

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Rowan Democratic Convention was held here last Saturday, and nominated candidates for the county offices, to-wit: J. M. Horn, for Clerk of the Superior Court; H. N. Woodson, for Register of Deeds; B. F. Fraley, for Coroner; J. Sam'l McCubbin, for County Treasurer; and J. C. Barnhardt, for Surveyor. They also recommended John S. Henderson, Esq., for the Senate; and nominated J. G. Fleming and H. C. Bost, for the Commons.

So far the will of the people seems to have been fully and satisfactorily expressed.

But when the Convention came to nominate a candidate for the office of Sheriff, about which there had been a sharp contest for some time past, partisanship took control of the members; reason and order seem to have abandoned the Convention, and a scene of disorder and confusion ensued which prevented such a clear decision of the question as to warrant its general acceptance. It is true Mr. G. A. Bingham was declared the nominee on the third ballot; but all sorts and any number of objections have been urged to it, so that really, it falls to give general satisfaction. It is denounced, as will be seen, by Mr. Klutz, in a communication in this paper; and it is disregarded, as will be seen by announcement from Mr. Waggoner, who proposes to carry his appeal to the ballot box for final decision.

We really apprehend no serious consequences as likely to result from this display of heated partisan zeal. It is limited entirely to the contest over the office of Sheriff, and while it may have produced some bitterness between the friends of the several candidates for that office, Democrats and Conservatives remain the same. They cannot afford to sacrifice their political principles on a difference between themselves over the pitiful office which disturbed the order of the meeting. The contestants themselves are all good men, zealous conservatives, any one of whom would make a good Sheriff; and we believe there is not one of them who will not promptly relieve the situation so far as he is personally concerned, the moment that he perceives that his position is likely to jeopardize any important interest of the party.

The few members of the Radical party among us find it impossible to repress the joy they experience at what they are pleased to regard as a destructive explosion of the Democratic party. A 2d or 3d Lt. of the party (for the present nameless), has worn a perfect sun-flower smile—an east and west—ever since last Saturday evening—the happiest man of his age and size in the State. He loves to regard himself as a plotter and schemer, and really thinks he had a good deal to do with "busting up the concern," last Saturday on the Sheriffship. He would like to be Sheriff himself, and thinks now he sees an open gap large enough to slip through and carry off the prize, and hence his face is more radiant with smiles than an accepted lover's was ever known to be. Alas! alas! how easy it is for eager men to deceive themselves. He won't—he can't—see the difficulties in the road to his success; but when he gets a big thump from the people on his smiling mug, he will realize in a substantial way that the Conservative flare up didn't help him worth a cent.

Since the above was in type we have received the following report from the secretaries of the proceedings of the County Convention:

The Democratic County Convention assembled at the Court House, May 19, 1878. Maj. Jas. E. Kerr called Luke Blacmer, Esq., to the chair temporarily. A committee on permanent organization was appointed, which reported for Chairman, Hon. P. E. Shober, and for Secretaries, Kerr Craig and J. W. Mauney. Mr. Shober in taking the chair briefly addressed the convention.

The convention then proceeded to ballot for the various candidates. The result of the first ballot is as follows, to-wit: John S. Henderson, Esq., recommended to the National Convention as the choice of this county for Senator.

Messrs. J. G. Fleming and H. C. Bost were nominated for the House of Representatives.

J. M. Horn, Esq., for Clerk of the Superior Court; H. N. Woodson, Esq., for Register of Deeds; J. Samuel McCubbin, Esq., for Treasurer; B. F. Fraley, Esq., for Coroner; J. C. Barnhardt, Esq., for Surveyor.

On the third ballot G. A. Bingham, Esq., was nominated for Sheriff.

On motion of Hon. Charles Price, the Chairman of the Convention, and Maj. Jas. E. Kerr, Chairman of the County Executive Committee and Luke Blacmer, Esq., were requested to appoint delegates to attend the Senatorial Convention, the Judicial District Convention, and the State Convention.

