

Carolina Watchman.

LOCAL.

APRIL 29.

That Hat came from the Store of Messrs. Bernhardt & Son's.

Col. Lewis Hanes, of Davidson, was in the city this week.

We had calls from Dr. F. N. Luckey and Jas. S. McCubbin, Esq., this week.

Dr. Wm. H. McKee, of Raleigh, is dead; so also is Prof. S. J. Stevens, of the same city.

Meroney and Bro. have made important improvements to their justly celebrated plow, for which they have secured patents.

Judge Edward Pierpont, of New York, has accepted the position of U. S. Attorney General, Vice Williams, the tool, resigned.

Mr. Stephen F. Lord and bride have returned from an extended East tour, and were gladly welcomed home by their many friends.

Mr. W. H. Kestler is filling an improved ice-house with Boston Ice, two feet thick. We're going to do our best to keep cool.

Mr. L. V. Brown has just received a large assortment of the most popular cooking stoves, and other things in the tin line.

That wrestle was a dog fall. Mr. O. was 14 pounds heavier than Mr. W. who was 3 weeks older than Mr. O. The parties were only 65 years of age, and wrestle well to be so young.

Prof. W. M. Barker, has been entertaining goodly numbers of our citizens each night this week by his interesting lectures on Phenology.

The Hon. W. A. Graham and Josiah Turner have been nominated to represent Orange in the Convention. These are good and true men.

Personal.—Gen Rufus Barringer, W. M. Bailey, F. C. Robbins, J. M. Clement, M. H. Finis, Esq., and other lawyers of repute are in attendance upon court here this week.

Trinity College.—The commencement at this flourishing institution takes place this year on June, 10th. We are indebted to the Managers for an invitation to be present.

The Southern and Atlantic Telegraph Company has established an office in Salisbury, with our accommodating young friend Mr. Arthur Brown, as agent. Doubtless, lower prices will prevail.

Mill Bridge has now a first class store under the personal superintendence of one of the most popular merchants in the county, Mr. J. S. McCubbin. Read his advertisement in this paper and go to see him, if he can and will do what he says.

Query.—If a young man calls on a young lady, remaining quite late, and next day the said young lady's dress shows two small holes, evidently burnt by a cigar, in the back just under the shoulders, what is the legitimate inference? A chromo is offered for a satisfactory solution.

Judge Cloud's imposing personal appearance is handsomely set off, in the Court House this week, by the variegated collection of colored Photographs with which Dr. Barker, the Phenologist, has lined the wall just back of and above the Judge's seat. We'd like to hear the Dr. on the Judge's cranial development.

The Schedule on the N. C. Railroad has been changed. The new schedule will appear in our next issue. The mail train leaves here going North at 11 45 p. m., the express 10 50 a. m. Going south, the Mail leaves at 4 34 a. m., the express 6 45 p. m.

Mr. Charlie Thomas, a good, quiet, sober and industrious mechanic, died after a short illness at his home in this city, last Thursday morning. He was about 37 years of age. He left a small family and many warm friends.

The Greensboro Patriot has an excellent article on the gauge question, and, we think, shows conclusively the absurdity of the position assumed by certain papers that have just waked up to the fact that there has been a little mismanagement in connection with our Railroad system.

The Charlotte paper should have General Andrew Jackson's law office, now situated in the yard of the late Hon. N. Boyden, at the Centennial. We have no doubt that Mr. A. H. Boyden would permit its removal for the purpose of placing it on exhibition there, if he were consulted on the subject.

Rev. F. J. Murdoch, the talented Rector of this parish, left on Monday evening last, for Charleston, S. C., whether he goes on a visit to near relatives, in the enjoyment of a needed and merited vacation of a few weeks. Mr. Murdoch is a young man of brilliant parts, a preacher of no ordinary promise, and one who possesses in the very highest degree, the love and confidence of his people.

Judge Cloud has been savage on the offenders this week, and has "sent them up" without stint. Lewis Vogler goes to the county jail for 30 days, on the charge of assault &c.

Joe Cousins, colored, gets 60 days in the reformatory, for a similar offense.

Tom Poston, colored, goes to the Penitentiary for years, for appropriating pantaloons, property of his boss, the property of Rev. Mr. Wetmore.

Another contraband whose name we did not learn goes to the pen for a similar term.

Persons who have had legal notices published in the Watchman are responsible for the contents of such things as cash and no mistake. We have a paper bill that falls due in a few days, and we hope our friends who are due us will remember us kindly.

Col. C. S. Brown, of the National Hotel, Raleigh has been in our city for the last few days, looking well, and as jovial as ever. We were glad to see the Col. on his old tramping ground once more. He is the most popular Land Lord in the State, and deservedly so. Long may he live.

HOUSE BURNED.—We regret to learn that the large comfortable residence of Mr. John Knox, who resides near Rowan Mills, was destroyed by fire, during last week. The fire was caused by a spark from the chimney falling upon the roof.

Most of the furniture was saved from the flames.

