SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

CONVENTION. Thursday, June 8th, at Taylorsville.

The District Convention of the Democratic Conservative Party of the 7th Congressional District will be held at Taylorsville on Thursday the 8th day of June, 1876, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and for electing delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis, on the 27th day of June, and also for nominaing a Presidential elector.

JOHN S. HENDERSON, Chairman Dist. Ex. Com.

April 19th, 1876. HO! FOR THE CONVENTIONS.

Mr. G M McKennie, Ticket Agent Chesapeake & O. R R Co., Greensboro, writes to us that for the benefit of delegates to the Republican Convention at Cinn., and the Democratic Convention at St Louis, Round Trip Tickets, at very low rates, will be put on sale from 5th to 13th June, good for 30 days, at Charlotte, Salisbury, Greensboro, Raleigh and Goldsboro.

An egg without a shell is no uncommon thing, but we are indebted to Mr. J. L. Wilson, of Western Rowan for a shelless egg shaped exactly like a long tail rooster in a sitting posture .- Head, neck and tail all complete.

Mr. WALTER L. STEELE will be candidate for Congress before the Convention to be held at Wadesboro' on the 7th inst. The contest before that body will be between Mr. ASHE and Mr. STEELE. Judge Schenck has declined to have his name mentioned,

Blaine. - The N. Y. Sun is far from done with this distinguished Republican aspirant for the Presidency. Step by step it is tracking him, until now it boldly asserts that there is evidence that Blaine has been a Congressional bribetaker. The facts as exhibited certainly have a very suspicious look, and they may yet through an investigating committee establish disgraceful actions upon Mr. Blaine.

Attorney General .- The people of Rowan, in Convention assembled, have presented the name of Mr. JOHN S. HEN. DERSON, for Attorney General. Mr. H is a young man, but the people of Rowan value him yery highly, and yet not beyoud his merits. They would not hesitate to place him in any position, and would feel perfectly assured of his doing his whole duty, honestly and well. We trust the Convention will respect the voice of Rowan in this instance.

From the best information at hand it is hardly probable that any other name will be mentioned at the District Convention. Certainly we know of no competitor now whose chances would warrant a contest there. This is highly gratifying to the friends of Mr. ROBBINS in this section where he is so well known. The candor, fairness, truthfulness, honesty, ability, capability, and earnestness of the man in all his intercourse with our people, public and private, have made him many fast friends here, which his subsequent career in Congress has only served to confirm and strengthen. GOOD INTENTIONS.

W. M. ROBBINS.

We have met several gentlemen this week who are talked of as candidates for various county offices, and some who are anxious to be selected as the candidate for the respective positions assigned them by their friends, and it is gratifying to say that they all expressed their determination to abide by the decision of the County Convention. We have had trouble on this score in the past, and in resulted in mischief to all concerned. It will be wise for all prospective candidates firmly to resolve not to force themselves into the canvass either to gratify their wn feelings or the wishes of indiscreet friends. The true principle in such cases is for all to wait patiently and let the office seek the man; not the man the ffice. It is possible for an aspirant to button-hole and pledge enough men in ach township to secure himself a nomination, Let the people of the County be on their guard against every man who comes to them soliciting their influence at the nominating Convention; for no man who is really worthy of public trust will endeavor to forestall or pack the Convention and secure a partial nomination. It will be an honor indeed, when the voters of the county shall come together to select candidates and their spontaneous choice falls on a man because of his true worth and fitness, It would be more gratifying to an honorable man to be defeated under such circumstances, than to carry with him the reflection that he had secured the nomination by artful use of means, or electioneering tricks. We want no such men in office. It is an unhealthy time for such men to show themselves. The people are sick, thoroughly disgusted at the conduct of officials of low and selfish instincts and will this year be more watchful against them than ever before. They will be apt to spurn every man who betrays a sly and mean publicly denounced in his own county as intent to fore cast the decision of the a horse thief, and was composed chiefly of County Convention in his own favor,

NEGRO SAINTS.

At Rome the names of negroes. males and females, who have been distinguished for piety and works are found in the calendar under the designation of "Saints." Protestantism has no negro saints. Mr. Ticknor tells us of a negro at Granada, in the sixteenth century, who brought as an infant from Africa, rose by his learning to be Professor of Latin and Greek in the school attached to the Cathedral of Granada. He is the same person noticed by Cervantes of "el Negro Juan Latino," in a poem prefixed to Don Quixote. He wrote a Latin poem in two books. He was married to a lady of Granada. who fell in love with him, as Eleisa did with Abelard, while he was teaching her; and after his death his wife in that city, inscribing it with an epitaph, in which he is styled, "Filius Ethiopium, prolesque nigerrema patrum."-Fraser's Magazine.
