The success of the "University Series" is unprecedented in the history of school book publishing, and it is destined to be yet greater.

Do the people of the South desire to rid them-selves of obnoxious books and pernicious teachings? Can it be better done than by unanimousy sustaining this first comprehensive educational enterprise of our own scholars, and by making the "University Series" the

UNIFORM SERIES IN EVERY SOUTHERN STATE. (Including, of course, any other books having equal claim for consideration.) Our schools will then be supplied with books which they can long continue to use; pupils compelled change their schools will no longer be retarded in their studies by a change of books, for all will use the same; and parents will be saved the expense of present constant changes, while they are relieved of all anxiety in regard to the character of the teachings under which their children are brought.

This subject, in all its bearings, is of the highest importance to us as a people, my countrymen. It is not a sectional movement, but a national and patriotic one. It is not a mere rivalry between different publishers, or I would not presume to ask your attention to it. It goes down deep into our dearest interests; it is the forming of the minds of your children and mine, which is at stake; the developing of their selfrespect and character, which is to be the result.

It is an enterprise so important to us that our hest citizens-our representative men in every State, to the number of 300 and more, the men we all honor and esteem -have put their money into the work, not to make profit out of it, although that is certain, but that abundant means should not be lacking to prosecute the enterprise on the largest scale. Will the teachers and parents of the South unitedly sustain these authors, and these gentlemen, in the work thus described, by adopting and using these books to the exclusion of all not so acceptable? I do not donbt your answer. If you desire further-information in regard to the books, write to the University Publishing Company, 155 and 157 Croshy St., New York,or 54 Lexington St., Baltimore, or to me at Atlanta, Ga., and illustrated Catalogues, and other information, will be sent to you at once, without charge. 12:31 J.