CHANGE TO GRAND JURY.—The charge of His Honor, Judge Cloud, to the Grand Jury, on Monday last, was particularly severe upon our County Commissioners, in the matter of bridges and roads, and wound up by directing the jury to present them for neglect in these particulars. His Honor, paid us the compliment of taking as a text for a portion of his remarks, one of our locals in the Watchman of last week.

Runaway.—On Thursday evening last, Messrs. Jno. Holt, and Kerr Craige, were thrown from a buggy, on the public square, by a short turn of a frightened horse, that got away from there like a whirlwind. Pieces of buggy and harness are flying around yet somewhere.

Mr. Craige narrowly escaped a violent death, as the buggy in overturning fell on him, but fortunately, or providently—his come off unhurt.

People have a foolish way of sending off for things. It is wrong to send off for anything that you can have made or get at home. Have your work done at home if you have to pay more for it; the money is then kept in circulation among us. This will apply to every branch of mechanical industry as to unmercantile articles. If you want goods buy them from your merchants; if you want tinware, buggies, harness, furniture, patronize your mechanics; if you want a paper, or printing done look up your own printers.

Personal.—Dr. C. A. Henderson has removed to Greenville, S. C. and in partnership with Dr. J. M. Westmoreland, of that place, opened a wholesale Jobbing Tobacco House. We indulge in no mere stereotyped common place, when we say that we deeply regret to lose Dr. Henderson from our town. A high-toned, honorable gentleman, a man of means and influence, who has always been foremost in every enterprise or improvement looking to the public good, he will be missed in this community, for we have none such to spare. We congratulate Greenville upon the accession of so valuable a citizen, and trust that he and his enterprising partner may meet with that success, which we know they will.

Good.—A business, such as we have needed for a long time, has just been opened on Main street two doors below the National Hotel, at Sprague's old stand, by Mr. J. D. McNeely. It will be seen by reference to another column that Mr. McNeely has established here a Merchandise and Exchange Brokerage, and that he will sell groceries to merchants from samples, enabling purchasers to see the quality of the article desired before hand, and without incurring the expense of going after it. He will also buy and sell Exchange, Gold and Silver, Bank Notes, Stocks, &c., take money on deposit, or act as agent for parties having money to lend. We take pleasure in being able to commend him and his business to our citizens generally.

Anniversary I. O. O. F.—The Odd Fellows of North State Lodge No. 26, celebrated their national anniversary on Monday evening last, in an appropriate and exceedingly pleasant manner. The Hall was beautifully decorated by fair hands, and within its walls assembled the members and their families, with a large number of invited guests, in all numbering probably two hundred persons. A brief but appropriate and happily conceived address of welcome was made by Dr. T. W. Keen, N. G., and remarks were also made by Messrs. P. B. Kennedy, T. Frank Brown, Wm. Howard and others. The order of the evening was sung, and that grand old refrain, the "Old North State," was produced with fine effect.

Ice-cream, lemonade, cakes, oranges, confectioneries &c. were then served in lavish profusion, and at a late hour everybody went home well pleased. These annual re-unions are very pleasant affairs and reflect credit upon the Lodge, which we are glad to say is in a highly flourishing condition. Success to Odd-Fellowship in its noble mission!

Yadkin Rail Road.—Pursuant to notice a meeting in the interest of this Road was held in Meroney's Hall on Friday night last, which was largely attended. Col. Paul N. Heilig was called to the chair. In response to calls Dr. T. W. Keen, Messrs. Jno. W. Mauney, Theo. F. Kluttz, and Hon. F. E. Shober addressed the meeting, all speaking of the importance and necessity of this connection, and depicting in glowing colors the benefits to be derived from it. We wish we could publish Mr. Shober's speech, particularly, which was a calm, dignified, unprejudiced statement of simple yet telling facts. A committee consisting of Messrs. W. H. Crawford, F. E. Shober, and G. A. Bingham was appointed to confer with Dr. Hawkin, Maj. McRae, of Fayetteville, and others with regard to the proposed building of the Fayetteville Road to this point, which is in contemplation, and which is indeed almost a necessity since the change of gauge on the N. C. R. R. With proper efforts this Road can be secured, and then with the W. N. C. R. R. completed through to Tennessee, as it certainly will be now; with our Cheraw Road giving us an Air line to Wilmington and Charleston, Salisbury will be the town of Western Carolina, if not indeed of the South. Cheer up ye friends of progress, for the skies are brightening. Our old town has touched bottom at last, we verily believe, and now the rebound is coming. Will not those of our citizens who have hitherto opposed these enterprises, now abandoned their opposition, come into the ranks, and lend a helping hand in reviving the destinies of our town? Now is the time, or never!

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina, met in annual session, at St. John's Church, Cabarrus Co., on yesterday. This Synod represents a large membership, and many churches, as the Lutheran is a strong denomination throughout this section; and particularly so in Rowan. As a class our Lutherans are proverbially a frugal, thrifty and upright people, whose word is always as good as their bond.

Rev. J. G. Neiffer, and Mr. Achenbach represent St. John's Church of this place. At St. John's LUTHERAN CHURCH.—The sermon here was from the Pastor Rev. J. G. Neiffer. The text which was taken from Hebrews, 4—chapter and 16—verse, is contained in the following words:—"Let us therefore come boldly into the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."

