

LOCAL.

On Hand.—The man who never thinks of shutting the door.

Judge Fowle passed through town on Monday.

Nov.—Those who have promised to pay us wood are advised the time is at hand.

The business men of Salisbury, by agreement, will suspend business on Thursday the 29th and observe the day in accordance with the proclamations of President Hayes and Gov. Vance, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

Mrs. SARAH ARMFIELD, aged about 65 years, died very suddenly at her home in Unity Township, Sunday week.

Prof. Neave's Concert.—Owing to circumstances beyond the control of Prof. NEAVE, the musical entertainment proposed for this week will not transpire as originally desired.

Great pains have been taken to arrange for a very superior musical treat, and the public will do well to recognize this effort to please by a generous support.

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE.

The North Carolina Conference of M. E. Church South convened in the Methodist Church in this city, at 9 o'clock, a. m., Nov. 28th.

Bishop D. S. Doggett, the President, on account of railroads missing connection, was absent.

Rev. D. R. Bruton, Presiding Elder of Salisbury District, called the House to order, and Rev. Wm. Closs, D. D., opened the Conference with religious services.

The roll-call showed that almost all the members of this large body of ministers and laymen were present.

An election was held, by ballot, for a President, which resulted in the election of Rev. Wm. Closs, D. D.

Rev. B. Craven, D. D., was elected Secretary.

The sad announcement was made of the death of Bishop E. M. Marvin, D. D., L. L. D., of St. Louis, Mo., who was one of the ablest and most eminent leaders of the Methodist Church, South.

The reporters of newspapers were invited to take seats within the bar of the Conference.

The hour of meeting was fixed at 9 o'clock in the morning, and adjourning at 1 1/2 in the evening.

Rev. H. T. Hudson moved that a committee be appointed to take into consideration the propriety of memorializing the General Conference to divide the State of North Carolina into two Annual Conferences.

The present conference has grown to such a large size that it is the general conviction that it ought to be divided into two missions.

Rev. J. Ruple of the Presbyterian church was introduced to the Conference and invited to take a seat with the Conference.

It was ordered that the Conference proceed to examination of character with open doors.

The committee on applications for admission on trial was called, and the following were admitted to the Conference on trial into the traveling ministry: Revs. A. P. Tyre, Nervous Coltrajn, J. C. Rowe, W. P. McOrkile, P. L. Groom, T. J. Browning, J. H. Cordun.

The traveling elders passed their characters in the due form.

A Paper for Young People.—The Youth's Companion of Boston employs the same writers as the best English and American magazines, and no other publication for the family furnishes so much entertainment and instruction of a superior order for so low a price.

THE CURE OF DIPHTHERIA.

Dr. E. N. Chapman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has discovered an antidote to the poison of diphtheria, by which the percentage of deaths is reduced to less than one in fifty.

Diphtheria first appeared in this country in 1858. Dr. Chapman, in 1859, lost several cases, and became distrustful of the regular methods.

He had been using alcohol in the cure of ship-fever, and he determined, though contrary to all rules, to try it in diphtheria.

He then tried quinia, and found it acted well, but not so quickly. At last he settled on a combination of the two, alcohol and quinia, and with these remedies, he claims that diphtheria is more amenable to treatment than many common diseases.

In an epidemic, in which diphtheria, all are affected by the morbid agent; but a few only yield to it. Mature, vigorous persons have vitality enough to resist the disease.

Children and weakly adults are its usual subjects. Dr. Chapman considers that there is, almost always, super-added a local and direct exciting cause, such as defective exercise, improper diet, dark rooms, damp houses, imperfect ventilation, and poisonous sewer pipes, etc.

To such agencies the strongest constitution will soon succumb. The blood being deteriorated, its crisis is impaired and its vitality lowered; and then the sympathetic nerves, failing to receive due stimulus, never in their efforts to carry on the animal functions.

"All local treatment," he says, "is worse than useless. It exhausts the nerve force and induces greater injection of the blood vessels, thus favoring the exudation.

"Alcohol neutralizes the diphtheritic poison, sets free the nerves of animal life, subdues the fever and inflammation, destroys the pabulum that sustains the membrane, cuts short the disease, conquers its sequelae, and shields other members of the family from an attack.

