

Carolina Watchman.

MAY, 27.

Those of our patrons who are indebted to us will greatly oblige by coming forward and settling up without delay.

THE 20TH IN SALISBURY.

This day was observed here as a holy day. The stores, shops, and other places of business were closed the whole day, and hundreds of our citizens attended the grand celebration at Charlotte.

Gov. HENRIEKS, of Indiana, was the man of the people at Charlotte, on the 20th. His name was frequently heard in the crowd, and in the more private gatherings of the influential citizens he was talked of as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. He is said to be a "good man," and God knows we need such an one at the head of affairs in this great country.

The Rowan Rifle Guards were at Charlotte on the 20th, and were complimented as the 2d best command on the ground. This was doubtless in reference to their military bearing and accomplishment. To the eye of the unskilled they looked the equal of the best. They bore in the procession "the JONES CASTLE FLAG," a bit of tattered banner which went with the 12th U. S. Infantry, through the Mexican war. The rents in its once beautiful silk are all historic, and tell of the daring men who carried it in triumph to the capital of the Montezumas.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION

As has been announced the people of Rowan will assemble in this place next Saturday to nominate Delegates to represent the county in the State Constitutional Convention. It is to be hoped that the people of the county will turn out in mass. The time is short for canvassing and the candidates should be at work. If the people after they meet, shall find that the different Townships are not sufficiently represented to justify their going into the nomination of Delegates, then the Convention should be adjourned for two or three weeks in order that all the Townships may be fully represented. In the mean time one and all who feel an interest in the good government of the State should labor to secure the nomination of first class men. The framing of a Constitution is no small job, and it will require men of experience and ability.

Some further particulars of the late murder of Mrs. Heilig: When the body was drawn from the well where it had been thrown by the cowardly assassin, it was found to be badly gashed and bruised. Over the right ear was a gash 2 1/2 inches long, several smaller cuts on the right side above the ear and the skull fractured in two or three places; also the throat showed evident signs of severe choking. On further investigations it was evident the murder had been perpetrated in the kitchen, doubtless soon after breakfast. The floor had been well wiped, yet was found considerably stained with blood, and traces of blood were also discovered along the path leading from the back door of the kitchen to the well. It is believed the body was thrown into the well before dead. Thus ended the most brutal murder ever recorded in this county.

Obsequies.—On Monday after the discovery of the body on Sunday, a large crowd of people gathered at St. Paul's Lutheran church and very soon the remains of Mrs. H. arrived largely attended by relatives and friends. The services were conducted by the pastor Rev. W. Kimble. His Text was from 73. Psalm and 24 verse: "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel and afterward receive me to glory. The occasion was solemn the sermon was impressive, and the dense congregations attested their interest and sympathy by marked attention, sighs and tears.

The supposed murderer, after a careful investigation of the case before a board of Magistrates, has been committed to jail for trial at the next term Rowan Superior Court.

John Pool, who was once scolded by U. S. Senator, by dint of bayonets, negro and carpet-bag votes, is writing articles against the Convention move. If there was any one opposed to the measure before, he should cease opposition now. John Pool has shown himself to be not only the enemy and villifier of the people of North Carolina, but a most unreliable and infamous political intriguer. He is vainly trying to get up the impression that Convention means and will necessitate a new reconstruction. He raises the same old cry that we have heard so often from Grant's pets and boot-licks, negro worshippers, and Civil Right advocate. If the people are fools enough to be gulled, misled, by such creatures as John Pool, by men who belong to a party that favor placing of negroes on an equality with white people, then they deserve to be ruled by the negroes who gave the power to that party. But the white people of North Carolina will not heed the thread-bare arguments of the Civil Rights party. We have faith in the manhood and independence of the white men of the Old North State. They will teach the Civil Rights party a lesson next August that will be long remembered. They know that all the political insouciance, evils and burdens they have suffered for these many years, came of Radical, negro and scaplaw rule. The idea of a party that has not only robbed and oppressed the people in every imaginable way for the last ten years, but that is also in favor of making the negro their social equals, by forcing his children in the public schools with the whites and in all other places heretofore held sacred by the whites—the idea, we say, of such a party undertaking to dictate to the people concerning any matter in which they are interested is calculated to arouse the indignation of every one. It is always safe to take the opposite course to that indicated by Radicalism. The people have been suffering the burdens of Radical rule and the effects must be felt for a long time, but now that an opportunity is afforded to begin the work of reform, let all avail themselves of it.

