The Watchman for the CAMPAIGN.

In order that every one may have the opportunity of becoming posted on the issues for discussion during the summer campaign, we have determined to put the able every one to read it who may wish to do so. THE WATCHMAN, the oldest paper in oldest in the State, will continue to battle. as heretofore, for the right, for liberal and just laws, for honest government, and for whatever will tend to promote the best interests of our town, county and State. It will contain not only the latest and most important news of the day, but such

CONVENTION LAST SATURDAY.

Attention is invited to the proceedings of the Convention to be found in another column. The Convention was well attended and its action harmonious

The hominees are selected from among our best citizens, and we do not anticipate any very effective opposition to them even should there be any disappointed or dissatisfied individuals disposed to make it.

Every one has an undoubted right to exercise his own judgment and preference in the matter of voting: Yet we have no hesitency in saying, without presuming to dictate, that every man who went into that Convention, and who claims to be a Democrat or Conservative, is honorably bound to vote for each and all the nominees, unless he can show good and entisfactory reason why he should not do so.

The prohibitionists of Raleigh, although they elected their ticket at the late municipal election in that city, have not yet been able to reap any fruit from the result. The liquor men claimed that the enjoin the temperance men. The question has been argued before Judge Watts, and he has decided to continue the injunction. peal to the Superior Court. But it is very doubtful whether they will succeed there. It is a little strange that the world will learn nothing by experience. It is still more strange that some people will persist in believing that the cause of temperaute can be promoted by prohibitory laws, or that it is a proper subject for legislation.

The many admirers of Edgar Allen Poe will be glad to hear of the noble purpose of that most liberal and estimable gentleman Mr. Geo. W. Childs. E. A. This is owing mainly to the fact that he did not die the death of an orthodox christian : that is, he was neither a Puritan, a religious fauatic, or a christian bigot. There are many people who can see no vir tue in their fellows who do not agree with them on all religious subjects, or who refuse to endorse all their peculiar religious tenets. Thepuritanisms of this age, the amasing want of charity one toward another, is alarming. But do not the heathen so ? The Mohommedans think that they of all the religious sects extract teeth. In the course of time, howare right, and most certain to make their calling and election sure. It is natural then that we should have fanatics and bigots on this subject; but it is very rare that such have any great quality. The scope of their minds is exceedingly limited, and they were well placed by the Saviour with the Pharises, men utterly destitute of all noble or charitable impulses.

It is the boast of these times that we live still clinging to us. .. When we learn to do the management of the teeth has come to Salisbury, June, 4, 1874,

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

The New York Sun remarks that this bill opens a question of the range of pow er in our national Legislature to pass any and every act which the caprice of the hour may inspire. We are all of us interested to know, it says, whether our thirty-seven States are, in all branches of local police, independent sovereignties of new men in nearly all the counties; or merely organized counties, whose almshouses and juils are to be inspected nation. by a congressional committee, or its roads and bridges placed under the supervisions of a detailed officer of the engineer corps Capt Price.
