SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.

When comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, or liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its assent? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the Bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who own their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal and healthful properties, are ready to testify to its efficacy. The multitude who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficial operation.

JUSTICE DONE AT LAST.

By a vote of forty-two to ten, says the Washington Patriot, the Senate decided that Abbott was not entitled to the vacant seat from North Carolina, and then this carpet-bagger being disposed of, Gen. Ransom was admitted. This is a very tardy act of justice, and the case should not be suffered to drop out of sight. It is indeed a most flagitious proceeding. It is now more than a year that North Carolina has been denied her rightful representation on the floor of the senate, and this, notoriously, because she did not elect a republican. There is nothing new whatever about Abbott's case. It was a naked and well understood fraud at the very beginning—say on the 4th of March, 1861—when, after having received only one-third of the votes cast by the Legislature, he had the assurance to present himself at the bar of the senate, and claim like the spurious Tichborne, to be right full heir to this high trust. It was quite easy to have adjudicated his case in a week after the senate then met, even if business was delayed. That body sat for months, and had plenty of leisure in the spring of 1861 to act on a question which was indisputably of the highest privilege. Yet they permitted all that session to pass without action, and they have allowed nearly five months of the session to pass without according representation to North Carolina. This business of dishonestly denying a seat to a democratic state, and hunting up a pretext for fraudulently appropriating it to an impudent partizan of their faction, is but a part of a general system of morality of which the country is weary, and deserves, as it has received, almost universal condemnation. It is, however, cause for congratulation that the Old North State has had justice done her at last, and that the gentleman now admitted to her seat, has borne himself so well during this unnecessary ordeal of admission, brings to the discharge of the duties of his new position those elements of substantial worth, high character, and commanding abilities that will enable him to represent his state, so long debarr'd from her just rights, worthily and well, and also to discharge in a fitting and acceptable manner all the responsible duties that may devolve upon him as a Senator of the United States.—Atl. STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Office Superintendent Public Instruction.

RALEIGH, April 15th, 1872.

To Teachers of Public and Private Schools in N. Carolina.

I beg leave most respectfully to call your attention to the provisions made for Normal Instruction by the revised School Law.

If twenty or more Teachers shall organize an Association, and hold a Teachers' Institute of four weeks, under efficient and competent instruction, at any time during the year, and report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Association will receive fifty dollars from the State School funds, and fifty dollars from the Peabody Educational fund. The Teachers of Public and Private Schools are thus appealed to by the State and by the generous offer of Dr. Sears, the general agent of the Peabody Educational fund, to do something for their profession, and for the progress of science. The best Teachers may be benefited by an occasional contact with the thoughts and modes of others. But there is a much higher advantage to be sought than individual improvement. There is wanting in the State an organized body of men, charged with the duty of developing in the public mind a proper estimate of the value and true theory of popular education. If the Teachers in the State were organized into active, working Associations, united by a common interest, moved by a common purpose, and aiming at a common end, the condition of the State would be changed. As soon as the public mind accepts the truth, which must be accepted sooner or later, that Free Public Schools are better than Private Schools—better for parents, for Children, for Teachers and for the State—School Houses will be found in every neighborhood; Teaching will become an independent, and honored profession; intelligence, industry and thrift will take the place of ignorance, pauperism, and crime; and new life and energy will be diffused through every public and private interest. The Teachers of the State have it in their power now to render a great public service and at the same time to "be a help and ornament unto the profession."

Very Respectfully,

ALEXANDER MEYER, Superintendent Public Instruction.

Strange Coincidence.—We learn from Mr. E. M. Adherhold of Gaston, that the wife of Sam Mooney (col.) dropped dead at the dinner table on Saturday last. Her sister came over to attend the funeral and dropped dead on the next night in the same house.—South. Home.

"WEED" SEWING MACHINE.

I HAVE taken the agency in Salisbury for the Sale of these popular Machines. All kinds of a first class Sewing Machine are invited to call at my Store and examine them, if desired, will be sent to their residence for trial. The "Weed" is unequalled in simplicity, durability, beauty and speed. It runs easier, and can do all any other Machine can do. No other Machine can excel the "Weed" in any way, and I am ready to test its merits, with any other machine at any time. It is a Shuttle Machine and makes the Lock Stitch; works both threads the same, and sticks alike on either side. Read the following home testimonies.

S. W. TERRELL, Agent.

SALISBURY, March 25, 1872.

MR. S. W. TERRELL, Agent.

Ap't Word Sewing Machine.

Your Machine being entirely new and unknown in this portion of the State, it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. I have had in my room for 2 weeks, the Howe, American Combination and the "Weed" and gave them all a fair, impartial trial. I now say unhesitatingly, I prefer the "Weed" to any other, it runs easier, more simple, in mechanism, and durability and can do all any other machine can do.

I think its simplicity of construction, ease of management, adaptation to every kind of family sewing combined, render it a first class Machine.

Respectfully,

Mrs. N. D. HARRIS.

NATIONAL HOTEL, SALISBURY, April 10, 1872.

MR. S. W. TERRELL.

Ap't "Weed" Sewing Machine.

I have used your Machine a sufficient length of time to test its merits. I can cheerfully recommend it to all in want of a first class Machine. It is simple and durable, runs easier than any other, is easy to operate, and can do all any other machine can do.
