Never let another fellow Steal a march on you in this, Never let a laughing maiden See you spoiling for a kiss, There's a royal way to kissing. And the jolly ones who take it Have you a motto that is winning : If you want a kiss: why take it.

Any fool may face a woman, Any body wear a crown ; But a man must win a woman If he'd have her for his own. Would have the golden apple. You must find the tree and shake it If the thing is worth the having, And you want a kiss; why take it.

> From the Rural Home. SOMEBODY.

Somebody's eyes have grown dimmer. Off in some quiet old home; At morn when the evening stars glimmer Watching for some one to come-Watching while heart grows the sicker, As day after day glides along, Watching while tears fall the thicker, Choking the lullaby song.

Somebody, wandering over Lambs far away from his own. Scents as of old the sweet clover That grows by the old door-stone; Longs to go back and to mingle, As in the dim days of yore, With those round the old cottage ingle-Those who, alas! are no more.

Somebody's prayers are ascending Prayers that His blessing attending May keep them from going astray: Prayers that float nearer and nearer The throne of the Father above. And, reaching the ear of the Hearer. Are answered in infinite love, Somebody's life-work is ended-Patient they wait now to go ; Long have they faithfully wended Toilsome paths here below. Soon the reward they'll be reaping That to the faithful is given! "Well done; come up!" and be keeping Watch for somebody in heaven. -A. A. Hopkins.

WHY WOMEN LOSE THEIR BEAUTY.

A spurious fullness is often seen in the outline during girlhood, which usually melts like snow under an April sun whenever the endurance is put to the test, as in performing the functions tive. of a mother. The change in appearance from the maiden of one year to the mother of next is often so striking and ensuring that it is difficult to believe that we are looking on the same person. The round, pleasing shape is prematurely displaced by a pinched angularity, and an untimely and unseemly appearance of age. Travelers from other countries, who have had extensive means for observation and comparison, have remarked u, o the great beauty of American women, and the early age at which it is lost. Some have as cribed this to the climate; but more intelligent observers agree that it is a hothouse, enervating mode of life. English ladies of rank, who, by the way are celebrated for keeping their beauty even to a ripe old age; think nothing of walking a half dozen miles at a time; while American ladies would think such a thing "perfectly dreadful." If American women, so duntily and richly fed, will sit in dark and sultry rooms the livelong day, they must expect to bloom too soon, to hasten through this charming period-at the longest in about ten years-and for twenty-five years after, have the grim satisfaction of being thin, wrinkled, angular and

AN EXTRAORDINARY METHOD OF BRINGING A DROWNED MAN TO THE reps. SURFACE .- Steffeno Landucci, an Italian gardener, was drowned while bathing in Lake Merced, last Sunday, says the San Francisco Chroniele, of August 31. His body was not discovered until Wednesday, the two men who scarched for the corpse having failed to discover it by the oadinary means. Having heard that a loaf of fresh bread, into which quickeilver had been inserted, would drift about on the surface of the water, and finally sink over the dead body of the drowned, they procured a large fresh loaf and placed in it four ounces of quicksilver. The loaf was thrown on the waters of Lake Merced The bread immediately moved against the wind, which was blowing strong, and kept on till it reached a certain point .-The loaf then stopped and suddenly sank and came to the surface again, and with it the dead body. The men who narrate this remarkable story are Viucino Morino and Francisco de Luca. They are well known to our Italian population. Their story is substantiated by others.

Phillipides, who was sent from Athens to Sparta, is stated to have run 150 Ro man miles in two days. October, 1811, Mr. Rivington, a farmer near Dorchester. walked 560 miles in seven days; and still more remarkable feat was performed by Mr. Granville, a native of Shropshire, who, in 1806, walked 122 miles on the Bath road in twenty-nine hours and threequarters.

FARMERS' WAREHOUSE, DANVILLE, VIRGINIA.

To the planters of Virginia and N. Carolina: As the present fiscal year is drawing to a close, and the bulk of the Tobacco erop marketed, we deem it our duty to express our thanks for the patronage extended to our House during the year. We do not complain, but feel greatly en couraged by the proportion of trade cone by us this season, and while some older establishments may have sold more Tobacco than we. none have made a better monthly or yearly average than we have. Our average for the month of May, was $14 82

July, Our market during the year has been a lively one and has been marked by a steadines. and firmness unsurpassed by any market in the State; and in view of the early maturity of the growing crop, we advise all, to market the balance of their old crop as early as Our senior partner having leased the house for a term of years, our business, (without any material change in the same of the firm.) will be conducted in the same efficient manner as heretofore; and with the house enlarged and improved we can safely say to our friends and the public, gererally, in again soliciting their patronage, that we can offer them as good accommodations and serve them as efficiently and satisfactorily as any other house in Danville. Parties wishing to send us tobacco can do so by rail, and it will be taken from the depot free of charges and remittance promptly made by Express or mail. We can promise quick return as the sales are now small and the prices good When you come to town, give us a call. HUTCHINGS, THOMAS & BURTON,
