

Carolina Watchman. LOCAL. SEPTEMBER, 16.

Not so much fussing about the cow law now. What about the smoking club at the Fair grounds? Are the members under age? Choice Family Mackerel only 50 cts dozen at A. PARKER'S.

Kelipso: The sun will rise partially eclipsed on the morning of the 19th, inst. Visible here. Early rising to the front.

Personal: Bro. Jas. Mallard of the Statesville Landmark, was in town yesterday. Also Rev. A. K. Murchison, late of the Intelligencer.

We regret to learn of the death of a bright and promising little daughter of Maj. N. F. Hall, of Mt. Ulla Township, which occurred on Sunday night last. "Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Mr. J. A. Boyden is making extensive repairs on the Boyden House building. Mr. John A. Pierce, one of the best masons and stone workers in the State, has the superintendence of the work.

Colored Band: And now the young darkeys have gone to blowing. They've organized a full brass band, and we're getting our speech ready to say to 'em when they come round to serenade us.

We are glad to learn that our talented young friend Dr. W. A. Murdock is succeeding finely in the practice of his profession, in his new location in Mt. Ulla township. Will is a good fellow, and we wish him the best luck in the world.

Light Bread: They say that there's a baker not a thousand miles from here, who bakes his bread so light, that a pound of it only weighs six ounces.

P. S. The boss does the fighting for this establishment.

Dog Killing: We learn that our country friends have got up the impression that their dogs are to be killed if caught in town without tax-paid badges on. This is an entire mistake, as the town authorities never contemplated any such thing.

We learn that Messrs. T. C. and J. D. McNeely will open a new business house in this place about the 1st of October. They design to give special attention to the buying and selling of cotton, but will deal in produce generally, in connection with the merchandise brokerage business.

Side-Walks: The side-walks are being substantially overhauled and repaired by the city fathers, for which they deserve the thanks of pedestrians. Whose business it is to look after the roads leading into the town? They need working on badly, and now is the time to do it.

The best Soda Crackers that Salisbury affords is at A. PARKER'S.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS owe some attention to the cupilo of the Court-House, perhaps also to the roof of the building. We learn there are one or more leaks in the roof. The cupilo is needing repairs undoubtedly, and should receive early attention.

At the Western N. C. R. R. down train was passing near Waddell's yesterday, a rock was thrown into the window of the passenger car. A negro was seen to throw it, and Capt. Whitely stopping his train, fired at him twice, but unfortunately without effect. The negro cut off too fast for a bullet to catch him.

Pin-Backs: We rather like the much abused pin-back style, but feel it to be our stubborn duty to warn the sneaks to be careful how they pin back, only yesterday we saw a fair one, tripping gaily along the street, all unconscious that her pin-back had slipped around to one side, and was there bumping along, not at all gracefully. It made it hard to tell which way she was going. "A word to the wise," &c.

HARD TO PLEASE: Nobody knows so well as a newspaper man how hard folks are to please. You hear a fellow sometimes bragging about what he's doing, what he's going to do, &c., and the local, with implicit faith in his word, puts it in the paper for gospel truth, and right off the man whom he had thought he was complimenting gets wearing mad, and the poor local gets cussed instead of thanked. So it is often.

The best Cream Cheese just rec'd at A. PARKER'S.

FARMERS FLOW: We heard Mr. John L. Hedrick, one of the oldest and best farmers in Rowan, say a few days ago that he plowed a part of a field with Meroney's Farmer's Plow, and part—side by side—with old fashioned shovels plow, and that the corn plowed with Meroney's plow, is now ten inches higher than the other. Moral—buy Meroney's Plow. Aug. 5-30.

More Improvements: On Main St. between Bank and Horah, Mr. John W. Mauney is erecting a residence, which, when completed, will be one of the very handsome and most conveniently arranged, in the town.

Mr. R. F. Graham is also adding to and improving his residence, which will add greatly to its beauty and convenience. Oh, boys, we're betting on you.

BUSINESS PAPERS: TWO styles BILL HEAD. Nice LETTER and NOTE head, and Monthly STATEMENT papers, accurately ruled; and three qualities for Trade Circulars, flat Cap, several sizes and qualities. Just received at The Watchman office. Orders for Mercantile or other printing promptly filled, at low rates. [Aug. 17, '96.

The popular vote against the Convention is put down at about 6000 or 8 thousand. A great fall off from 15,000 as the Rada claimed.

