We notice unusual preparations in the fancy stores in the way of christmas goods. This has been the tightest year in money matters since the war; and few are able to indulge in the expensive luxuries usual to the occasion: however, we hope that all will be able to enjoy, even in a moderate degree, the merry christmas time. We have very poor prospects at present, and unless our delinquent subscribers help us out, we have no prospects at all. And while we are speaking of delinquents, we will just add that he should consider what the word delinquent means: it means that the Editor has worked very hard all during the year; that you have enjoyed the benefits of his labor Try "Gillet's dry hop Yeast," for sale at A. and that you owe him for it. For the Watchman. THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

MESSRS EDITORS :- Governor Brogden, in his recent able Message to the General Assemwas an accident. Some canvass employed bly, says; "The position which North Carolina in the scenery of the central part of the will in future hold in the Republic must stage broke loose and swung over the lights greatly depend upon the correct instruction and took fire, and they could not arrest the given to the people. * * * In this State more especially there is great need that many of our Teachers should be better taught," Well said, Governor, and now that we propose to really organize a Teachers' Association for this very purpose at Salisbury, on Dec. 27th, a few words as to its origin, aims and success in other parts of the country may not seem inappropriate. Whilst comparatively a new feature in our Educational System, this is not true in other sections of the United States. "Rip Van Winkle" characterizes North Carolina as truly in Education as in politics.

The idea appears to have originated in the New England States about 1840, thence spreading over the Middle States and through many of the Western; never however, as yet having talent of the whole country, North and South, secured a firm footing in the South. Such meetings were, and are, often called Institutes, continuing for several days, sometimes for weeks, and being in fact regular schools, having says upon all subjects are from the best minds teachers, recitations, &c, as in our ordinary of the age. schools. They were often aided by appropria-more thorough training of the Teacher for his work, an elevation, of public sentiment towards the profession, and the promotion of professional and social intercourse among Teachers; all of which, with others, we hope gradually to accomplish in our future Association.

As to its success, it is needless to say that all depends on the individual interest and activity shown by each member. It has proven a complete success in other sections, and it is soon to be seen whether Rowan, Davie, and other counties can furnish as good a quota of true, energetic, earnest Teachers as other places have done: we hope she can, and to this end we call ipon each Teacher reading this article to deermined forthwith to be present in person at the proposed meeting, prepared to take a active part in the duties of the day.

As this is but a preliminary meeting, its order of exercise may be somewhat irregular. The first thing requiring attention, will be a proper Organization, election of officers, drafting a suitable Constitution and By laws, a selection of a regular order of business, &c. If it seems desirable, there may be a night meeting, at which public addresses may be delivered for the benefit of all,

Take the case of Geo. Washington as an illustration. His good fame has shed a hallo of glory upon our country. It is seen and admired the world over. It has exerted a power over millions both in this and other countries, and is destined to continue on down to generations of the descons from a drowsy mood, and springunborn-exciting men to emulate his glorious the bare mention of whose name draws tears of affection from the eyes of almost every soldier who served under him in the late war; nay, almost ever southern man and woman. But the selection of striking examples for the purpose of illustration, should not be understood as restricting the application of the rule to rulers in high places only. The law applies to all persons in authority, especially to those elevated by the voice of the people. It applies to rulers of towns, of counties, and States, as well as to rulers of nations. A good ruler in a town exerts a powerful influence over the people of that town; and if he is a man widely known, reflects upon its inhabitants his good fame as far around as he is known; for it will be set down to their credit for having low, is chiefly felt by the people of the province :- in making them contented, prosperous and happy, or the reverse. Rulers have stamped the impress of their own characters on communities to such an extent as to be traceable for generations after they have gone to their graves, blessing or damning a people they never knew.

Seeing that these things are true, the responsibility of selecting rulers becomes fearful great. It only requires a little reflection and all must see it. It may be seen in this Town-anywhere in fact, where effect follows cause.

A Scene in a Church.

There was a ludicrously sudden decent from the sublime to the ridiculous in a country church, not a thousand miles off, when a clergyman preaching on the miseries entaited by sin, suddenly exclaimed, "Thank God, I am not sufferer; my miseries have all been healed, and what did it?" The change of tone started one ing to his feet, he cried out, "TUTT'S LIVER life and character. Take the case of Gen. Lee, PILLS." The deacon was right in his estimation of this celebrated medicine. and are the only organs assigned this rank. Their superiority is thus declared, not in one or two respects only, but in all the important qualities of an organ. A Medal and Diploma has also been awarded them, but medals of equal value were awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition, so that many makers can advertise "first med-determined by the Judges' Reports alone, in which the MASON & HAMLIN OR-GANS are Unanimously assigned "The FIRST RANK in the several requisites" of such instruments, and are the only ones assigned this rank. See Judges' Reports. This result was not unexpected, for these organs have Uni'ormly taken highest awards in such competitions, there being less than six exceptions in hundreds of comparisons. They were awarded first medals, and highthus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exposition at which they have competed, and being the only American organs
