Although each succeeding number sions and discoveries to a degree of fullness affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real and accuracy never before attained by any pamost appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications the most carefully prepared agricultural matter may claim superior cheapness, as compared with during the year, much more in the aggregate rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception-alone and unapproached-absolutely without competition in price or character. The national feature of THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmo politan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art. Its. mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic merit. Thus, while placing before the patrons of THE ALDINE, as a most noted American artists, attention will alters, giving subscribers all the pleasure and instruction obtainable from home or foreign

The artistic illustration of American scenery original with THE ALDINE, is an important feature, and its magnificent plates are of a size more appropriate to the satisfactory treatment of details than can be afforded by any inferior page. The judicious interspersion of landscape, marine, figure, and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, impossible where the scope of the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of THE ALDINE is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only with the popular interest of the work
