

LOCAL.

At Hot Springs, Ark., Mr. J. K. Fisher, aged 68 years, the only remaining son of the late James Fisher, died on the 21st inst. He was a native of this town, but spent most of his life in his father's mill near his home.

At a meeting of the Board of Health, held at the City Hall, on the 10th inst., the following resolutions were adopted: That the Board of Health be authorized to purchase a new set of scales for the City Hall, and to have the same repaired.

Several young men of this place, practical printers, have been engaged to commence the publication of a weekly paper here next week. The paper will be published every week after next. The enterprise meets, as it should, a warm approval by our citizens. We wish it success. More about it hereafter.

The Lone Nine and Concord, will play a match game of base ball, on the 14th of August, at 10 o'clock, on the grounds at Poplar Tent. The evening the Nameless Nine, of Concord, will play any club in the State that will meet them at the grounds.

On Friday, from Mr. J. W. Brown, one of the editors of "The Farmer and Mechanic," published every week at Raleigh. Mr. Brown is making arrangements in this part of the State in the interest of his paper. Send him $2 and get a good paper.

Rowan seems to be doing pretty fair business in the matrimonial line this year. We record license granted in January, 25; in February, 24; March, 20; April, 15; May, 17; June, 4; July, 15. About one-third of the whole number were granted to colored applicants.

Our business men are showing some signs of awakening concern in business matters. Messrs. Crawford & Taylor have put up a splendid additional story to their Hardware store, and Messrs. Baker & Neave have followed suit, slightly, in the Store business. These gentlemen are no doubt thinking of the Salisbury and Wadesboro connection, which by the way, is worthy of their most active interest.

In this country, so far as we can learn, it is not very promising. The drought has been very severe upon it, and although the rains of last week will do much to improve the growth, it is apprehended that the quality will be considerably impaired.

We have seen some fields of this crop up to a fall average if not better. The late rains will greatly increase the growth, and we learn that it is bolting well.

In the bottoms, is very fine; and much of the upland corn which was thought to be hopelessly ruined by the drought, has come out beyond all expectation within the last week. There will be bread for the eater and seed for the sower.

The Mayor was requested to sell the pump taken out of the well at the National Hotel to the best advantage.

Ordinance XXV and LXXXI, in regard to penning cattle at night, were repealed. The taxes for 1875 were laid at 4 1/2 cents on the $100 valuation and $1.25 on each poll.

The proposition to move the lamp in front of the Lutheran church across the street was referred to the Gas Committee. Commissioner Marsh was requested to consider the subject of a fire alarm.

As a result of A. H. Boyden amounting to $91.99 for overcharge in taxes for the years 1875, 1876, 1877, and 1878 was referred to the Finance Committee.

Messrs. Marsh and Wiley were appointed a committee to inquire into the expediency of laying slate on the sidewalks of the town.

The Mayor was requested to have the dead trees in the English graveyard removed. The following ordinances were adopted: Be it Ordained, That it shall be the duty of the police to take and keep an accurate account of every beef, hog, veal, mutton or pig slaughtered and offered for sale in the town of Salisbury, when sold and by whom, and make a report of the same at each regular meeting of the Board.

Be it Ordained, That the Tax Collector shall be required promptly and faithfully on the Tuesday preceding the first Friday in each month, to comply with the requirements of the act of the General Assembly ratified March 13th, 1874, and 19th, and at all times when making payment to the Town Treasurer, to file with said Treasurer a detailed written statement of the sources from which such payments were derived, whether from general tax book or special taxes, or any other source; and the said Tax Collector is strictly forbidden to pay, or in any manner take up, any Town claim except in settlement of individual taxes, but shall pay to the said Treasurer all monies collected by him as money.

Be it further Ordained, That it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to copy into his account such detailed statements as may be filed by the Tax Collector, and shall exhibit his books monthly to the Board of Commissioners, or any committee appointed for this purpose.

Be it further Ordained, That if the Tax Collector or Treasurer shall fail to comply with the preceding sections of this ordinance, he shall be liable to be summarily dismissed from office.

Ordinance XLIII was amended to read as follows: That the depth of all graves dug in the cemeteries within the corporate limits shall not be less than four feet to the vault, and that the price for digging graves shall be for infants $1.00, for children $1.50, and for adults $3.00.

Enochville Items. We have had frequent showers of rain last week, which have revived the corn very much. It now bids fair to yield, at least, an average crop.

There was a "Stock Law" meeting held in a corn-field near this place last Sunday one week ago. There are six or seven men interested in the same field and a majority of them were present when the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We have been compelled to work for the last two Sundays over half the day, besides a good part of the time during the week to put the stock out of corn, and

Whereas, We see but one way to get rid of all this trouble, therefore be it Resolved, That we will all vote for the Stock Law.

Last Saturday, Alex. Deaf saw his cows in Jacob Freeze's corn field. He (Deaf) went to drive them out—Mr. F. saw him and went too, overtaking Mr. D. he knocked him down and gave him a beating.—The stock law would surely prevent all such trouble between neighbors.