THE CENTENNIAL OF THE MECKLENBURG DECLARATION.

Impassive Concourse of People. A JOYOUS DAY. Distinguished Persons in Attendance. SPEECHES, FLAGS, AND MUSIC.

The celebration of the 20th of May at Charlotte, was a great success in all points. The weather was fine, and the outpouring of the people from far and near, immense. By 8 o'clock, A. M., the streets were packed, so that it was very difficult to pass. And still they came pouring in from every direction. It was rare you could see one sought for, and almost impossible to escape from the crowd. At about 12 o'clock the Marshals succeeded in forming a procession, thus bringing order out of what seemed irretrievable confusion. The procession was set in motion, and drew after it, one, another, and another if its parts unite finally all were in their appointed places, moving off grandly to the Carolina Park, in the South-western suburbs of the city, in the following order:

- Two Light Infantry companies from Fayetteville, N. C., "The Fayetteville" and the La Fayette.
Richmond (Va.) Howitzers.
Two Companies, C. and D. 1st Virginia Regiment.
Raleigh Light Artillery, with two guns.
Raleigh Light Infantry.
Rowan Rifle Guards, Salisbury.
King's Mountain Military Institute.
Carolina Military Institute.
Charlotte Greys.
Mecklenburg Zouaves.
Comp. H. 35 Regt. N. C. troops.
Fire Companies:
Rescue Steam, No. 1, Raleigh.
Hand Engine Co. do.
Newberne Steam, Newberne, N. C.
Palmetto Steam, Columbia, S. C.
Independent Steam, " Phoenix Hand Engine, "
Fairfield Company, Winstboro, S. C.
Stonewall, do. Chester.
Rock Hill, do. Rock Hill, "
Wilmington Steam, Wilmington, N. C.
do. Hand Engine, "
Independent Bucket Co. "
Greensboro, " Greensboro, "
E. E. Lee " Greenville, S. C.
Tarboro Hand Engine, "
Independent Hand Eng. Charlotte.
Hornet Steam, " Pioneer Steam, "
And then came various Odd Fellow Lodges, &c. All with banners, flags, bands of music, wreaths of flowers, and decorations of all sizes and kinds. A gayer, grander procession was never seen in North Carolina.

The citizens generally, did not stand on the order of their going, but went as best they could; some on Railroad trains, some in Omnibuses, Carriages, Buggies, wagons, horse-back, but most on foot, filling the roadway to the Park with a dense moving mass.

Arriving at the stand for speakers, the military and firemen filed right and left to admit the passage of the orators and other distinguished invited guests who brought up the rear of the grand procession. Ex-Gov. Graham, presided. Rev. A. W. Miller opened ceremonies with prayer. A brief announcement speech from Gov. Graham, and Maj. Gales came forward and read the Mecklenburg Declaration; and then followed an oration by Hon. John Kerr, chaste, beautiful and piquant, though a little over tinged with references to the late contest between the States. Gov. Graham then introduced the Hon. John M. Bright, representing Tennessee, the daughter of the Old North State. Mr. Bright's speech was well received, and spoken of afterwards with great warmth of praise by those who heard it best. Gov. Hendricks, of Indiana, was then called for, but not being present, did not respond. Gov. Vance was called, and rising to excuse himself, broke down the stand, or a part of it, to the great amusement of those not alarmed at the accident.

We should mention among the distinguished persons on the platform, Ex-Gov. Walker, of Va.; Hon. H. L. Davidson and Hon. J. M. Bright, and Col. H. M. Polk, of Tenn.; Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, of Va.; besides, of our own State, Gov. Brogden, Hon. A. S. Merrimon, Col. John H. Wheeler, Hon. T. L. Clingman, Hon. Thos. Settle, Dr. Chas. Phillips, John W.

Graham, Gen. D. H. Hill, Gen. R. Ransom.

After the speeches, the invited guests, military and fire companies, orators, &c., adjourned to Floral Hall to partake of a public dinner. It is said that not less than two thousand persons were fed at this place.

Fire works, speeches and music, occupied the hours of the evening. The air was filled with blazing rockets, the streets glared with ten thousand lights, and the voice of joyous mirth enlivened a scene at once most novel and impressive.

Thus closed the Centennial, the merest glimpse of which we have sketched. It can never be written up in full, for it is quite impossible to delineate on paper the feelings of a high spirited, intelligent people celebrating the great deeds of their revered ancestors.