Upon the subsidence of the fever, as is usually the case in from twenty-four to thirty-six hours, a purulent secretion begins to loosen the membrane, and soon, thereafter, to detach it in flaky, ragged fragments. This process may take place, and recovery be possible, even when the larynx and trachea are implicated.

The membrane is seldom renewed, when this secretion is maintained by a steady use of the remedy. Alcohol is antagonistic to diphtheria as belladonna to opium, or quinia to malaria.

Like any other antidote, it must be given promptly at the outset, or otherwise its potency will be lessened, perhaps lost altogether.

"Alcohol does not act as a stimulant, nor induce any of its ordinary effects. Enough may be given to cause profound intoxication in health, and yet there exists no signs of excitement or odor in the breath."

Quinia is an efficient ally to alcohol. It energizes the ganglionic nervous system, and thus enables the organism to right itself and resume its function.

Dr. Chapman sustains his position by citing numerous cases in which his treatment was successful. He states that, in his long experience, he only knew of one case where a drunkard had diphtheria.

He generally gives the alcohol in the form of whiskey.—Scientific American.

"THEY ALL DO IT." There are few books that comprise as much vigorous teaching within a space of four or five hundred pages as is contained in this little phrase, "they all do it," which has been pleaded on the billboards, and called into the ears of the public for some time past.

This is the one sentence which takes the courage completely out of youth, searing their consciences as with a red hot iron, and permitting despair to carry them off boldly into the depths of crime.

"Oh, they all do it; why should not you?" That is the suggestion. "That man there lies and cheats, and will commit any crime which the law does not make dangerous. So it is with all of them. There is no use in your trying to be different from the other people."

be just always, and kindly in words and feelings to all. There are men who lead humble, unpretentious lives, and who without making it known to the world are daily doing a vast amount of good among their fellow-men.

And, is it strange to say these men lead very happy lives and as a rule successful lives. Where the unprincipled man may enjoy temporary success, sooner or later he will suffer for his lack of honesty.

There are thousands of ways in which Virtue rewards herself upon him. But in one way or another he gets his deserts. There are plenty of criminals around you, it is true. But they are to be pitted, not imitated. Never believe that what some do, all do; make in your own person a standing example of the falsity of "They all do it."

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE.—Governor Vance has commuted the sentence of Allen Carter, who was sentenced to be hung at Rockingham, on the 10th to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary.

In 1865 Carter murdered Bushrod Lilly, of Stanly county, and fled to Arkansas, where he lived for ten years. In 1875 upon a requisition of the Governor of this State, he was brought back.

At the Fall term, 1876, of Richmond court he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which sustained the judgment of the lower court.

At the Spring term 1877, of Richmond court he was resented to be hung on the 31st of August. On the 28th of August he was reprieved until October 12th.

On the 5th of October he was again reprieved until the 16th of the present month. The feeling in this section by a great many is that Carter should have suffered the sentence of the court.—P. D. Herald.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin.

[From the Wilmington Democrat.] We are the special advocate of any project which will build up and enrich North Carolina, and increase her influence in the great family of States.

That she may become wealthy and industrial, it is absolutely necessary that her seaports and centres of trade shall be fostered, and their facilities increased.

There can be no great State, with commanding influence, which has no city of wealth and population. No town or seaport can grow into a great city unless it is linked to the interior by navigable water communication, or is the terminus or centre of a railroad system.

It is impossible to make any city in North Carolina such a railroad terminus and centre now, and Wilmington is the only seaport that can command the navigable water communication. She has a river navigable to Fayetteville now.

That navigation as we showed last week, can be extended through the entire State to the very foot of the mountains, by the State entering a canal from the Cape Fear, at Fayetteville, to the Yadkin river.

If the State will put the convicts upon the work and complete it, in less than a decade from its completion the population of Wilmington will quadruple, and her business increase ten fold, and North Carolina will take the position among her sisters to which her climate and the variety and exceeding richness of her resources so eminently entitle her.

