SALISBURY THURSDAY, JANUARY 21.

The Legislature re-assembled last Monday.

Boneless Cod Fish at R. W. PRICE'S

Cotton sales have been very brisk for the past few days.

The weather has been delightful over head for several days.

The Associate Editor has gone to Raleigh, we devils are running this thing till he comes home.

To be Re-sold.—The property of Mr. Jehu Foster, is to be re-sold, on the 20th of February next.

Mr. Linton of the Boyden House, is soon to furnish his Hall with one of those handsome writing desks, about which we have seen so much in the papers.

We had the pleasure of meeting in our office a few days since Mr. J. W. Watson, of the Charlotte Observer, who is traveling in the interest of that excellent paper.

Messrs. Bell Bro., we are glad to see, have re-furnished their jewelry store, and are going ahead with their business just as though nothing had happened. They deserve success.

Valentines for St. Valentine's Day 14th February, 1875. Sentimental 5c's to $5.00 each. Comic 10 cts. per dozen. Send orders to J. H. ENNISS, Raleigh.

A Murder was committed near the dividing line between N. C., and S. C., line on the 15th inst. David Travick and Jesse Le Gette were riding in a buggy, both under the influence of liquor. They fell out and Le Gette shot and killed Travick.

We are glad to see that Messrs. Bai and Barker have made arrangements to run a wagon daily and deliver Kerosene oil, Lamp-gimneys and wicks at the residences of our citizens, this will be very convenient, and we are glad to see that this enterprising firm have gone to work in earnest: Success to them.

Ball at the Opera House.—The Ball given at the Opera House on last Tuesday night, was quite a success. Not only the fair ones of our own, but fair ones from our neighboring cities, Raleigh, Charlotte and Wadesboro, also some from our sister State, South Carolina, figured in the brilliancy. To the looker on it was a most beautiful scene, he alone had an opportunity of admiring the beauty, grace and elegance of those engaged.

Pale luna was shedding forth her softest rays on a couple a few nights since, who were talking over "matters in general" as only such couples do, and it was necessarily "business" for "was real cold for them to be out, when the next-door neighbor having occasion to discharge an old load out of his revolver, poked the noisy thing out of the window and let drive. One scream, one jump and in his arms she went: We not understanding the firing, just walked away slowly, without noticing any more the cooing couple. It was too cold to be out any how. T.

The mass meeting of the citizens of Boston last Friday in Faneuil Hall, to express their sense of the late action of the Federal Government in Louisiana, was attended by three thousand persons. Every class and condition were present. Merchants, professional men, hoteliers, laborers, Republicans and Democrats, came amicably together. The proceedings were orderly and the resolutions passed forcible and appropriate.

Brooklyn Argus: "We see it stated that Colonel Sam Pike, of Ohio, has started no less than forty-two papers during his eventful career. Col. Sam Bard, of Georgia, has started about the same number, but in each case the Sheriff started so soon for Sam, that he never could tell whether he was meant for a journalist or a flying-machine.

The New York World says of Grant's recent message that it is a "quitted patch work," and concludes an able review as follows: "Instead of an admonition or a denunciation of General Sheridan and the Democratic party for submitting the army to the partisan purpose of Kellogg a week ago last Monday, the crime is excused upon the plea 'that the army is not composed of lawyers capable of judging at a moment's notice just how far they can go in the maintenance of law and order.' The last and extreme punishment for Presidential lawlessness was never so richly deserved.

The Lord's day should be a happy day, bright with promise and hope. The Lord's day should be full of praise, entering within his earthly courts. The Lord's day should be one of service, 'working' while the day lasts, for the night cometh when no man can work.' We cannot lose our blessed Sabbath. It is a holy day and not a holiday, and any professed Christian whose example or life is contrary to this idea is making a sad misleading mistake.—Working Christian.

The Lincoln Progress records the following distressing accident: "On last Friday morning, the 8th inst., as the son of Mr. Dixon, who lives about six miles from Dallas, Gaston county, was preparing for the day's work, a most distressing accident occurred. It seems that the young man had taken the mule from the stable, with the harness on, and started to the field, when it took fright and threw him off. His feet became entangled in the harness some way, and not being able to free himself from his perilous condition, he was dragged some distance. When the mule was stopped the unfortunate young man was found to be dying, though he lived about twenty-four hours after the occurrence."

Raleigh Sentinel: Last Saturday in this county, Joseph G. Smith killed a friend and fell on him and hurt him badly. His old mother was sent for and she started immediately for her son, riding behind one of the neighbors on horseback. Just before reaching Leesville the old lady complained of feeling a little badly, and stopped at Wiley Lynn's store to rest.—She died in less than five minutes after getting in the store.

When to Advertise?

There is no season of the year when it is safe to discontinue advertising. When business is dull it is needed most and should be most energetically used, because people are most attracted at all times to the houses who take most pains to invite their trade, and advertisers then get the largest share of what is doing. "Dull times," it is said, "are the best for advertisers." Because, when money is tight and the people are forced to economize, they always read the advertisements to ascertain who sells the cheapest and where they can trade to the best advantage. If your goods have special seasons, build up a name for them when out of season; and that reputation will largely aid your sales when the season arrives for putting them into the market. If "no pent up" season limits the demand for your wares, it is clear that there is no time when you can judiciously withdraw from the public eye your announcements.—Toledo Commercial.

Didn't Suit.

