EVENING HYMN.

Softly now the light of day Fades upon my sight away : Free from care. from labor free, Lord, I would commune with thee.

Darkness veils the light of day, So the world hides thee away; Thon canst from it set we free-Hear me, Lord, I plead with thee.

Let me walk 'mid light of day ; All the snares clear thou away : From my burden make me free ; Bid me. Lord, to rest with thee.

Soon from me the light of day Shall forever pass away ; Then, from sin and sorrow free, Take me, Lord. to live with thee.

There thou art the light of day, Sending darkness far away : There the eye from tears are free, And thy saints rejoice with thee.

Hail I, then, the "Light of Day," Who hast cleared my guilt away ! Matchless love that bought me free-Endless praises be with thee.

Frozen to Death-A Story Neglect and Brutality.

The Memphis "Appeal" of Monday tells the following story of negleet and brutality :

A person who farms for a living some distance from the city, rode in a spring wagon into town yesterday, bringing with him a little son. After figuring around for an hour, doing worldly business, he pulled up in front of a grocery in the suburbs, and

Time sped on, and the boy in the wagon became numbed with the cold and fell into a stupor. The lines dropped from his fingers, and the horses walked off .---When it was time to disperse from the grocery the excellent father and feeling parent could find neither wagon nor boy. He spent the whole evening looking for them in the city, and was going home in a half-crased state when he met his trusty colored man riding in for a doctor, saying the boy "Tommy was frozen to death." The horses had walked home, and the stiff child was found still sitting in his scat.