For the Watchman. KIRK'S MILLS, JULY 27, 1879. Rockingham and Wadesboro Railroad.

Mr. Editor: I was delighted in reading in your wide awake paper of 3d inst., Nemo's correspondence in which he suggested a very important and desirable route for the prospective railroad between Salisbury and Rockingham. Also I was pleased to see in your issue of 17th, an article headed "Wadesboro and Rockingham Railroad."

Let our influential citizens take hold of this important enterprise at once, and secure the speedy building of this road, lest, while we delay and slumber over the subject, other more intelligent and progressive communities push forward and cut us off.

Let our influential citizens take hold of this important enterprise at once, and secure the speedy building of this road, lest, while we delay and slumber over the subject, other more intelligent and progressive communities push forward and cut us off.

It may be well for the citizens of Salisbury especially to ponder over the closing paragraph of the article, "Wadesboro and Rockingham Railroad," in Watchman of 17th inst. We would commend its thoughts to the intelligent citizens of this entire county.

speakers could be heard, a crowd of the people assembled in the hall below, and by the aid of drums, brass violins, and by pomelling the floor with their feet, produced in a kind of wild dance, a noise very much "like heaven and earth were coming together."

Notwithstanding the "fuss and frolic" they succeeded in raising the necessary funds, and Prof. Speller, of Raleigh, will organize the school at an early day.

For the Watchman. THE WAR ENDED AGAIN—FAMINE PROBABLE NEXT YEAR, &c., &c.

London, August 4.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Cape Town says: "Chief Morosi has submitted. The present trouble with the Basutos, therefore is settled, but much discontent still exists."

It is feared there will be severe famines next year in Zululand, as it is now seed time and no lands are being sown, and the much seed has been destroyed and many cattle have been seized.

The Roan Mountain Republican hoists the Republican banners, National and State for the campaign of 1880. U. S. Grant and Thos. Settle for President and Vice-President.

Father Evans thinks that a protective policy adopted by the State would bring back the boys and make business at home fairly hum. Tax all manufactured articles that are not made in the State, says he, and it will make it health for outsiders to do their manufacturing inside, instead of outside of North Carolina.

We are informed by the Southern Home that its editor is "authorized to say that so far as Gen. Vance promising not to run or exchange places with any body, that is a mistake. Gen. Vance on being asked if he was a candidate, replied, 'I am in the hands of my people; if they wish me to serve them, I will do so. I'll neither seek nor decline the nomination.'"

It is really funny to read the list of "Honorary Managers" to the Beaufort Ball. They are all "Honorable" or "Kernal," with the exception of one stray "Major." This is truly a very great country. It is a very sanguinary country.

At Saratoga, Friday last, a colored man named Robinson jumped on a vehicle in which W. H. Vanderbilt and friends were returning from the races. He was ordered off, and the driver "whipped behind," but the clandestine passenger eluded him.

The valuation of Wake county lands shows an increase of 48 per cent. Rev. D. C. Rankin, of North Carolina, has been elected to fill the professorship in the Institute for Training a Colored Ministry at Tusculooa, Ala., which was made vacant by the death of Rev. A. F. Dickson, D. D.

A church is being built jointly at Marshall, Madison county, by two congregations of the Methodist Church and one of the Missionary Baptist, and the second story of the church, which is now near completion, will be used for a masonic hall.

The negroes within reach of Memphis undeterred by fear of the yellow fever, rush thither in the hope of obtaining free rations. Of course they are disappointed. They think it very rough that they should be forbidden the infection, and are forced to forage for themselves besides the signs of that men cannot always eat the bread of idleness.

There were 26 deaths in Memphis for the week ending last Saturday night, and 65 deaths up to that date this season. In New Orleans there is a division of sentiment among the doctors as to the type of the cases reported, and while the doctors are quarreling over the matter, the people are fleeing from the city.

A correspondent tells the Raleigh News that a few miles from Edenton there has been discovered a water that when corked up in bottles will effervesce like champagne, and is believed to contain great medicinal properties. Parties are taking steps to have it tested.

Saturday was the boss day for water-melons in this city. The streets and crock stands were overran. One craft alone brought 750. At the low price paid for this fruit, it may be supposed that it is an unprofitable crop. Not so. We heard a farmer near this city has sold one hundred and seventy dollars worth of melons from two acres of ground, this season, and has fed his stock from the patch besides.—Nut Shell.

Official notification has been received from one of the officers of the Charleston land quarantine that he has turned back seven persons, on their way to that city from Memphis, since assuming charge of his post. There is also unofficial information from other officers of persons being turned back.

PAPER COLLARS.—A paper collar will last a member of the Legislature who speaks, eight minutes and a half; one who thinks, thirteen minutes, and those who do not think, a week. There are said to be several members who have not found it necessary—or convenient—to change collars since the session opened.—Thomasville (Ga.) Times.