Too much praise can scarcely be bestowed on the generous citizens of Charlotte for the success of this great festival. In addition to large public arrangements every house seemed open to as many visitors as could enter, and their proprietors were constantly on the look out to extend invitations. We have heard of no dissatisfaction and no disappointment on the part of visitors, and we have only to wish that her generous people may live to see a hundred more Centennials.

One Hundred Years Ago!!! 1775.

I received a letter this morning, from a citizen of a distant State asking for information that he thought could be obtained from the Records of the Courts held in Salisbury in the spring of the year 1775, and in searching the court records for him, it occurred to me that the names of the people and some of the proceedings therein found would be read with interest by many persons in this city.

The May Term of the Inferior Court for the County of Rowan was begun and held at the Court House in Salisbury on the first Tuesday in May in the XV year of the reign of our sovereign King George the III. King of Great Britain, &c. before Alexander Osborne Esq. and companion Justices assigned to keep the peace &c. for said county.

On Saturday of the Court, Present, John Brewer, Moses Winsley, John Ollipant, Will Sharp, Geo. H. Berger, James Smith, Robert King, Jas. Macey, Daniel Little.

The Court proceeded to the election of three persons to be recommended to his Excellency the Governor, for sheriff of Rowan County, and James Kerr, James Smith and James Macey were unanimously chosen.

Licenses were granted to the following persons to keep an ordinary at his house in Salisbury, to wit: Daniel Little, James Kerr, Gasper Kiuder, and John L. Beard.

The following persons were directed to be summoned to attend the Court of Oyer for Salisbury District on the first day of June next (1775.) (names of Jurors appear hereafter.)

It is said that Capt. Jack passed through Salisbury on his way to Congress with the Resolves of the Mecklenburg Convention, while the Court was in Session. If this be so, it was probably this Court of Oyer & Terminer commencing on the 1st day of June 1775, that was setting when he reached Salisbury. Let us look back and see the old Town at that stirring time. Of course we can only see what is in the Court House, but that is worth looking at.

North Carolina. To wit: June 1st 1775. Pleadance being made and silence commanded. The King's commission of Oyer and Terminer was publicly read, in which Commissioner Alexander Martin Esq. was nominated one of the Judges of a Court of Oyer and Terminer, appointed by act of Assembly said to be read at an oath office and repeated and subscribed the Test, took his seat and proceeded to business. The court appointed Asa Osborne Esq. Clerk of the Court, who qualified according to law. Benjamin B. Boote Esq. produced a deposition from Thomas McNeill Esq. his Majesty's Attorney General for the province of North Carolina appointing him the said B. B. Boote Deputy Attorney for the crown for the District of Salisbury who qualified by taking the oaths prescribed by law for the qualification of public officers and an oath of office and subscribing the Test. Thomas Harris high Sheriff of the County of Mecklenburg failed to appear and make return of the process to him directed. Therefore ordered by the court that the said Thomas Harris be fined £50 for his not attending and that he be cited to show cause &c. next Court. The Sheriff of Mecklenburg returns the Venire. The following Venire was returned by the Sheriff of the several counties.

7 Daniel Gillespie.
Mecklenburg.
1 Hezekiah Alexander.
2 Robert Harris.
3 Adam Alexander.
4 J. M. Alexander.
5 John McCulloch.
6 Charles Polk.
7 Aaron Huston.

Ordered by the Court: That James Cotton, Abram Kerckendall, Elias Turner, Joseph Nations, Benjamin Sterritt, Hezekiah Alexander, Aaron Huston, Adam Alexander, John McNeill Alexander, and John McCulloch, be fined each £8. nisi. for not attending this Court as Jurors agreeable to summons.

The proceedings of the Court show that two prisoners were convicted of Robbery and one of murder and all three sentenced to be hanged until dead, dead, dead.

I merely give you these items from the records and leave comment thereon for others who have leisure to write, there is much in these records worth looking after by those who take an interest in the history of our immediate section of the country, particularly the names of persons then in active life and also some important dates. In the foregoing proceedings it is shown that the court for the district of Salisbury was opened on Thursday the first day of June 1775. The Records show that it adjourned on Tuesday the 6th day of June 1775. If it can be shown how soon after the Mecklenburg Convention Capt. Jack left Charlotte for Salisbury, the resolutions of the Convention, and that he was in Salisbury on his way to Philadelphia, during a session of the Court, it may throw some light on the date of the Convention about which so much has been written.
