

The Watchman goes to press regularly and promptly at 10 o'clock, p. m., every Thursday. Country patrons can get their papers after that hour. Persons sending advertisements, or other notices, should have them in by 10 o'clock, a. m., or before.

JOSEPH FERRE, formerly Superior Court Clerk of Burke county, well known as an excellent man, died on the 21st, at Morganton, N. C.

By all means don't miss the concert to-night. If you enjoy good music, go; you will not be disappointed.

Oh ho! The white flag! Golly, children, it's too dark to see it, especially when the reins are red—will have to get Joe to lead.

ELECTION.—The masons will elect new officers at their regular meeting on Friday night, Dec. 3rd. All members in good standing are urged to attend.

We are indebted to Mr. W. S. Negus, for The Argus, published in Melbourne, Australia. It is a large triple sheet, printed in city style, and very readable.

Seedless Raisins, Currants and Citron A. PARKER'S.

SINGING BIRDS.—Persons fond of pet birds, should read Mr. Welch's notice in another column. A gentleman near us who has seen Mr. W.'s store, speaks of it with wonder and delight.

There is in the possession of Mr. Paul Peeler of this county a copper coin bearing the distinct date of 17, making it about 1868 years old, one side exhibits an ancient harp and the other the ancient Sphinx.

L. BRANDSON, Esq., of Raleigh, is a go-ahead man—always doing something good. He has got out a very neat N. C. Almanac now, full of interesting matter. The calculations were made by Rev. B. Craven.

The Scientific American explains the story going the rounds of the press, recently, representing that the spittle of a human being was a deadly poison to poisonous snakes, if put into their mouths; but not poisonous to other kinds of snakes.

Dried Sugar Corn and Peas at A. PARKER'S.

We call special attention to the ad. of Messrs. Bell & Bro. They are daily in receipt of something new and beautiful in the jewelry line. We were shown by them yesterday, four beautiful cluster Diamond Rings of dazzling brilliancy; also some beautiful pins pointed on porcelain. Girls, go see them.

Some parties are inquiring whether there will be another "baby show" at the next fair. They say the President ought to give notice in time; they only had one day's notice at the last fair. They propose at least a year's notice. If there is to be a "baby show" at the next fair, let it be known now. If the President will inform us we will let it be known.

PERSONAL.—We were glad to see in town during the past week our good friend and former fellow-townman Dr. C. A. Henderson, now of Greenville S. C. The Dr. looks well, and as if the world was prospering with him. Also, Capt. J. E. Moore, now of New York, and Capt. W. C. Conghenon, and Mr. Wm. Meares Jr. from Baltimore.

Be in time and insure your Buildings, Merchandise, Dwellings, Barns, and Contents, by calling at the Insurance Office of J. Allen Brown, who represents First Class Co's. (Home and Foreign) whose aggregate assets exceed Thirty Million Dollars. Nov. 4th 1875.

An altercation between Columbus Jones, white, and Henry James, colored, at Hickory, N. C., on the 22d Nov., resulted in the death of James. Jones, according to the statement of the facts as reported, was altogether in fault, and ought to be punished. He had not been captured, at last accounts.

DEBATING CLUBS.—It is suggested that the members of the Debating Clubs at Oak Forrest, Franklin and Haues' organize and prepare themselves for debate.

Some persons in Salisbury who generally participate and others who enjoy these debates will attend.

Horrible Outrage.—There are some things almost too horrible to relate, and some people who sadly exemplify the truth of the doctrine of total depravity. It affords the reporter no pleasure to chronicle such cases as the following. One day last week a human fiend, Jim Boyden, a colored man living upon the plantation of Mr. A. H. Boyden in this county, outraged the person of his own daughter, and then fled, and up to this time has not been arrested. About two weeks ago his wife died from the effects of a kick in the abdomen from this monster, she being in a state of pregnancy at the time. We learn further that about two years ago one of his children died, under such circumstances as to lead strongly to the suspicion that he had brutally beaten it to death.

Hanging is too good for such a fiend incarnate. He ought to be cut to pieces and burned piece meal.

