

Carolina Watchman.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1880.

Chief Justice Smith, though in bad health, is yet able to fill his chair on the Supreme Court bench.

The Mooresville people will celebrate Washington's birth day on next Saturday, by every property owner setting out at least one tree.

A correspondence published in the Republic of Winston, February 12th, shows that Judge E. G. READE declines to be a candidate for Governor on account of impaired health.

The Mardi Gras nonsense was repeated at New Orleans this year as usual. The most that can be said of it, it makes people who have money spend it—and have nothing to show for it.

Col. Wm. S. Pearson, of Morganton, has written a memoir of the late Joseph J. Erwin, of Burke, which is spoken of as a graceful tribute to a man of superior public and private worth.

BROKEN BACK.—The Philadelphia Record says there is a patient in the German hospital with a broken back, a complete separation of the spinal column, with a living and sensible head and trunk attached to a dead and decomposing mass of flesh and bone. The wonder is that the man lives at all. There is no remedy for him, though it is thought he may live a month.

The Republican State Convention of New York will meet at Utica on the 25th inst. If it shall adopt the course of Pennsylvania and declare in favor of Grant and instruct its delegates to cast the full vote of the State for him, it will probably settle the question as to the republican candidate in the next national contest. There is no other man in the country who will more certainly elicit the strongest possible opposition of the Democratic party.

The colored republicans of Charlotte in public meeting, denounced Dr. Mott for appointing some democrats in the service of his office. We think the Doctor showed a deal of party-sharpness in this respect: The work of his assistants in the most unpopular service in the country, making a large class of men cens from A to Z. To let some of these anathemas fall on Democratic men instead of wholly on the republican party was certainly not unwise, viewed as party policy.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania, with Senator Cameron at their head, have secured the vote of the State in the national nominating convention in favor of the third-term, Grant. There is a strong party of Republicans in Pennsylvania who are opposed to it, and denounce the action as contrary to the popular will. It is believed, however, that the efforts of this party will amount to nothing in the long run, and that the State, manacled and securely bound, will be passed over to the support of Grant.

TAKE IT OFF.—The conspiracy of the paper makers to run up prices of paper very properly starts an appeal to Congress to take off the duty on paper and the chemicals employed in its manufacture. The people have a direct interest in subject, which is superior to that of a few paper makers. Indeed, the time has come when no protective tariff on anything should be sustained at the cost and damage of the tolling millions. Protective duties have already enriched manufacturers and created forces which endanger the liberties of the people, who should demand as a right that it now come to an end.

SCANDAL.—There is an ugly scandal reported in the papers concerning a number of senators and representatives in Washington city. They are charged with having formed a joint stock company for the purpose of facilitating their indulgence in the vices for which Washington has become noted. Females of highly respectable connections who have situations in the Treasury and other Departments, are implicated. There are some southern people involved in this disgrace, we are sorry to say; and for the sake of example, we trust the police, now employed in ferreting out the guilty ones, may make a sure thing in dragging all to the light.

LITTLEFIELD.—A traveler in Florida writes to the Raleigh News an interesting letter from which we clip the following concerning one of the carpet baggers who under the reconstruction system played a large part in the robbery of North Carolina.

Just as we swing off from the pier at Jacksonville starting up the river, looking over to the right on the bluff overlooking the river is the aristocratic suburbs of Jacksonville, and that splendid looking house you see there looming up above the surrounding grove of orange, and lemons, and magnolias was once the home of Prince Milton S. Littlefield. Here erstwhile he high revelry kept, and with his handsome turnout, stylish trappings and servants in livery, lived a life of sensual enjoyment in this soft Florida climate. Now broken in fortune, bowed by misfortune, the glitter gone, he hides his diminished head and endures the rigors of poverty and the climate at Poughkeepsie on the Hudson.

HARRIET BECKER STOWE.
A little further on we have an allusion to this notorious character:
A few miles further up the river the steamer stops a few minutes at Mandarin and we get a view of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's residence, bossommed in a grove of grand old live oaks. Here amid the shade of the orange groves she finds enduring the odors of the race whose injured woe she depicted so forcibly in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

WESTERN N. C. RAILROAD.

This great work has engaged a large part of the attention of the public for some weeks past from the fact that a New York Company has offered to buy it, and the State officials have been asked to call the General Assembly together to consider the proposition. The Governor felt it to be his duty under the circumstances to call a meeting of the Directors of the Road and to ask the attendance of the Internal Improvement Committee. The gentlemen composing these bodies met at Raleigh, last week, to hear what the Governor had to say and to take such action in the premises as they deemed best. It was an important occasion, and the proceedings then had interests every tax payer in the State. All should know what was said and what was done, and we have therefore given a large portion of the first page of this paper, usually devoted to miscellaneous matter, in order to lay before our readers the proceedings of that meeting. And we ask them to read the report with care, for the subject matter will come up for their own individual decision. Shall the State complete the Western North Carolina Railroad and enjoy its possession as a State work, or shall it be sold, and go into the hands of a party who will use it for their own advantage, and leave the State to help herself as well as she may be able. The tax payers and voters of the State will have this question to settle, and all the light they can get on it the better they will know what to do.

