SEND US THE NEWS.

The large majority of our readers will have heard the result of the election in their respective counties before this paper reaches them. To those whom it will reach before the election is over, we would say work until the sun is down for the Conservative ticket. Send us the result.

THE REASON WHY.

The Raleigh Sentinel gives the following reasons why the people should not vote for the candidates of the negro party to-day. Because 1st. The Republican party is the party of fraud and corruption in high places. It was a Republican Legislature that in 1868 voted millions of corrupt debt upon the already overtaxed people of North Carolina, and many of the Republican members of that body are now asking the people to trust them again, and the more effectually to deceive the people, now raise the cry of honesty in office, reform, retrenchment, acts of economy, just as the pickpocket is the foremost and loudest to cry stop thief, when he himself has the watch in his pocket. Because 2nd. All their leaders are broken down political hacks who have sucked the official seal so long that they will starve if that panacea of all Radical ills is taken from them. And Because 3rd. If they are elected our people will find fastened upon them that most infamous of all the creations of the devil, the civil rights bill. That bill that forces the negro to a social level with the white man—forces the children of the poor white man who is unable to send his darling to a pay school, to sit in the class on the same bench with the little dirty, black monkey that a factional party, for its own corrupt party purposes, has forced up to the level of the white man, whose people have carried light and power and knowledge into every corner of the world. We say nothing about the political rights of the African, but in the name of all that is holy in our traditions of the past, let us not be instrumental in bringing the great sin of social rights upon our race.—The negro has had undisturbed possession of a mighty continent since the creation of the world, and that continent, rich and teeming as is its soil, blessed as it is in climate, veined by mighty rivers, arteries of trade, stands day by day as it stood in the beginning, inhabited only by the savage and the wild beast. The African had as his neighbor, the Egyptian, with all their learning, but they lived on in ignorance. Arabia illumined the world with the glaze of scientific light, and Africa remained in impenetrable darkness. Other nations of the world advanced in knowledge, learnt the use of the metals to build houses, to write, to print, to paint, the use of the mariner's compass and all that make man civilized, and the African still remained in darkness, still went naked, slept in hollow trees, brought down his sleep with an arrow pointed with a fish bone, and looked upon the white sails of the white man, who occasionally visited his coasts, as the creations of another world. And still we are told that this woolly headed blot upon the face of nations, is the equal of the white man, the equal of the people whose ancestors waded to their waltz to meet the invading Roman, and ever since that day wherever there has been need of high, heroic daring, or of hard, manly brain labor, there has been seen the "blue-eyed Saxon with his yellow hair." And still such as James H. Harris say that the negro is our nearest, moral and social equal in the face of these facts, and the fact that not a Congo in Africa knows a thing now that his ancestors three thousand years ago did not know.

EMOTIONAL RELIGION.

The peculiar emotional religion of Henry Ward Beecher has elicited considerable comment from the press, since his exposure by Tilton; and the strange feature about the newspaper criticism is that it is in the main favorable to Beecher, so far as the Northern Press is concerned, at least. But it has, in our opinion, taken the wrong view of the whole matter. Beecherism is a curse and must continue so prove so if sustained. It derives but little, if any, support from the bible and cannot, therefore, be defended as essential or as tending to the salvation of men. But the fact is, as the Sun remarks, genuine religion is not so much a matter of feeling as of principle. It begins in right thinking, develops itself in right acting, and ends in a condition of love to God and good will toward men. The attempt to violate this order and to jump at once into the enjoyment of results which are only to be reached by long and patient labor, is a mistake which causes most of the discredit into which religion and its advocates have fallen with the world at large. The transient excitement produced by singing, praying, and impassioned exhorting which multitudes esteem the chief element of religious experience, is found, in practice, to be of so little avail in making men honest and good, that it has ceased to command the respect of sensible people, and the real article of which it is a counterfeit comes to be despised along with it.

Whatever gushing orators and sensational preachers may say to the contrary, it is no more possible in the ordinary course of things, to pass directly from a state of sinfulness into a truly religious state than it is for a confirmed invalid to be at once restored to health. There have, it is true, been cases of miraculous spiritual as of miraculous corporeal healing, but they do not occur often. The only means that can be relied on, as a rule, to effect a radical and permanent cure requires time for its application. The spiritual teacher who promises instant salvation to his followers is as much of a quack as the self-styled physician who advertises to cure diseases by simply giving his pill, without change of diet or interference with business. Both may succeed in giving temporary relief; but both in the end are sure to leave their patients worse off than they found them.

The Richmond Whig Correspondent.