"The Boys in Grey."

We were wont to admire the boys, who wore the grey, though it was not for the grey alone that for the noble, chivalrous hearts that beat under it. They commanded the admiration of the boys and the love of every land. But how few admire a fine head encased in grey hair and whiskers—very few. We all love admiration and nothing in our appearance is more calculated to secure it than pretty hair. If old men could but retain it by the use of Dr. TUTT'S Hair Dye. Its popularity is so great that it can be found on the shelves of every druggist in the land.

Resigned.—We regret to learn that Mr. W. J. Mills has resigned his position of Route Agent on the W. N. C. R. R. Mr. Mills was very efficient agent, and we have heard no complaints of the mails on that road since he took charge. His successor has not been named as yet.

THE AMERICE HONORABLE.—We regret exceedingly that in our notice last week of the putting off of a passenger from the N. C. R. R. we made the grave mistake of charging the outrageous act upon Conductor Spragins. We now take pleasure in doing that gentleman the justice to say that he was in no wise connected with the transaction. The guilty party was Conductor Bowman, who deserves all that we said about him and more.

PERSONAL.—We are glad to see our young friend Mr. Robert Davis make his appearance behind the counter in the drug store of Mr. Theo. F. Kluttz, with the intention of making pharmacy his business. It will be a good thing for our country when more of our educated young men (Mr. Davis is a recent graduate of Davidson College) turn their attention to such practical pursuits instead of crowding in to the already crowded professions.

Thanksgiving.—We are sorry that so few of our people observed the day, as one of special thanksgiving to Almighty God. Not so much because it is appointed by the President or the Governor or anybody else, but because we all have, at all times, abundant occasion to give thanks and praises to Him who rules above, for all the blessings and mercies of this life—aye, even for life itself—and for any hope in the life to come. If the idea of a simultaneous thanksgiving could be carried out, it would be a sublime thing, a sight at which the angels would rejoice, and which could not fail to be well pleasing to the God and Father of us all.

Important to Strangers: On the 12th day of Oct., 1874, the Executive Committee of Kentucky State Grange adopted the Remington Sewing Machine for "the various Subordinate Granges in Kentucky, as well worthy of their consideration and purchase." Since that time, large numbers of machines have been sold to members of the Order throughout the State, and the number is rapidly increasing. Every machine is fully warranted for five years, and by a responsible company. Every machine sold is guaranteed to give full satisfaction, or the purchaser has the privilege of returning it.—Louisville Courier.

These Machines are on exhibition and for sale by J. A. CLODFELTER & CO., 74½ Salisbury, N. C.

FAREWELL.—Rev. Leo W. Crawford preached a farewell sermon to his congregation here on last Sabbath, as that closed the Conference year. Mr. Crawford has faithfully and acceptably served his people for three successive years now, and we but echo their unanimous feeling, when we express the hope that he will be returned to this place for another year, which will complete the limit of the pastorate according to the rules of the M. E. Church. He has not only endeared himself to his own people, but to the general community as well, and his transfer to another field will be a matter of general regret.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER.—This best of family newspapers is as fresh and interesting, now in its fifty-third year, as ever before; and, indeed, we think it more so. Its letters alone are worth more than the subscription price of the paper. It repudiates all offers of premiums, pictures, &c., and sends to its patrons a splendid family newspaper of the largest dimensions, containing all the desirable news, religious and secular, and an endless variety of reading for young and old, all of which is pure and good. Every family should have it. For specimen copies, address S. I. Prime & Co., New York.

MOVEMENTS OF COTTON IN RALEIGH. Receipts of cotton for the week ending, Nov. 27th, 1875, 1,594 bales; for same week last year, 1,590 bales; increase in receipts for week this, 304 bales; while receipts since 1st Sept., to date, 20,568 bales; corresponding time last year, 14,813 bales; increase in receipts up to date, 5,755.

The market during the week has been very active with orders for all good cotton offering at full prices—prices from 12½ to 13½, during the week, but owing to the unfavorable reports from New York and Liverpool our market closes at 12½, with free transactions at that price. We have had some days wet, and unfavorable for gathering the crops yet in fields.—Raleigh News.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TOWN COMMISSIONERS. Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 27th, 1875. 3 o'clock, P. M.