On motion the Convention adjourned.

F. E. Shober, Chairman. KERR CRAIG, J. W. MAUNEY, Secretaries.

We have heard it stated by numerous persons that the several townships were not present by their delegates when the above committee was appointed. If this be so, it throws upon that committee a weight of responsibility above what, under other circumstances, it would have. It rests upon them, virtually, to cast the vote of Rowan for Judge, Solicitor, and Congressman. Messrs. Shober, Kerr and Blacmer constitute that committee. They have no plain expression of the people to guide them in the selection of delegates to represent the county in the District and Senatorial Conventions, but will have to act with the best lights before them. It is a plain case in respect to Congressman and Solicitor there has been no such open expression of choice as will afford the committee a reasonable opinion as to the wishes of the people.

We trust this committee will be able to perform the high trust assigned it with such a careful regard to the public sentiment of the county as will ensure satisfaction. It has the political fate of the county in its hands, at least for the present.

The Democratic Voters of the County would promote their wishes by calling primary meetings in their respective townships, and appoint a delegate to each the Judicial and Congressional District Conventions, duly instructed who to vote for for Congressman, for Judge and for Solicitor. The townships owe it to themselves to attend to this matter promptly. We would suggest Saturday, June 1st. It will relieve the committee, Messrs. Shober, Blacmer and Kerr, of a responsibility they cannot be anxious to shoulder.

A Salisbury correspondent of the Raleigh Observer, in reporting the proceedings of the Rowan Convention of Saturday, 18th, speaking of the nomination for the office of Sheriff says—"While there may be individuals who feel disappointed and who may threaten to bolt, yet it is certain that the action of the convention secures the election of its nominees. Our people know that the only way to keep down Radical rule is by party organization and standing to the action of the convention. They are well organized and will continue so. 'In unity there is strength.'"

We heartily applaud every word designed to preserve the unity of the conservative people of the county. It is an essential point with all who remember the fearful rule of radicalism while it was in power. It is always to be regretted that by any accident disturbing causes should enter into the deliberations of our ranks calculated to weaken its bonds of unity, and these things should ever be carefully guarded against. But accidents will happen, we are told, in the best regulated families; and the disturbance in Rowan must be regarded in this light. There is a good deal of feeling in it, but as we have said in another place, it is limited to the boundaries of this county,—can't possibly go beyond it,—it does not touch the politics of the people, who can still stand in harmony on all questions of true party significance. The people are still in favor of Wm. M. Robbins for re-election to Congress; (there has been no expression as to Judge and Solicitor), they are still in favor of John S. Henderson for the Senate; and for Fleming and Bost for the Commons. They are agreed on a re-election of all the county officers except Sheriff. There they split, and from the best lights before us, it is a split of no political consequence, and will, if let alone, adjust itself without damage to the party.

At a Democratic county meeting in Winston, on the 9th, delegates were appointed to the District Convention to be held at Yadkinville on the 8th of June, to nominate a Judge and Solicitor. A resolution declaring John H. Dillard, of Guilford, as the choice of Forsyth county, for one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, was adopted. Also, a resolution declaring T. J. Wilson, Esq., as their first choice for Judge of the District.

It must be admitted that both these nominations are good. It must especially be admitted that Judge Wilson, while filling the office for which Forsyth now nominates him, did give general satisfaction to the people and the bar. His decisions rank well in the cases carried up to the Supreme Court. His demeanor on the bench, towards lawyers, officers of the court and the people, was pleasing, and elicited the praise of all. It is simple justice to admit all this, for it is true. And whatever choice the Yadkinville Convention may make, it certainly cannot impair the credit due Judge Wilson for the sacrifice he made to oblige his conservative friends under circumstances of difficulty and risk.