EXTRA SESSION.—Hale's Weekly of the 17th, says—"We think we may very safely state now as was stated last week, that the Legislature will meet early in March." The extra session if called will be for the purpose of considering Mr. Best's offer to purchase the Western N. C. R. R. The responsibility of calling an extra session for this purpose rests upon the Governor and his Council. It is a grave responsibility, and one which implies consequences which he cannot well avoid. If he should fail to call it and the chance of sale be lost, the people may hereafter blame him as remiss in duty. If he should call it and the Legislature refused to sell, and the cost of the extra session be added to the burdens of the people, as it will be, he will be censured for that. If the road be sold and turns out to be a bonanza in the hands of the northern owners, the democrats will be accused of fooling away the property of the state. If we fail to sell and go on taxing the people to complete it, the republicans will ring the charges on the faithlessness of the democrats when they had it in their power to relieve the people. In any case there is going to be a great deal of political fuss about the Western N. C. R. R. sold or not sold.

THE EXODUS COMMITTEE.—In regard to what we stated yesterday in relation to the exodus committee we may state that the testimony so far elicited shows some facts which are of great value in disabusing the minds of the people of the North, about our treatment of the negro.

I. That the scheme has been a cruel imposition on the negroes for political and personal gain to its authors, and II. That the condition of people of color in the South, in a material point of view, is better than that of hundreds of thousands of white working people in the North.

III. That the condition of these people either social, political or material, cannot be advanced by a hegira to the North. There they are thrown in direct contact with white labor, which is superior in intelligence, and consequently more valuable.—Char. Observer.

HIGH WATER REPORTED.—Washington, Feb. 16.—The following dispatch has been sent by the chief signal officer to observers at river stations south of Louisville: "The river at Cincinnati is fifty-two and a half feet above low-water mark and rising, and at Nashville forty-three feet four inches above, but falling."

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—HOUSE.—Among the bills introduced were the following:
By Persons, of Georgia, admitting free of duty machinery for manufacturing cotton fabrics.
By Richardson of South Carolina, to return to producers of cotton, tax collected by the government, which has been declared by the Supreme Court to have been illegally collected.
House, of Tennessee, requested the President to open negotiations with certain foreign governments relative to the importation of tobacco into their dominions.

Under a call of States the following bills were introduced and referred.
By Johnson, of Virginia, to regulate the mode of purchasing tobacco for the navy.
By Hunter, of Virginia, to settle unpaid claims of the living officers of the revolutionary army who served to the close of the war.

By Baker, of Indiana, amending the statutes prohibiting the employment of convicts in certain manufactures.
By Frost, of Maryland, to repeal certain sections of the acts of 1871-72, in relation to the use of marshals and supervisors at the polls.
By Davidson, of Florida, to settle accounts between the United States and Florida.

Under a call of States in the House to-day 130 bills and resolutions were introduced, mostly of a private nature. Among those of public interest were the following:
By Richardson, of South Carolina, directing the refunding to the several States, of amounts of cotton tax, paid by them in 1866 and 1868, the Supreme Court having decided it was illegally collected; said States to give a guarantee that the money will be refunded to producers of the cotton or their heirs, or in case they cannot be found to be devoted to the education of the most indigent citizen irrespective of color.
By Johnston, of Virginia, requiring tobacco purchased for the use of the navy to be manufactured during the months of June, July and September, and passed upon by three experts to be appointed by the Secretary of the Navy.

By O'Connor, of South Carolina, authorizing a government survey for and estimated cost of the construction of a canal across Charleston neck, to connect Cooper and Ashley rivers.
By Nichols, of Georgia, appropriating $5,000 for a survey of Canrochee river, with a view to its improvement.
By House, of Tennessee, requesting the President to open negotiations with France, Spain, Austria, and Italy for the removal of present restrictions on the importation of tobacco into their countries.

SENATE.—The Vice-President laid before the Senate various communications from the secretary of war, and there were

A ROCHESTER PHYSICIAN'S EXPERIENCE.
R. Cankins, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., certifies, Oct. 6th, 1879, that he has used the Safe Kidney and Liver Care in his practice for diseases of the kidneys and liver, and the result has been satisfactory in the extreme. He says: "I would now prescribe the same remedy to all similarly afflicted, and you are at liberty to so state in your testimonials."