The Richmond (Va.) Whig, of the 29th July, publishes a correspondent, beginning as follows: OLD FORT, McDOWELL COUNTY, N. C., July 25, 1874.—There would be so little to amuse or interest your readers in an account of our trip from Richmond to Salisbury, that I shall begin my jottings from that place which, seen under the flickering glare of the gas-lamps (!) at 4 o'clock in the morning, presents anything but an inviting appearance. It is said to be the vilest town in the State, but as we have to remain there several hours on our return, I prudently suppress my opinion of its people, which is based principally upon the appearance and manners of some half dozen of its railroad officials. Suffice it to say, that I was glad enough to jump aboard the "Palladium" palace cars of the Western North Carolina railroad and flee away as a dove into the mountains.

The Richmond Whig did a noble thing when it admitted into its columns this correspondence. Every citizen of our town will instinctively regard this action with indignation. Can the Whig defend it, or is it indifferent to it? Uselessness in any degree applied to an individual, or to a whole community, is a grave word to use; but when needlessly and ceaselessly applied through the columns of a public newspaper, as above, on the loose evidence of "It is said," &c., it is as astonishing as it is unpardonable. Does the Richmond Whig offer such things for the gratification and pleasure of its readers? Do the people of Richmond and Virginia regard North Carolina towns as vile, and Salisbury as the vilest? Salisbury will compare favorably with any town in North Carolina, or Virginia, of the same population, in point of morals, intelligence, honesty, or wealth; her citizens are as liberal and as hospitable. We speak what we know, and we defy the correspondent or the Whig to show to the contrary.

Home and no Home.

Every person's home is his castle. To him it should be the centre of the universe, or, in other words, the place around which all his thoughts and affections centre. I would say to each one, love and cherish your home with your whole heart. You cannot prize it too highly. You cannot strive too hard to make it pleasant and attractive for your loved ones. Remember you cannot always keep them with you. The sad hour of parting must come. One by one they will be taken from you; and then saddened indeed will be your life, if you are to be haunted by the memory of little deeds left undone, which had they been done, would have added much to the comfort and happiness of those who can now be with you no more; but blessed will be your life if you can say, "I have done what I could to make them happy." The exercise of thoughtfulness and care will make home an earthly paradise. While you are enjoying the light and love of a pleasant, cheerful home, do not forget the many all around you who have been deprived of that light and love. The cold dark grave holds their dear ones, and the places they once called home are now occupied by strangers. Oh, do not refuse to open your hearts and homes to them! Remember they are "God's little ones," and has He not said, "Whoever shall give to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward?" And, also, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Do not, by refusing the love and sympathy which will cost you so little, but which will be above price to them, add still more to their cup of bitterness, which is even now filled to overflowing. You have not known, as yet, the deep anguish of the heart of one who as he stands by the newly-made graves of those who were dearer to him than all beside, realizes the solemn fact that in all the world around him there is now no place to which he can go and say "here is my home." But this is a world of constant change, and "thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." You who are to-day feeling secure amid the influences of home may be the homeless wanderers of to-morrow. Then be kind to the homeless ones, for "with what measure ye meet, it shall be measured to you again."

AN UNWHOLESOME SEASON.

The closing days of winter and the early days of spring are very trying to the feeble and sensitive and are apt to affect unpleasantly even the more robust and vigorous. Nothing can be more unwholesome to the nerves or more depressing to the spirits than damp, chilling winds, fogs and cold rains, and of such unwelcome visitors we have a superabundance at this season. Common prudence suggests, therefore, the propriety of fortifying the system against insidious enemies of health and comfort, and the experience of more than a quarter of a century points to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the all-sufficient sanitary safeguard under such untoward circumstances. An accession of vital strength and energy is what is required to meet and overcome the unhealthy elements now present in the atmosphere. This increase of vital power, so necessary to meet the extraordinary drafts which an inclement season makes upon the system and the constitution, can be readily acquired by taking from two to three doses of Hostetter's Bitters daily during the winter and Spring months. The nature of this celebrated restorative is well known to the public. It is composed of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, medicated with the extracts and juices of the most effective tonic, alterative, anti-bilious and laxative roots and herbs known to medical science. The combination of these excellent ingredients, in proportions suitable to the exigencies of enfeebled, languid and diseased systems, the great tonic-alterative owes its efficiency as a preventive and curative. A course of it commenced now, will prevent all danger of fever and ague, rheumatism, or other ailments arising from cold and damp peculiar to the spring months, and also prove a safeguard against the attacks of dyspepsia and liver complaint which so frequently occur at this period of the year.