Postmaster in Jail.—We learn from Mr. T. B. Long, of the Postal Department, that he received an order from Washington, a few days ago, directing his attention to some irregularities at Wallalla, S. C. That he set out immediately, on foot, there being no other means of travel at his command, and after a tramp of thirty miles obtained facilities for reaching his destination. That a short examination brought out the fact that the Postmaster at that office, J. R. W. Johnston, formerly private secretary of ex-Governor Bullock, of Georgia, had been appropriating the funds directed to his office on money orders, to the amount of about $1000, and he thereupon had him committed to the jail.

We also learn from Mr. Long, that Murray, the man arrested in South Carolina, some months ago, on the charge of raising money orders from one dollar to fifty dollars, had his trial in Charleston, recently, was convicted, and after his appeal was heard, the judgment of the court sentencing him to five years in the penitentiary, was confirmed, and he is now working out the penalty.

Great sympathy is finding expression in the public press and by some lady writers North, in behalf of Kate Southern, the handsome young woman in Georgia now under sentence of death for murdering her former rival in a ball room. Mrs. Southern, recently married, objected to her husband's dancing with a lady whom he had formerly visited, but as he persisted in doing so, his wife armed herself with a knife, and after the reel was ended, flew at the innocent subject of her jealousy and with repeated blows cut her down in the midst of the light-hearted company. Through the daring of her husband she escaped, and was absent from the State for a year; was then arrested, and had her trial a few weeks ago; was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged. It is doubtful whether this extreme penalty will be inflicted, but it is not known what will be her fate.

The English strikers are becoming quiet, and it is believed they will accept the proposed reduction of 5 per cent on wages.

It is most gratifying to North Carolina pride to note, from the Washington press and News correspondent, the very distinguished position assigned Dr. Grissom in the National Association of Insane Asylum Superintendents at Washington, in the selection of that gentleman to deliver the important address of the occasion. The handsome manner in which the speaker acquitted himself must have been pleasing to the North Carolinians present. Verily, the old North State is beginning to move up in the line of great States, for her delegation in Congress stands to the fore-front among the best. The cultivation of State pride should and must be the popular growth of our people. The noblest and best people are they who love their State.—Raleigh News.

There was a grand celebration of the 20th of May in Charlotte—103d anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

There was a grand display of military on parade—six companies, including the Governor's Guards, of Columbia, S. C., and the Light Artillery of Wilmington. Gov. Vance was there and reviewed the troops, and towards the close of the ceremonies was called out and addressed the audience for a few minutes. No accident or disturbance marred the occasion.

Gen. Grant has been voted on the retired list. It is believed that some basis of agreement between Russia and England has been reached, but what it is has not yet definitely transpired.

The Danville, Winston, Davie and Kings Mountain Railroad project seems to be moving right ahead. Public meetings in Davie and elsewhere, show a spirit on the subject which seems to mean business. We are glad to see it, and hope the road may be built. It will bring prosperity to sections now languishing for the want of an outlet, and stimulate to new life the dormant energies of the people.

"The Educator"—is the title of a new paper just started at "Happy Home," or "Excelsior," or Rutherford College. It is to be, as its name would indicate, devoted to the interest of education, and especially to the College. It does not, however, ignore politics, but declares itself democratic. OTHER COUNTY CONVENTIONS.

The Meetings in Lincoln, Rowan and Union.

The Democratic county convention of Lincoln, Rowan and Union, met yesterday at the court houses in Lincoln, Salisbury and Monroe. By last evening and last night's mail we received news from these counties, which is here appended:

LINCOLN. The following ticket was put in the field as indicated by the primary meetings: For the Senate, W. A. Graham; House, B. C. Cobb; Sheriff, J. A. Robinson; Clerk, W. M. Reinhardt; Register, W. R. Edwards; Treasurer, J. C. Jenkins; Coroner, R. S. Edwards; Solicitor, W. J. Montgomery. The nominations were made unanimously.

Shenck and Vance were endorsed for Judge and Senator.

