

Franklin Zephyrs.

Several parties of star-gazers on the 13th. It was not so successful a courtship as the mean time, then it was not a success.

The Free schools are all now in full operation.

Until quite recently, the weather has been dry and dusty to a degree hitherto unknown at this season.

Last Friday, fires broke out on the farm of Mr. John H. Green, and on the same day a very destructive fire broke out on the farm of Dr. Murdoch.

"Scotch Irish Waves" seems to be some complaint. His communication rings of the true metal on the "Stock Law."

It is now high time that some action be taken by those townships which have adopted the Stock Law, as to the time when the Stock should be turned out.

We do not, however, propose to lead or dictate in the matter. There are those who carried the law before we did, and it is but fair that they should take the initiative.

There are many reasons why an early date would be preferable. This winter season is a time when stock must be fed away, and if ordered up early they can be put in temporary lots until the permanent pasture is made.

We had a refreshing shower of rain last Saturday night. It was very much needed.

Mr. P. J. Overcash was riding on a wagon one day last week with his feet hanging down below the axle. His wagon passed over a stump which was not noticed by Mr. Overcash.

Mr. Adams Kevly, mentioned last week as being very sick with typhoid fever, we are glad to say is now convalescent, under the care of Dr. Leazer.

There are several little boys and girls only six years old, in this neighborhood who have been picking from forty to fifty pounds of cotton in a day.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. David Overcash's mule was lost on the night of Nov. 17. It was missing when it was taken and could not be traced.

Dr. W. B. Ramsey, dentist, will be at this place from November the 24th to 28th. He has the reputation of being a good dentist.

Dr. L. H. Miller sustained a very painful injury from having his hand caught in the cotton gin of Patterson, Miller & Co., but is improving under the care of Dr. Chace.

The writer of the above read the letter from Texas in the last week's issue of the Watchman and would also advise those who think of emigrating to stay in North Carolina.

The lands in the central section will produce in perfection everything of value grown in the North, and in addition will grow tobacco, cotton, peas, nuts, and a great variety of other valuable products peculiar to the South.

STATESVILLE, N. C. 13th Nov., 1879. DR. M. EDITOR—While keeping my eyes open to witness the grand "Meteor Shower," the thought struck me that I should like to see a few of your wandering brethren.

terrestrial, tangible and trammelled with earth, earth, but I must remember that perhaps my readers are in a more subliminary frame and in a return to mother earth in its way.

As the State is one of the oldest in the Union, it has the advantage of well established roads, bridges, accessible markets, churches, schools, etc.

The temperature of midsummer is not so excessive or trying as is frequently experienced in New York State.

With all the advantages which this section affords, good improved lands can be had at $10 and $12 per acre.

My eyes are growing dim, my faith in the "meteoric display" failing, so I will say, "To all a cheerful good night, Pleasant dreams and a sunny bright."

Those who were disappointed at the failure of the meteoric shower predicted by a bogus astronomer, in St. Louis, for the night of the 13th, will receive consolation in the fact that, according to a statement made by Prof. Richard A. Proctor.

insects never trouble the farmers of North Carolina, while their less fortunate brethren of the West have to battle against these pests year after year, and as well known, their crops are frequently destroyed by them.

hardly any confusion. The bow of our steamer was going down rapidly and she began to lurch and tremble as she sank. The captain ordered me to cut away the lashings from the life raft and I ran to do so.

The life raft caught under the mainstay, and the side I hung to was dragged under the water until the raft stood upright.

In accordance with previous appointment, delegates from Leakville, Madison, Walnut Cove, Mocksville, Third Creek, Mooresville and Statesville met here on last Friday, to discuss the proposed extension of the Virginia Millard road through this section.

The meeting was further addressed by Maj. Morehead, Judge Farwell, Col. Mott, J. M. Clement, Col. Alspaugh and J. C. Buxton.

The representatives from Davie, while having no objection to Statesville, felt that good faith required them to stand by Mooresville.
