HOW TO HAVE GOOD EGGS .- There is a vast difference in the flavor of eggs. Hens fed on clear, sound grain, and kept on a clean grass run, give much finer flavored eggs than hens that have access to stable manure heaps and eat all kinds of filthy food. Hens feeding on fish and onions flavor their eggs accordingly, the same as cows eating onions, or cabbage, or drinking offensive water imparts a bad taste to the milk and butter. The richer the food the higher the color of the eggs Corn and wheat give eggs the best color, while rendering them unfit for some confectionery purposes.

Pull-Back Pantaloons.

Pall-back pantaloons are the latest novelty in Boston. They brace a man up so that he cannot tall down if he wants to, to be hung to the first lamp-post: and they supply a want that has has long been felt by the tipping fraternity by preventing a man from doing the rail fence specialty on his way home in the morning. The first man to wear a pair of them had an encounter with a banana peel, and although the treacherous fruit followed him for half a block, it could do no more than cause him to sway a little, and had finally to retire in disgust.

After that you couldn't be quite sure whether there was two noses and eight feet on one side, or one nose and four feet on two sides, for it wasn't either very long at a time. Num ber two had one black ear, and Johnnie's sympathies being with him, he usually managed to keep one eye on that at the risk of losing his balance and adding another pair of legs to skirmish below.