The true Christian has an ever present always accessible refuge from trouble, and he is invited to come, not doubtfully, not fearful of rebuff, but boldly, with that perfect faith which casts out fear. And too, he is promised that he shall receive grace and that he shall obtain mercy. The source and the authority of all this is to be considered, and we find that omnipotence itself is the guarantee. It is the duty then as well as the privilege of all Christians to come unto God through Christ, that for His sake may thus find grace, mercy and peace." The Pastor announced that owing to his absence at Synod, his church would be closed next Sabbath; but that regular services would be held on the morning of Ascension Day.

Last Sunday was a bright and beautiful day, and as its gladdening rays lit up the earth with almost heavenly splendor, all must have felt the goodness and wisdom, of Him who planned and ordained these days of rest—these oases in the desert—these mile-stones on the great thoroughfare of life—these refreshment stations by the way!

All the Churches were open, and all were well filled. At the FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Rev. J. Rumpel preached from the text:—"And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds; but the wind passeth and cleanness them." Job 37th ch.—21st verse. This was the language of Elishu to Job, in which he endeavored to disabuse his mind of the impression that he was suffering unjustly, and that God was dealing in unnecessary and unmerited severity with him. The wisdom of God is as unsearchable as it is indisputable, and His goodness and mercy are not to be doubted. We should not be too curious to pry into the acknowledged mysteries of Revelations—"into which even the angels desired to look" but can not fathom.—All that is essential to salvation is so plain that "a fool need not err therein." We should not be disheartened at the apparent hardness of our lot, for as in Job's case all will be right in the end.

All things (—even tribulations—) work together for good to them that love God." At the METHODIST CHURCH, Rev. L. W. Crawford preached from the text:—"And Jesus answering said,—Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger!" St. Luke XVII-17 & 18 verses. Leprosy was a loathsome disease, horrible to look upon, fearful in its effects, and may well be taken as a truthful type of Sin. Sin effects us fearfully in this life, defiling us in every part, so did Leprosy. Leprosy was contagious, and the Lepers were separated from the camp, so should we avoid sinful associations, for we will just as surely be contaminated thereby. As the Lepers must be cleansed, so must the Sinner be washed in the blood of Christ before he can be saved. How ungrateful were those nine Lepers who returned not to glorify God! But do we not often forget, or still worse, willfully neglect, to return thanks to Almighty God for all his goodness toward us? Let us be careful to abstain from impure associations. Let us realize "that there is none other name given under Heaven whereby we must be saved," but that of Jesus Christ. And finally, let us in all things, and for all things, return thanks to Him, from whom alone cometh down every good and every perfect gift.

A CARD. To THE CITIZENS.—Having received uncollected on my part the nomination for Mayor by a large and respectable meeting of my fellow citizens, I do not feel at liberty to decline to comply with the wishes thus expressed. I therefore accept the nomination, and if elected, shall discharge to the best of my ability the duties imposed by the office. While I shall endeavor to execute the ordinances faithfully and impartially, I shall also labor earnestly and zealously for the advancement of every effort put forth for the building up of the city, and for the promotion of the health, peace and prosperity of all our citizens.

With many thanks for the partiality expressed, allow me to subscribe myself Your Obedient Servant. J. J. STEWART.

Does not This Suggest a Level Head? From the Canton Index.

If we believe Moulton's story, all the letters and documents in the case and all the material points in the evidence are consistent and harmonious excepting only Beecher's own statement. But if we disbelieve Moulton and believe Beecher, then the whole case becomes one of the most extraordinary on record. It is a mystery piled upon mystery. The letters and documents become inexplicable. The conduct of Beecher, if innocent, was strange; if guilty, by no means strange. The history of the case and all material points in the evidence sustains Moulton save and except Beecher's testimony.

The citizens of Glasgow are raising funds for the erection of a monument to Livingstone. The subscriptions are limited to $25 each, and are coming in freely.

At a meeting of the citizens of the Town of Salisbury, held last Wednesday night at Meroney's Hall on motion of R. W. Price, A. J. Mock was appointed chairman and Moses A. Smith, requested to act as Secretary.

Kennedy, the Secretary was instructed to furnish a copy of the proceedings of this meeting to the Watchman and Intelligencer, and that they be requested to publish the same. On motion, the house then adjourned.

MOSES A. SMITH, A. J. MOCK, Secretary. Chairman.

We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary from the Committee of arrangements to be present at the "Hop" to be given at the Boyden House to-night.

SOLVENT CREDIT AND NATIONAL BANK NOTES TAXABLE.—In view of the great difference of opinion among tax payers in this State, especially in some localities, respecting the right of the State to tax money on hand or on deposit and solvent credits, the Treasurer of the State has issued a letter of instructions to county commissioners and township trustees calling their attention to the decision of the Supreme Court of this State, June term 73 in the case of Ruffin against Commissioners of Orange in which the liability of these subjects to taxation is clearly shown. The circular has gone forth fortunate owners of money and solvent credits must take due heed.—Sentinel.