ROWAN. The county convention was the most noisy ever held. John S. Henderson was nominated for the Senate. J. G. Fleming and H. C. Bost for the House of Representatives. J. M. Horn, clerk Superior Court. Sam McCubbin, treasurer. On first ballot for sheriff, Theo P. Klutz had 5 townships, C. F. Waggoner 4, and G. A. Bingham 2. After a noisy and unbecoming session of some hours, duration, G. A. Bingham was declared the nominee. No instructions as to Judges, Congressmen, &c.

UNION. It seems that only two or three of the townships had held primary meetings, and as a consequence a much mixed delegation assembled in the Monroe court house yesterday. Delegates were appointed to the State and district conventions from each township. A set of resolutions was introduced by Mr D. A. Covington endorsing Hons W N H Smith, T S Ashe and T N Hill for Supreme Court bench and C E Grier for solicitor. Each township cast five votes and out of seven townships three were for the resolutions and three against. Great confusion ensued and after another ballot the Grier men claimed a majority. This was disputed and more men were sent for. When these arrived (those present being constituted delegates) a ballot was taken which resulted; Montgomery 70, Grier 10. The Grier men protested that the vote was unfair, and Monroe township withdrew from the convention, appointed delegates to the district convention and instructed them to vote for Grier.

County officers and all things else seem to have been left out of the struggle over the solicitorship, and the convention adjourned under the state of affairs above set forth. Our correspondent adds: "There was much excitement and confusion, but no bad blood or passion."—Char. Observer.

MECKLENBURG CONVENTION, has nominated—For Senator, Sidney B. Alexander.

For the House of Representatives J. L. Brown and W. E. Andrey, Mr. E. Alexander was chosen Sheriff; Clerk of Superior Court, J. P. Ervin; Register of Deeds, Wm. Maxwell; Treasurer, S. E. Belk; County Surveyor, M. D. L. Biggers; Coroner, W. N. Alexander. They also passed unanimously, a resolution instructing members to the General Assembly to vote for Z. B. Vance for U. S. Senator.

THE STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

This body was in session at Goldsboro, last week. We copy from the Raleigh News the following:

This society is an institution in our midst that commends itself to the public in the highest degree. There is no profession or occupation with which the people have more intimate relations, or upon which they are so entirely dependent as that of the medical profession. The doctor is the main-stay and chief hope of every community. He is the good Samaritan, always going about relieving pain, soothing distress and rescuing life. Strike him out of existence and the world would be thrown into consternation. Deprive mankind of his services and skill, and suffering and mortality would hold high carnival of scourge and epidemic. Of all learned professions, that of medicine is the most important to mankind.

Of the Saviour of the world it was said he was the Great Physician. What we owe to the physician we shall never realize, and pay; for his is the largest charity of all. His vigilance never relaxes. To him comes no holiday—no period of rest. From the suffering of the sick room, from the distressing scenes of the chamber of death, when other men sleep he repairs to his midnight study, and poring over volumes of medical works, seeks to find something that may have escaped him in his study and his practice, whereby he may relieve pain, or save a life. While other men, and those of other professions, indulge the comforts of their homes, and at seasonable hours retire to sleep, the doctor braves the storm, goes abroad at night in all weathers, traverses dark and dreary paths and by-ways, in answer to the summons of either private or peasant. His work takes him from the palaces of the rich to the hovels of the poor, and regardless of the consideration of compensation, he knows only his duty to humanity and his profession.

To appreciate this profession of hard-working, over-taxed and under-paid practitioners, ought to be the duty of educators, and all men. To improve the efficiency of their profession is the work in which the medical men of the world are daily and hourly engaged. And it is this that annually calls the physicians of North Carolina together in general consultation; that each may learn, by comparison of notes, something from the other, and by united and continued effort augment the proficiency of the whole body; and so guard their profession that no unworthy member shall enter, or quickly impose upon and afflict the people.