ONE BOX A PERFECT CURE FOR CHILLS AND FEVER. PERFECT PREVENTIVE OF Chills and Fever. NO QUININE! NO MERCURY! NO ARSENIC!

Dr. Bellamy's Pills.

This invaluable medicine involves a PERFECTLY NEW TREATMENT OF CHILLS AND FEVER, and will effectually cure and root out the disease from the system. 1. All other remedies must not be taken when the chill and fever is on; but the "Bellamy" Pills can be taken just as safely when the fit is actually on as at any other time. Take one a week during the season of Chills and Fever, they will positively ward off and prevent an attack, and if taken when the fit is actually on, as at any other time, they will positively ward off and prevent an attack, and if taken when the fit is actually on, as at any other time, they will positively ward off and prevent an attack. 2. The "Bellamy" Pills is also a sure remedy in all cases of Intermittent Fever, Remittent Fever, Typhoid Fever, Sick Headache, Indigestion, and Liver Complaints of all kinds. 3. After you are entirely discouraged and hopeless and all other remedies have failed, make one more trial, procure one Box of Bellamy's Pills, and take them. The proprietor guarantees you an absolute and perfect cure. Reference is made to the extraordinary case of Professor Lawrence, Principal of the Institute of Education at New York and Philadelphia. He says as follows: "About ten years ago, while residing in New Jersey, I had a violent attack of chills and fever. The chill would come on regularly about an exact time, and continue for nearly two hours, followed by a burning fever for more than five hours, which no medicine would relieve; and I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the street, and could not ascend one flight of stairs in an hour. I took ten loaves, my life became a burden to me. I lost every kind of food, and even water tasted to me like copperas. I could get no refreshing sleep either by night or by day; the medicine prescribed for me by physicians gave me no relief, and I was fast sinking into the grave. One day I was persuaded me to purchase a box of Bellamy's Pills. I took three at twelve o'clock noon, and felt better, and that night, for the first time in three months, slept for fully eight hours. The next morning I felt much better, and took three more pills. As ten o'clock approached I prepared myself for my daily chill, but to my intense joy my unwelcome visitor did not come. After eating a hearty dinner at one o'clock, I took three more pills, and at night three more. The next morning, after a delightful night's rest, I arose at seven o'clock, feeling quite well; and I hereby announce myself an Independent Conservative Candidate for the office of County Surveyor of Rowan County. From the experience I have in surveying I feel confident that I can give satisfaction in the discharge of the duties of the office. J. C. BERNHART. July 23, 1874—till elect. p.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EIGHT JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

I am a Candidate for the office of Judge of the Superior Court of this judicial District. As the office is one that should be kept entirely above the baneful influence of party politics, I am not the candidate of any party, and have no political opinions to put forward. I shall make no canvass of the District, believing it unbecoming in a candidate for a high judicial position to do so. If elected, I desire to assume the office free from all obligations to party or sect, that I may be able the more easily to hold the scales of justice evenly balanced. Salisbury, N. C. June 18th, 1874. WILLIAM H. HALLEY, Salisbury, Intelligence, Salem Press, Winston Sentinel and Republican, Danbury Reporter and Mt. Airy Visitor, copy till day of election and send bill to W. H. H.

DR. WADE'S

"LIVER CORRECTOR" AND CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA. Among the many discoveries in medicine of late, few are regarded with more interest than the valuable remedies for DYSPEPSIA. Of these, none stand higher among the profession, or are more familiar with its virtues than the "LIVER CORRECTOR." DR. MORRMAN, Physician at the White Sulphur Springs, eminent in his profession, and being well known in Baltimore, says of it: "I consider it one of the BEST REMEDIES FOR DYSPEPSIA attended with constipation that ever was used." Colonel GOODE, of Mecklenburg county, Va., an eminent lawyer, and a gentleman of unusual intelligence, says: "After long suffering from the 'LIVER CORRECTOR,' I have obtained more relief than all other medicine has taken." WILLIAMSBURG, Greenbrier Co., W. Va. Messrs Wade, Bogden & Co., Baltimore, Md. GENTS.—I use three or four bottles of your "Liver Corrector" last summer for my trouble DYSPEPSIA, and got more relief from it than from any medicine that I have ever taken. So great was my suffering I was unable to do anything, was taken with numbness and dizziness, when I would rise up suddenly or when I rode on horseback, or in other words, was in a manner dead for twelve months, and got no relief from any medicine until I found your "Liver Corrector." My health is now steadily and rapidly improving. Yours, gratefully, W. W. GIGGS. For sale by Theo. F. Kluttz, Drug Store, Salisbury, N. C. May 7, 1874—3mo.
