EXPERIMENTS IN FEEDING

HOGS. A farmer reports an experiment made during the fall of 1870, in feeding twenty hogs, above one year old. They were fed twenty-eight days on dry shelled corn. comsuming eighty-three bushels, and gaining 837 pounds in weight, an average gain of over 10 pounds to each bushel of corn, which was thus made to return a value of 50 25 cents. They were afterwards fed fourteen days on meal, ground find and fed dry, (full supply of water being furnished), and consumed fortyseven bushels, gaining 553 pounds in weight, or 113 pounds to each bushelfed, the corn returning a value of 58% cents per bushel. Afterwar they were fed a fourteeen days on 551 bushels of meal, mixed with cold water, and made a gain of 731 pounds, or 13 1-6 pounds to each bushel of meal, the corn returning 65 5 6 cents per bushel. They were then fid fourteen days on 461 bushels of meal cocked, with a gain of 696 pounds in weight, or very nearly 15 pounds for each bushel of meal, the corn returning 74 4-5 cents per bushel.