The work to which we advert would be worth more to the State than every other work of internal improvement within her borders, because it would develop the resources of a large portion of her territory, giving the cheapest transportation possible to the whole northwestern portion of the State, and bringing the produce to her own seaport city, enrich herself, and add to her own independence and influence.

We hope the next Legislature will look into the matter and inaugurate measures for its accomplishment, if it is practicable, as we fully believe it is.

GOOD FARMING.—Col. W. E. Hill, of Faison township, has made with six plows and twelve hands, 300 barrels of corn and 90,000 pounds of seed cotton, and peas and potatoes sufficient to fatten 6,000 lbs. of pork. This crop after paying for all commercial fertilizers used, will leave the corn, fodder, pork and sixty barrels of cotton clear. Very fine and hard to excel.—Wilmington Democrat.

CATAWBA ITEMS.—No town in the State affords better facilities for manufacturing establishments than Hickory, with its abundant supply of fuel and water. It is also one of the best points in North Carolina for manufacturing tobacco.

Mr. Daniel Kahill, a worthy farmer on South Fork, raised this year 1091 bushels of corn, 118 bushels of wheat and other farm products in proportion—and did all this with only one horse.—Piedmont Press.

Smoked Out.—The soldiers have surrounded Keetz' mine, and under direction of the Sheriff, closed all apertures but two and smoked the miners out with brimstone. The last one emerged at 10 o'clock last night.

Effects of a Gale.—LONDON, Nov. 24.—In consequence of the late gale the works for the new docks at Liverpool are so damaged, 42 acres excavation being flooded, that it is feared that 2700 men will be thrown out of work for three weeks.

Held Under Bail.—PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Thomas K. Flowers, a Custom House officer, held in three thousand dollars bail on a charge of exacting illegal tariff from persons arriving on steamers and pocketing the excess.

Low on the List.—We think it likely few of our readers imagine that North Carolina stands lower than 2nd on the list of tobacco raising States. Yet the census of last year shows there are SEVEN superior to us; among which are Indiana and Ohio; that latter of which raises nearly twice as much.

According to the U. S. Commissioner report there were produced in 1875, the following number of pounds: Kentucky..... 128,000,000 Virginia..... 92,000,000 Missouri..... 42,245,000 Tennessee..... 32,200,000 Maryland..... 21,590,000 Illinois..... 16,000,000 North Carolina..... 16,225,000 Pennsylvania..... 12,200,000 Indiana..... 11,000,000 Ohio..... 10,000,000

Other States smaller amounts; though little Connecticut raises nearly half as much as North Carolina. And which State yields the lowest average per acre?—North Carolina. Her 550 lbs. contrasts strongly with 1,640 lbs. per acre in Massachusetts, and 1,380 lbs. in Pennsylvania. But it beautifully illustrates the profit of skilled culture. Pennsylvania, for instance, on 5,565 acres raises nearly as much as North Carolina on 29,500 acres; and Indiana on 29,000 acres actually beats us.

We think, however, the Commissioners report does not do justice to our State. There are tens of thousands of pounds used by the producer and not reported. All over Western North Carolina one finds the highland farmers using dried "natural leaf," grown in patches on "new grounds" for home consumption.—Farmer and Mechanic.

JAILED FOR MURDER.

[From the Concord Sun.] Van Blair, a negro man from Rocky River township, was brought to town Sunday and committed to jail, on charge of the murder of a white man named Russel Hagler, the day previous. The circumstances of the killing as we learn them as follows: Saturday, Hagler was returning from Charlotte and overtook Blair, the negro, with whom he became involved in a quarrel. Picking up a rock, he knocked the negro from his mule and "made at him" with a razor. The negro had also picked up a rock and this he hurled with an unerring aim at Hagler's head, inflicting a mortal wound. Blair was arrested and carried to jail to await his trial for man-slaughter. Hagler was carried home where he died Sunday at 11 o'clock.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. From the Christian Advocate, officially published at New York, we glean the following items of interest for the year 1877:

There are eleven bishops, annual conferences 91, being an increase of four. Itinerant preachers 11,256, showing an increase of 184. Local preachers 12,583, total preachers 23,839, increase 110. Lay members in full connection 1,473,006, increase 45,012. Lay members on probation 200,241—total lay members 1,673,247, increase 21,776. Deaths of members 19,724. Baptisms of adults, 75,540, children 56,292—total 132,832. Church edifices 16,000, increase 283. Parsonages 5,334, increase 122. The total present valuation of church edifices and parsonages is $79,238,920. During the year 140 preachers located and 119 died. The Methodist Episcopal Church has lost by death during the last ten years an aggregate of 168,656 lay members.

