Serious Accident bappened to a little son of Mr. J. M. Horah yesterday by the explosion of a powder flask. We learn that the little fellow was pouring powder out of the flack into the fire. We regret to learn that his hand is seriously damaged and his face painfully burned.

Christmas passed off here very quietly and pleasantly. There were less gun powder burnt and whisky drank than usual. Christmas eve was joyously celebrated by the boys in fireing guns, &c., but by a sort of common consent, other and more quiet demonstrations occupied them the next day.

TT For the year 1875 the Watchman will be sent to all subscribers living in Rowan county for $2.00, and to subscribers out of the county for $2.10. There is no postage on papers circulated in the county where they are published, but there is postage ou them when sent out of the county.

Every one who finds the cross X mark on his paper is informed that he owes as either for the past year or the future one. if he desires to have the paper continued, and we hope that what is due us will be promptly forwarded.

Half Sheet. - According to notice given last week we only issue a half sheet to-day. This is the best we could do and allow our boys any holiday at all. own mind.

We have heard that Dr. Mott will probably let the office remain here. We hope this will prove true, for we know that the large majority of those most in terested in the business of the office, desires to have it at this point.

The N. Y. World declares its belief that Grant has not yet abandon the idea of a third term. He has no er yet said so. His policy of oppression in Louisiana, the World thinks, is designed to bring on a rebellion there; then to declare war against the State, which it is believed will arouse the other Southern States to resist ance; and then a general declaration of war against the South; then an appeal Northern States will fire the Northern hearts, and convince them of the necessity of re-electing him to a third term.

It looks plansible, and the idea is not without strong indications of its truth But we cannot yet believe it possible tha Grant can play the programme out with out a mishap which shall plung him and his party into utter ruin and disgrace.

Bechler, one of the gang of thieves and rowdies brought here by the Fair of the Carolinas was found guilty of deagging and robbing Mr. Boyd of Chester. It will be remembered that he was arrested by Policeman Blackwelder, but his accomplices escaped. He had his case removed from Mecklemburg to Caharrus, hoping probably that important witnesses would be absent. He was, however, found guilty and sentenced to the penicentiary for ten years. His counsel took an ap peal upon the ground that the county send of Mecklenburg was not affixed to the transcript. We learn that the seal had been affixed, but the impression was not

As we have heard it, the crime of Bechler was most atrocious. His gang decoyed Mr Boyd away from the hotel, drugged him with seme poison and then robbed him. Their victim is said to be still in a deplorable condition.—Southern
