It is now ascertained that the Ku Klux ontrages in Kentuckey have been greatly exaggerated by the lying Radical sheets of the North. The purpose for this exaggeration is not so clear. It is also said that these Ku Klux are ex-members of the Federal army. these disorders are directly traceable to corrupt, bad government, and they are not likely to cease until better men are placed at the head of affairs.

IS IT TRUE?

There is a report in this city that a recent Rig suit, in the Western part of this State, was compromised to prevent the exposure of several prominent politicians of both parties. The report says that certain gentlemen high up in the ranks of the "Conservative" party were about to be swamped-were about to be connected with swindling transactions and exposed, and the case was equelched. We don't know any thing about the truth of the rumor, but would be glad to hear. If we can get the facts we will do the gentlemen the honor to give them an airing. We care not whom it hurts.

Butler, the Beast, did not succeed in getting the nomination of his party for Governor in Massachusetts. We are unable to account for this, unless we suppose that the people of that State preferred to see their favorite defeated rather than be dictated to. Butler's villainous character eminently recommended him to the tender sympathies and pure hearts of the children of the Puritan saints; but then Grant and his tools intimated that everybody must possible get better men to fill their places. to the Administration. This, these neighbor-loving, pure-hearted and truth-heeding people of Massachussetts, would not submit to. They would not allow Mr. Grant and his pets to dictate to them in this matter. So Butler was beaten.

There was not a half a vote polled at We think the Sun takes the right view the recent elections-not half of the voters of the subject, and the remarks of that of the State turned out, including those paper will apply with equal force to other that voted for and against the worthless similar Associations. amendments. State to have its printing done. If we have a proper conception of the object and intention of Fairs, it is to advance the interests of the communities in which Fairs are held. The main object is to stimulate generous rivalry, to create a friendly competion, to develop the resources of the calpable, and far more deserving public country, to foster home industry, and arouse the energies of all classes. In order that these ends be attained, it is necessarily incumbent on those who manage, to give each and every one in the community, an opportunity to compete for superiority, and especially should this be done towards home folks. Economy, in the distribution of the funds of a corporation, is the first thing that should be guarded in order to make successful results, and while we admire this trait in these gentlemen, we certainly cannot do them ty. So far, since the war, it has been all injustice when we say that in our opinion they have allowed the matter of economy to overbalance the idea of expediency. The Name "Yankee."

The author of the new work, "The Campaign from Texas to Maryland," is a Preacher. From his book the Bichmond Whig copies the following reasons for calling our enemies "Yankees." and we copy it somewhat for its truth and somewhat for its humor. It is as rich as a l'ope's Ball of Facommunication :-

"Yanker: The popular name for the citizens of New England. This is what Webster says it means-and this is what we want - a name for the people of New England. And, as their history is well known to the civilized world, the whole world will understand us, and we wil unders'and ourselves, when we call them Yankees. It is the only name or word in the English or any other language. living or dead, that can be applied with full scope and force. It extends to all their ten thousand schemes of deception and fraud, and comprehends their every act of lying and stealing, from the days of Washington till the present hour, in all their political, legislative, executive, com mercial, civil, moral, literary, sacred, profane, theological and diabolical history.

"The word has ever been used in contemptuous ridicule of their conduct towards each other, and their dealings with the rest of the world. And there is no other word in all the range of human learning, which will convey to the mind of every man, both in Europe and America, in Africa and the Islands of the Sea, so many, and correct traits of character, as the word Yankee, when applied to the Yankce. And thus applied, it means meddlesome, impudent, insolent, pompous, boastful, unkind, ungrateful, unjust, knavish, false, deceitful, cowardly, swindling, thieving, robbing, brutal and mur-