ADMIRAL SEMMES, the gallant commander of the Alabama, during the war, has been invited to deliver an address at our next Fair.

The Hertford member of the Convention weighs 340 pounds, and he is a Radical.—Morning Star.

We've got some pigs in the pen for Christmas we wish would weigh that much.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING: The annual meeting of the Rowan county Bible Society will be held at the Presbyterian church in this place, Sunday night the 26th inst. The General Superintendent, Rev. C. H. WILEY, will be in attendance and deliver a lecture on the Bible cause. Citizens generally invited to attend.

Jumped off the Train: They will do it, and it's no use warning them either. On Tuesday evening last Miss Mary Sheeks jumped off Capt. Lowry's train, while in rapid motion, at the depot here, fell on her head, and for awhile was dead enough for all practical purposes. We are glad to learn however that the injury is not likely to prove serious.

Fair: The track, under the supervision of the President, Mr. A. H. Boyden, has been put in fine order and is now ready for the races. In the trials of speed this year, several premiums are offered only to horses which have never been successful on the race course, which gives our own country stock a fair chance to come in. The prospects for the coming Fair, are unusually good.

Town Clock: This ancient and venerable institution has again lifted up its voice, and is once more heard striking the hour for young men to leave at night. The sound of this clock, with the clear ringing tones of the old Mansion House bell, carry us away back in memory, and make us think of the days when we were young. They are almost all that is left of the town of twenty-five years ago.

Business Change: Mr. R. Frank Graham retires from the firm of Klutz, Graham & Rendleman, and will enter a new co-partnership with Mr. Wm. Watson, and Mrs. Melton Graham, occupying the vacant Hedrick store on main St.

Messrs. W. T. Klutz and J. A. Rendleman will continue business at the old stand, under the style of Klutz & Rendleman.

PUBLIC SCALES: For the benefit of "inquirin' frens" we will state publicly, that the ex-curator on Innes St., alongside of Klutz's Drug Store, is for the purpose of placing there a pair of Public Scales, that our fat men, big cows, loads of forage &c., &c., may be conveniently and satisfactorily weighed. Is that satisfactory?

Exhibition for the Benefit of the Orphan Asylum at the Presbyterian church Friday night next, Mr. Mills, the Superintendent, will be present with some eight or ten of the little orphans who will go through the exercise of recitations, &c., &c. A collection will be taken up. The public is invited to attend, and it is hoped that one and all will go prepared to contribute liberally to the orphan cause.

Citizens should meet these little ones at the depot, and provide for their comfort while here to save them expense.

We learn that the Asylum is now in great need, and the officers are hard pressed to make ends meet.

ESCAPED PRISONER: On the 10th inst, sheriff Young of Buncombe County, came here with two prisoners whom he was taking to Winston. The prisoners were not tied, confined, nor committed to jail, but walked around town freely with the sheriff and his deputy. At eight o'clock of them, Henry Nott, escaped from the sheriff, at an "unrespectable" house, whither they had gone in company, and then the other one was locked up in jail for safe keeping. The blame is on the sheriff, certainly not rest on the prisoner, for it was mighty natural for him to walk off when he had so good a chance.

Suicided: We just knew that that poor dog would die of a broken heart, and now he has gone and done it. He proved that he wasn't a mad-dog, by his own business like a good dog ought to. But he couldn't stand the imputations on his character, which he made him sad and melancholy, and a few mornings since, he was found hanging over the fence, with a chair around his neck dead! It is not certainly known whether he was trying to run off and play mad dog again, or whether he really committed suicide. So, like Ralston, his fate must rest in uncertainty.

He came into the office with anything but a smiling countenance and inquired "if he could not see that paper?" We told him he could and found it for him. After searching for some time he gave it back saying, "I can't find it." He left with a smile as if of great relief. We afterwards learned that he was looking for his marriage notice, having been informed that it had been published, and knowing nothing of his getting married, he said he was anxious to know if it was so. Don't be discouraged, we like to encourage our friends, and promise him that when it does happen, we will publish it, and we have no doubt but that he would like it to happen soon, and we don't blame him, for you know "Omnibus hoc vitium est."

