THE POPULATION OF CHARLOTTE.-London, so-called, was swollen in numbers equalled only b / New York City, Bultimore, or Charleston. According to the Observer Salisbury was ahead in 1860, the opinion of our neighbor, we feel satisis the difference in the population of the two places, which that paper would have the world believe.

According to the Observer the population of this place is not as large as in 1860. Yet every one knows that it has increased from 25 to 50 per cent, since that date. We do not believe the population is fully the Observer should not take in the whole relative population of the two places. The strong party to back it.

Salisbury Township is doubtless much unaller than that of Charlotte, and futhermire, a large portion of the land of the former was owned by a few men, renderog thick settlements out of the ques-

Now let the Observer count the number of business houses, dwellings, churches, schools, and inhabitants within the corporate limits of that place proper, and we will do the same, and if we don't make Charlotte appear small beside Salisbury in every thing that goes to make up a solid, prosperous, desirable, growing town, or city if you please, then we will agree to treat. There are but two things Charlotte is ahead of Salisbury in, and they are wind and gas. Our people never go into anything merely for a show, and we will prove this to the people of Charlotte if they will attend our Fair this fall and stop blowing about that of the Carolinas.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE SOUTH -Mr. Bryant, the distinguish editor of the New York Post, has been among us and tells the North, in his paper, that he has been unable to find any sectional bitterness or malignity south of Mason and Dixon's line. His words will fall with convincing weight upon thousands of read. ers who have hitherto honestly regarded the South with distrust as a semi-hostile Mich region. The visits of known and respected citizens, like Mr. Bryant, to our communities, at this time, will do more than anything else to disarm the silly dustriously kept alive by the chronic sianders of the New York Times, and its fel-Our new Board of Commissioners have lowers.