A regular meeting of the Board of Town Commissioners was held at the Mayor's office, on the application of Abner Owen, Esq., for building a fence around the Public School House was referred to the Board of Township School Trustees.

COURTSHIP. One beautiful Saturday I was at a school celebration; and there were lots of girls there, and just as pretty as any I knew of. Well by and by we got to playing. It was no trouble for me to play. I went running after a pretty girl, and somehow she fell down cawhalloos on the ground. I waited until she got up, then I went up and took hold of her and said. Are you hurt. "No sir," she replied.

Well so things went on. By and by night began to come on. Well I wanted to stay with some mans child that night, and how could I fix it to do so. Well there was a friend of mine there. Well I fixed away to get to stay with one. In playing ring, I taped a girl, and it was a pretty one too. She ran after me, and I let her catch me. Then I said, If Mr. — and I stay here until night suppose we come downthere tonight. "Well," said she. Well by and by the time come to go home. Well what do you think? My girl and her sister went and crawled into a great big wagon which stood there. Well sir, my compassion and I got in the old wagon too. Away we went. Finally, we got to a road where the girls had to get out of the wagon. But the girls did not only get out, for my compassion an I got out too. Away we went up the lane with our girls. We soon got home. After we had got there a while, I touched my friend and we went out. We came with the girls, said I, "yes and that is all, said he." Supper came on, after we ate, we were all in the large room, sitting around the fire. Well something had to be done. We had to get to bed, or hug the old mans dangers.

Well the time came on. Now for it. Finally the old man got up and took the lamp and invited us to bed. Any time, said I. But hu, pah, oh, such a way did not suit me well, but we went over into another room. We talked a little, and I told my friend that I must go out, so I left my friend in there and I went out. I wanted to hug the old mans child. I went out on the steps of the portico and looked through the window into the room at the girls. There they were. My girl was lighting a candle. Then I went to the entry door, and watched the passage. Just as they came out into the passage I went in and walked by her and said something to her and went on out as if to get some water. I came back and she was there yet, we said a few words and we passed into another room, and it happened to be the dining room. But we did not bother the vitals for we had something else to attend to. Shortly after we went in there, two other gentlemen came in there. My friend had left the lamp burning, so they went in that room. "They said "he was in the bed trampling." They were in there a while and then went home. But I was alright.

Well next day was Sunday. So we were not in a hurry about going home. On Sunday the two girls my friend and I were there in the room. I, wishing to have a chat with my girl, I got up and gave her the hint and we went into another room, and that left the other two alone. When we got ready to go home, we just went right through the field, creek-bottoms across the creek through the woods and right on. My friend said "after I went out of the room with my girl, that his girl went out and stuck pretty blossoms on her head." He said "he was going back again." He said, "he would go to gether until toward last then we would go one at a time." But I have never known of him being there since.

If you wish to hug a mans daughter who does not want you to do so, be cunning about it, and always keep the goodwill of the girl.

Nov. 22, 1873. Mr. Bruner. Dear Sir, I did not know that it was against your name to print any-thing without the name of the one who wrote it, and therefore I beg your pardon. But while I send you my name, I also beg you to not mention it in printing the courtship. For the girl is single yet with whom the courtship was, and perhaps her father is taking your paper now. They live —, and if they would read it, and see my name to it, they might think hard of me. I remain Yours Truly,

Remember This. Now is the time of the year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, Coughs, Colds, and fatal results of predisposition to Consumption and other Throat and Lung Diseases. BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP was described in this neighborhood for the past two or three years without a single failure to cure. If you have not used this medicine yourself, go to your Druggist Theo. F. Kluttz, Salisbury, N. C., and ask him of its wonderful success among his customers. Two doses will relieve the worst case. If you have no faith in any medicine, just buy a Sample Bottle of Boschers German Syrup for 10 cents and try it. Regular size Bottle 75 cents. Don't neglect a cough to save 75 cents.