The Committee sent by Congress to investigate the Louisiana middle has just given a sample of the shameful partisanship that characterizes every act of the Radical majority of that body. The work of examining witnesses and taking testimony, who was sent to New Orleans and spent weeks in hearing all sides of the question. They examined members of every class of population, and, being Republicans themselves, naturally listened to the negroes and K-loggites with a willing ear. Yet their sense of justice was too strong to falsify the facts and from the Washington Star we have the following: "The Star says: The full Committee on Southern affairs met this morning to confer with the sub-committee who went to New Orleans to investigate the condition of affairs in Louisiana. It is indicated by the evidence submitted that they will report: 1st. That at the late election in Louisiana, there was no intimidation of colored voters. 2d. That the White League disowned, but voted down the proposition to discharge servants who voted the Republican ticket. 3d. That the registering board was a fraud. 4th. That the United States Troops executed orders issued by Marshal Packard on election day. 5th. That the disturbances in the Louisiana Legislature had ceased and the Assembly was entirely orderly and quiet at the time Gen. DeRobriand entered the hall to seize the members. 6th. That the only regular Speaker Wiliz made of Gen. DeRobriand, was to keep order in the lobby outside of the Hall; that the people of Louisiana generally had no sympathy with the Kellogg government, and that colored men who say they are Republicans, proclaimed the measure as State Democrats, in order to get rid of Kellogg, and that the policy force of New Orleans is demoralized. But the truth was particularly unavailing to the majority of the full committee; and we are told in a latter dispatch that they will start at once for New Orleans to 'see for themselves.' Any one can understand what that 'seeing' will amount to; some men can see nothing but what they wish to see and we may be sure the committee will give us some more lies.—Charlotte Home.

An Awful Lie—Can Sheridan Beat It?

He didn't look like a liar. He had, in fact, a sort of George Washington face, and his enunciation was loudly honest and decidedly nasal. He sat roasting his alternate sides in front of a red-hot saloon stove, amid a party of bummers who were trying to out lie each other. "Talkin' 'bout lightning!" "I reckon 'one of 'em lazzarino' was ever struck, struck was you? No! Well, I was. You see I was out shootin' prairie chickens in Eliny last August, and there came up the awfullest thunder-storm I ever seen in the whole course of my life. It rained cats and dogs, an' the thunder rolled, an' the forked lightning' darted all over the sky like fiery tongues. I got behind a haystack that sort of learned over to the south like, an' the first thing I knowed the lightning' struck that, and set it afire. Then I moved to a walnut tree that stood near and a double-jointed bolt ripped that into splinters. I moved to another tree, an' the lightning' struck it. Then I began to think it meant me, an' so I jest walked out of the loudest up, an' took three or four of the loudest clap, an' took heard. It shook me up right quick; but beyond rippin' the coat off my back, an' splittin' one o' my boots from top to toe, it didn't do me no particular damage. But you don't find old Jim huntin' a row of that kind agin." The discomfited bummers looked curiously into others faces for a moment, and then, one by one, silently arose and sneaked out, leaving Truthful James master of the field.

The Every-Day Darling. She is neither a beauty nor genius. And no one would call her wise; In a crowd of other women. She would draw no stranger's eyes; Even we who love her are puzzled. To say where her precousness lies, She is just an every-day darling. In that her precousness lies.

She is sorry when others are sorry. So sweetly, one likes to be sad; And if people around her are merry, She is always gladder than glad. Her sympathy is the sweetest. The lover, a heart ever sad; She is just an every-day darling. The dearest that heart ever had.

Her hands are so white and little, It seems as if it were wrong They should ever work for a moment. And yet they are quick and strong; If any dear one needs helping, She will work the whole day long; The precious every-day darling, Every day and all day long.

She is loyal as knights were loyal, In the days when no knight lied, And for sake of love or of honor, If it need be, a true knight died; But she dreams not she is braver Than women by her side, This precious every-day darling, Who makes sunshine at our side.

Ah envy her, Beauty and Genius, And woman the world calls wife; The utmost of all your triumphs Would be empty in her eyes. To love and be loved is her kingdom; In this her happiness lies. God bless her, then, every-day darling! In this her precousness lies.

Col. Long, of the Khedive's army, who lately performed such prodigies of valor, turns out to be a former Maryland editor. A man was seen coming out of a Texas newspaper office with one eye gouged out, and his nose spread all over his face like a piece of raw beef, and one of his ears chewed off. To a policeman who interviewed him, he replied: "I didn't like an article that 'peared in the paper last week; an' I went in ter see the man who writ it. He war thar, stranger."

While this enterprise is not conducted under the direct auspices of any Lodge, yet its object is to aid that noble Institution, the Orphan Asylum, which was established by the Grand Lodge of the State, and management is entirely in the hands of members of the Order. The object is exclusively for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum and the Committee deem it unnecessary to make any extended appeal to the people of North Carolina in behalf of an institution which is so worthy of their support. The low price of the tickets places it in the power of every one to aid a noble cause, and at the same time the chances of being reimbursed are unusually favorable. It is confidently believed that the enterprise will be successful, but if from any cause there should be no Concert and distribution, all the money received from ticket holders shall be returned to them without dissent. HAVE YOU TRIED JURUBEBA.

ARE YOU Weak, Nervous or Debilitated. Are you so languid that any exertion requires more of an effort than you feel capable of making? Then try JURUBEBA, the wonderful tonic and invigorator, which acts so beneficially on the sensitive organs as to impart vigor to all the vital forces. It is no alcoholic aperient, which stimulates for a short time, only to let the sufferer fall to a low depth of misery, but it is a vegetable tonic acting directly on the liver and spleen. It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves and gives such a healthy tone to the whole system as to soon make the invalid as lively as a new person. Its operation is not violent, but is characterized by great gentleness; the patient experiences no sudden change, no marked results but gradually has troubles. "Fold their tents, like the Arabs, And silently steal away." This is no new untried discovery, but has been long used with wonderful results and is pronounced by the highest authorities "the most powerful tonic and alterative known." Ask your druggist for it. Put it by W. M. F. LIPPER & Co. New York.
