Home Work - While stroling a round town a few days ago, we called in to Mr. W. M. Barkers' carriage shop. We found him pushing forward, building and repairing carriages; and, as we have work is of the first order. After examining the splendid work turned out at his shop by our home mechanics we were at a loss to understand why our people still persist in sending away from home to get carriages of inferior manufacture.

Fine Wheat. - We have been shown by Mr. D. Sheets a very fine specimen of White Spring Wheat raised by himself, county. What he tells you, you may be-Mr. Sheets sowed bine bushels of wheat, and raised 140 bushel one lot of 211 acres produced 65 bushels. This is very encouraging, and shows that the true policy of the farmer is to cultivate less land and cultivate it better, This is the policy adopted by Mr. Sheets and he gives the best evidence of its being the true one.

Do Negroes Desire Social Equal

Commenting on the recent elopemenof the daughter of a carpet-bagger at Port Gibson with a negro, the Vicksburg Herald, of the 9th, prints the following synopsis of the speech of a negro, who, it appears, is a member of the Mississippi Legislature, named Davenport:

"The time was not far distant when the Port Gibson affair would be repeated daily-it would be nothing to see large numbers follow the example of that young lady. He would go further, and say there were thousands of Southern women here in Vicksburg, of the most respectal were they not afraid. But these things would change, barriers would be broken down, for the white women now see that the negro is the coming man and that

If he were not a married man he could get the daughter of one of the best families in Vicksburg, and were he in the matrimonial market, he would buckle on a brace of revolvers and meet the women's brothers or fathers who would dare to interfere with his love affairs, or rather, at-

These sentiments, says the Mobile Register, it will be borne in mind, were uttered by a colored legislator of Mississippi to an assemblage of negroes and white Rradicals, not one of whom uttered a protest agains them, but all of whom must be regarded as applauding them,