Tobacco: Our enterprising townsmen, Messrs. Keen & Kennedy have just effected an arrangement with R. H. Owens & Co., of South Boston Va., by which Messrs. K. & K. are to manufacture, in addition to their own immense stock, one hundred thousand pounds of leaf tobacco, which will make about seventy-five thousand pounds of manufac. Keen & Kennedy are now working 110 hands, and turning out more tobacco daily, than Rowan County could chew in a month. Their standard brands, Ripe Orange, Ellen Fisher, Roman Eagle, and others, enjoy a well merited popularity not only at home, but throughout the entire South.

We wish Salisbury had a dozen Keen & Kennedy's.

Manufactories: Salisbury needs a big cotton factory, half dozen more tobacco factories, a spools and hardware factory, and a wagon factory. Can't they be started? Wouldn't it be well for some of our enterprising business men to make an organized effort to start some of these industries? This is the only hope for the future of our town. Nothing else can permanently sustain an inland town. Next week, if strength is given us, we propose to preach a first, fourthly, and fifthly sermon from this text.

Pastoral Call: Rev. J. G. Neifer, of this city, has a call from Zion's Ev. Luth. Church, Ohio, with a proffered salary of $1,000 per annum, with use of an elegant parsonage, of which latter he has, unfortunately, no use as yet, though we hope better things of him. Aims is a flourishing little city of eight or ten thousand inhabitants.

Mr. Neifer has not yet signified his intentions in the matter, as he has also under consideration the recently extended call from St. Mark's church, Charlotte, N. C.

Gap: Mrs. Josephine Neave has returned to Salisbury, and is welcomed back by many old friends.—Our young friend Richard Henderson, is home on furlough from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Dick has grown into a regular six-footer, straight as an arrow.—The Salisbury Cornet Band, played at the opening of the Chapel Hill University, on Wednesday last.—Prof. W. H. Neave and lady will occupy the house of Mr. E. B. Neave, on Main St.—Mr. Hugh Jones has got back from the "big North"—Mr. J. A. Pierce has come back to "bould dart," too. He's bousing the improvements to the Boyden House.—North State Lodge of Old Fellows, has started a circulating library for the benefit of its members. A good thing.—Health of the town was never better at this season.—No fights for a long time now.—Nothing interesting in mayoral or magisterial circles.—Superior Court for Rowan meets on the first Monday in November. Suits must be brought ten days previous.—Schloss hasn't come yet.—Prof. Ludwick's school at the Fair Grounds is open. Send in your boys.—Miss Jennie Caldwell's school for girls opens Sept. 22nd.—Wood, seventy-five cents a load.—Billy Beard is home again.

Messrs. EDITOR: I am a boy thirteen years old. I live in Rowan county North Carolina. I am no mechanic and no scholar. I have no education, having never been at school a day in my life. Many others, if they would own up the truth, would have to say the same of themselves. I drive THE BOY PLOW every day when it is not raining. Three years ago, last strawberry time, my father gave me a calf of the masculine gender. He also gave me an acre of ground, an exact square, on the condition that I was to tell to within the breadth part of an inch. I built a stable for my calf out of pine logs, such as I could easily lift. I planted a hedge around my lot of cedars. The hedge has now been planted three years. The cedars are six inches apart and are four feet high, trimmed straight up on both sides, and flat on top. Every body who has seen my farm of one acre, says it looks pretty. I have planted my ground in roots every year. I have made three hundred dollars clear money on it. I am no candidate for public favor nor even the office of free school teacher. The most learned man I ever have seen.

BACK WOODS BOY.

The "Seven Stars." Early in the days of our childhood we learn one important fact—that there is a "man in the moon;" and straightway we proceed to ask our mother a number of pointed questions about the matter. She satisfied our youthful curiosity by telling us that he was placed there long ago, for stealing a head of cabbage, and that he has ever since been kept at hard labor "pulling brass," or collecting branches of trees, as they are trimmed off by the axeman, preparatory to burning them out of the way. And when we look at the moon, and see a dark figure upon its disc, somewhat resembling, in outline, the shape of a man, and near it an additional dark spot which might or might not be a pile of logs, we go a great deal further than our mothers—we believe the story; and, having believed it, we severely resolve, in our minds, never to commit a theft, lest a similar fate should be ours. And thus the silly fable at once becomes an important episode in foregoing and forming the character of the man.