HOW THE DEACON LOST HIS MONEY. There are yet living a few people who do not know of the ways of this wicked world. Deacon V— of our county is one of these. Wednesday, wandering about the circus tent in a haze of stupefying reflections, his ear caught the golden words of the "gift man." The good deacon was attracted to the spot and here is his tale:

"Well, I saw him put the sixty dollars in an envelope, and lay it in the pile. I was sure of it. I reached for my pocket book and handed him three $10 bills, the price asked for a pick at the pile, keeping my eye on the particular envelope all the time. After I plunked down my money, he told me to "draw away." "Ah! you wicked circus man, I'll teach you a lesson this time," I thought as I drew the coveted envelope from the pile, opened it, and—great Jerusalem! not a cent in it. The boys cried out, "sold again old 'un and got the tin" but the loss of my $30.00 made me too despondent to enjoy the joke."

Another citizen of our county lost $40.00 at the same game. Directly after losing this sum, he was so infuriated with the game, that he tried to borrow $100.00 to try his luck again. Fortunately no one had that sum to lend him. People who are so easily misled as to try and beat a sharper at his own game, have no sympathy from us. A moral these victims have learned is that it is a bad policy to release a bird from the hand to catch a bird in the bush.—Concord Sun.

Leprosy in New York. The New York Sunday Mercury has a story to the effect that leprosy has been imported into that city by Chinese arriving from California. A reporter of that paper says that he saw a Chinaman in a Baxter street tenement house slowly dying from leprosy, and that the Chinese hospital two children of Irish-Chinese birth suffering from the same disease.

A factions tramp called at a house the other day and asked for something to eat. He was so thin, he said, that when he had a pain he couldn't tell whether it was a stomach-ache or a back-ache.

DIED. In this county, at 4 o'clock, on the morning of the 24th November, 1877, of Meningitis, Mr. A. S. EAKHART, aged 29 years and 8 months. He was a kind father and an affectionate husband.

The following note was picked up on the street yesterday, can be had by calling at this office: DEAR JOHN: Please come home. We need you very much, as several sad accidents have befallen us. John sprained his ankle badly, and Sarah's frosted feet are troubling her. My corns are increasing in number and severity, and the knots on our mule's back are growing larger. Uncle Dick is laid up with the rheumatism, so do come home, and bring a bottle of Cousens' Lightning Liniment, which is successfully used by our neighbors, for each of the above afflictions. You can buy it at any drug store for 50 cents a bottle. MARY.

NATURE'S OWN REMEDY. Extensive use has been made of this powerful, syphilitic, and rheumatic affections. Alone, it is a searching alternative, but when combined with Sarsaparilla, Yellow Doc, and other herbs, it forms Dr. Tut's Sarsaparilla and Queen's Delight.

HEALTHY, SOLID FLESH. An antidote to spotted skin. It is strongly recommended. Hundreds of cases of the worst type have been radically cured by it. Being purely vegetable in its composition, it will do no harm. The best time to take it is during the summer and fall; and instead of feeling feverish, you will feel robust health. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

A Very Good Reason. THE reason why only one sample bottle of MERRILL'S HEPATINE for the Liver will be sold to the same person, for ten cents, by our Druggists, Theo. F. Kutz is because of the enormous expense of importing the Hepatine into this country; but as there are fifty doses in the large size bottles, it seems two cents per dose is cheap enough after all for a medicine that cures dyspepsia and liver complaint. All who have not a sample bottle are entitled to one for ten cents at Theo. F. Kutz's Drug store. Three doses relieves any case of dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion or liver complaint in the world. Regular size bottles, fifty doses, 1.00.
