

LOCAL.

SPRINKLE, the copper smith, zigzagged the streets Monday, with a six foot snake around his neck.

Twin squashes, a little odd, not much for size, but pretty in shape and color, have been laid on our table.

It Didn't Pay.—We have heard of several families in the Western part of the county who moved up higher in the country for their health.

Lands for Sale.—Immigrants looking to this State for homes, are advised that there is plenty of land to be had at moderate prices either on or off the railroads in this county.

JIMMY REEVES, who was for several months in the Insane Asylum at Raleigh, returned home some weeks ago, very much improved as his friends thought, but on Tuesday night his behavior in trying to set fire to the Hotel so far dissipated these hopes as to make it necessary to send him to jail.

The Magistrates of Rowan met at the Court House in this place Monday to consider the proposition of establishing an inferior Court, which was decided in the affirmative.

THE KNIFE.

An altercation between Maj. James Craig and a young man named James West, on Monday afternoon last, near the corner of the Mansion Hotel, resulted in an assault on West, who struck with a knife while Mr. Craig held him by the collar.

OMITTED ITEMS.

Stock Shows.—In our Country Ramble last week, we noticed a new (for this section) and capital idea for the protection of straw stacks, sheaves, &c., on the farm of Mr. Ackenback, in this vicinity.

MITCHELL'S PEAK.

Our party started to Mitchell's peak last Wednesday morning in a farm wagon, the property of Mr. Jas. Finch, who by-the-way is an oddity in his manner of speech. He speaks in a measured, passionless monotone, and never laughs. He afforded us much innocent amusement on our way.

DEATH OF BRIGHAM YOUNG.

The Last Shock to the Noted Mormon—Sketch of His Career. SALT LAKE CITY, August 29.—Brigham Young died at 4 p. m. to-day. He has been ill for some time, and his end has been anticipated for several days.

ADVICE GRATIS.

The Hon. Alexander H. Stephens says:—The Globe Flower Cough Syrup has proven a most valuable remedy to me.

ing how best to proceed, when, to their astonishment, the dead man inquired—"who all is that—going-down—the-road?"

These anecdotes were suggested by passing near the residence of the late Mr. Ellis, formerly known as Craig's muster ground. His family still reside there, and cherish with tender memory the devotion of a faithful husband and loving father.

EXCURSIONS IN THE MOUNTAINS.

It was our pleasure to be one of a small party to visit several very important and prominent places in Western North Carolina. We were stationed at Old Fort, and our first visit was to the Catawba Falls.

Our next trip was to Round Knob, and notwithstanding the falling rain and other lesser inconveniences, it proved an interesting and instructive one. At this point the railroad forms something like the figure 8.

AN OLD TIME DEER HUNT IN THE "OLD NORTH STATE."

This morning at the residence of Mr. J. B. James, Messrs. Paul Peeler, W. A. Caudle, Greenberry Redwine, and Hinton James assembled for the purpose of chasing a fine young buck, that had been a pet in his days of fawhood at Mr. L. B. James place, but disdaining the monotonous life of pet fawhood, hid himself to the corn fields of Mr. James and neighbors, whether he had established quite a reputation as a granger. The chase was full of excitement and fun. We had scarcely been out an hour before the hounds struck the scent, and soon made the "welkin ring" with their peculiar noise.

Mr. Buck, alias the granger, quite scorned the idea of fleeing from such petty enemies as hounds, and as he had been named Sammy Tilden, true to the name he bore, he planted himself on a pretty firm rock, and kept the hounds at bay, and would have thrown that "Electoral College" of Dogs higher than "Gilroy's kite," had it not been for a treacherous centre shot fired by Mr. W. A. Caudle, at a distance of about 90 yards or more, which hit poor Sammy between the two eyes and rolled him over a lifeless corpse. The hunt was one of royal sport, the only thing marring our pleasure, was from the fact that after Sam. Tilden made such a fine run and such a plucky stand it seemed to be a sin to count him out. Shakespeare says there's naught in a name, but one of our party remarked, it's a good thing that deer's name wasn't Zeb, Vance, boys, for I'd fired a blank and we'd done without venison sure. Yours truly, H. J.