The Indian mothers have a story somewhat like that of the "man in the moon" which they tell their children as our mothers tell the story to us, with this difference, however, they believe the story themselves, while mothers do not. Here it is: Very long ago seven little boys took it into their heads to have a feast after the manner of their fathers, and they went to their mothers praying for permission. Their mothers refused them; after which they decided to rebel, and have the feast anyhow. They procured a little white dog to sacrifice; and, having placed it upon the fire, they commenced dancing around, as they had seen their fathers do on momentous occasions. While they were thus engaged, they were suddenly caught up by some invisible power, and carried off through the air. Their mothers heard their cries, and came forth from the ledge, only to see them mount higher and higher, until they took their place among the stars in the sky, to dance on forever and ever.

When the Indian mother tells this story she points out the seven stars of the Pleiades; and the embryo warrior trembles to think what an awful fate might befall the youth who was so thoughtless as to disobey his mother.

Grant went to hear Dr. Deems preach a few Sundays ago, whereupon the Dr. made a fool of himself by addressing some of his remarks to the President. Among other things, he told him that there were hundreds and thousands of Confederates in heaven, waiting to welcome him to glory! What trawdle for such a man as Dr. Deems to indulge in. Don't be cheeky that when Grant passes over his check that he will think he has struck an improved, revised and enlarged edition of the Petersburg crater.—Winston Sentinel.

Cotton Manufactures: The Raleigh News writing upon the good beginning made by the cotton factory of this city, says that "it is inevitable that the manufacture of the coarser qualities of cotton fabrics, must be carried on at the South. The margin of profit to the northern or foreign manufacturer has become so narrow under the effect of competition, as to compel them to come to the cotton fields to save the expense of transportation, of insurance, of commission, of damage by handling, and all the causes will add to cost. They must come to the section where the cotton is raised at once from the field to the factory, where labor is cheap and where the climate enables machinery to run all the year with a small expense of artificial heat. Or better still, the Southern people must do these things themselves, invest their own capital, and reap for themselves the profits of this rich harvest."

These are good words. Let them be heeded. As far as is possible there should be formed companies composed of our own people. But this is not a matter of great importance. Let us have the factories. The full benefit of them will accrue to the South.

It occurred in Oshkosh. "Will you do it?" she said, twisting an end of the strap around her head and fetching him a "stinger" across the shoulders with the other. He squirmed and looked frantically at the keyhole of the door, as if he could crawl through it. "Will you do it?" she said, aiming two or three at the calves of his legs, while he skipped around like a great Northwest wind grasshopper with the jim jams. "Will you do it?" she repeated, concentrating her energies for a terrific swoop, and dealing him a blinder epigrammatic stroke of every pore in his body. "I will!" he roared in agony; and they were married.

The Democratic victory in California has given such elation to the Democracy, and is causing some uneasiness to its opponents. The Springfield Republican is disposed to give a good deal of importance to it, calling it another indication of the increasing drift of the country to the Democratic side. It says: "More and more certain does it grow that, as between the Democratic party and the Republican party, the voters next year will choose the Democratic. No ordinarily good nominations by the Republican party, no ordinarily bad nominations by the Democrats can be hopefully relied upon to change the drift."

WE ALL HAVE OUR SATANS.—Each one of us have a different Satan. Satan comes to one man in the form of idleness, and makes him waste day after day, year after year, until he has wasted his whole life in doing nothing. Satan comes to another man as work, and makes him destroy himself in the opposite way by wearing out prematurely his brain and his body. He comes to another as Christian zeal, and the man becomes a bright, full of fire for the Lord; but the Lord he serves is a God of wrath, a God who cares for titles, a God who prefers sacrifice to mercy. He comes to another as charity, but it is charity which has no edge to it, no courage; an indolent charity, which is not love at all, but only easy good nature. So he disguises himself as an angel of light, calling himself patriot, until he wishes to make nations hate each other; calling himself Christian, when he wishes to make men persecute each other; calling himself honest when he wishes to encourage a man in his rude and overbearing ways; and so on, changing himself into every virtue and every grace.

DIED: In this county, August the 26th, Margaret Catharine Hyde, wife of James C. Hyde, 22 years of age.

At her father's residence in this county, Sunday, Sept. 12th, 1876, of congestive chill, MARTHA HENRIETTA HALL, daughter of Maj. N. F. & Mrs. M. E. Hall, aged nine years and six months.

This little girl, by her helpfulness, her obedience, and her gentle deportment, had won the love, not only of her parents, but of all her kindred, and the tears around her coffin testified to their deep sorrow. A child of the covenant, conscientious in her acts, and punctual in her devotions, she gave evidence that she loved the Savior "The meek is not dead but sleepeth."
