The patriarchs took no mercury, no bismuth, no iodine, no bromide of potassium, no strychoria, no quinine. Happy old gentlemen ! they did not even know of the existence of these "specifics," and yet they lived outil it seemed as if Death had forgotten them. Their medicines were herbs and roots. They have left this fact on record, and, the world seems to be now taking note of it and returning to the first principles of medication. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable restorative of the day, is also the most popular. Thousands of persons who only a few years ago believed implicitly in all the poisons which figures in the pharmacopia, now pronounce this palatable tonic and alterative an all sufficient remedy for dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, bilious complaints, headache, intermittent fevers, and all the ordinary disturbances of the stomach, the liver, the discharging organs and the brain. The time is not far distant when most of the powerful and venomous drugs now so recklessly school, in cases that might easily be controlled by milder treatment, will be utterly dis charged by all philosophical physicians. As is, the thinking public, who are generally ahead of the professionals, have already put the daugerous preparation aside and adopted Hostett'rs Bitters in their stead as a safe and excellent household medicine, adapted to almost every ailment except the organic and deadly contagious diseases. For more than ventive has been annually strengthening its hold upon the public confidence, and it now takes the lead of every advertised medicine manufactured in this country.
