WASHINGTON, September 3 .- The New York Republican Association of this city the largest and most powerful of its kind, after an existence of nine years, has adjourned sine die in obedience to the order divorcing the civil and political service. Its assets were turned over to the Soldiers' Home at Bath, New York. Hon. A. M. Clapp, late public printer, writing to its president an expostulation of its felo de se, says: "Are we mere pariahs or serfs that we must bow meekly to an official order from the White House or the Interior Department? Must we surrender our inpendence as citizens, and our integrity as a Republican association at the autocrafic bidding of potentates or powers? I, for one, cannot consent. The abasement is too deep,"
