

SALVATION FOR THE SOUTH.

What may be Accomplished by Intelligent White Labor.

In November last, Maj. G. W. Anderson, of Savannah, settled a party of French immigrants on the Lebanon plantation on the Ogeechee river. The colony now numbers twenty-six men, women and children, and the changes wrought by their labors are almost magical.

What was a wilderness a few years ago is now a series of well tilled fields, blooming and blossoming under the influence of the genial spring weather. On every side may be seen the unmistakable signs of the thorough agricultural comparison to the half civilized negro.

Maj. Anderson has sold a number of farm lots to his proteges, and they have established a village between the road and the homesteads, which, with true French spirit, they propose to call L'Esperance or Hope. It is an appropriate name to bestow upon their little colony in a strange land.

It is understood that a number of their friends are expected at some future day. A few houses have been erected by them, and they are now in process of erection.

A REMARKABLE PRESBYTERIAN RELIC.
The Moderator of the Northern Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session here, will sit in a chair that is a sort of heirloom of Presbyterianism.

Prospectus for 1873—Sixth Year, THE ALDINE.

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the highest intellect in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of prose, light, and graceful literature read a collection of pictures, the varied specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English painter. The pictures entitled, "The Village Jettie," and "Crowing the Moore," are 14 x 20 inches—are printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and time to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair, in the art stores. As it is the determination of its conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be forwarded promptly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals.

THE Literary Department will continue under the care of Mr. RICHARD HENRY STODDARD, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of THE ALDINE always in keeping with its artistic attractions.
TERMS.
$5 per annum, in advance with Oil Chromo Free.
THE ALDINE, being obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

AGENTS WANTED.
Any person, wishing to act permanently as a local agent, will receive full and prompt information on application to the publisher.
