What ferocious looking animal is that? That is the editor.

Indeed! Are they very dangerous? again they have been known to go through a convent back window. Generally they are mild and passive.

Are editors cross to each other? Only when separated by several blocks of buildings.

Do they cat? They do. It was formerly supposed that they are at long intervals, but it is a well authenticated fact that they can eat a good deal when they can get it.

What kind of food do they like most? They are not very particular, While they won't refuse quail on toast, fried crab or roast turkey about Christmas time, they have been known to make a hearty repast off a dish of cold turnips and a consumptive herring.

Can they eat a concert ticket? We believe not, Some people have this erroneous impression from false teachings in early life; but no authenticated instance of such a thing is on record

Do editors go free into the shows? They do, when they give a dollar-and-ahalf local for a twenty-five-cent ticket,

Are all editors bald? No, only the married ones are bald. But let us pass on; the editor does not like to be stared at, were thrown open yesterday morning a man who was built on the plumb line principle, and whose hat would have attracted the curiosity of a crowd a mile and a half away, was stopped because he had no ticket. He indulged in some rather loud talk, and was ken in hand by a policeman and led to one side.

"Yes sir."

"Is there a circus attached?" 'No sir.'

'Is there a free lunch establishment in blast?'

'No sir.'

'Will the president be here to-day?' 'Not that I know of.'

'Is the man with prize packages on hand there ?'

'He is not.'

'Is there any chance for me to secure a position as special detective?' 'No sir.'

This, then, is an ordinary State fair, composed of machinery, live stock, bed quilts, roosters, wind mills, yeast cakes, new cheeses and the man who has had his pocket picked?' 'Yes, about that.'

Then, sir, I beg your pardon for my rash and ungentlemanly conduct, and I bid you good day. If I had understood matters in the first place I should have spared the public this scene. Ta-ta, sir, and if we should ever meet again you'll know me by my hat.'

Suicide by Starvation.

A sad case of suicide by starvation comes from near McDonough, Ga. Interesting accounts reach us of wild woman in the Missouri valley, Dennis Sallivan, who was out with party berrying last week, came suddenly upon her, He was within twenty steps of her and had a good look into her face, which appeared lean and rather coarse featured. She was dressed in light clothes. and her hair he describes as being of a brown color and quite long hanging over her shoulders, reaching below her old, badly torn sun-bonnet. When first discovered she was half hid behind a cliff of rocks, from which he ushered with such a deafening scream that Mr. Sullivan's horse became so frightened as to be unmanageable for several moments, after which he undertook to give chase, but foot, and taking a near cut over the hill, he came close up to her, when she turned towards him with her hands raised, making such a loud and tenor like screaming poise that he had not the courage to proceed further, but turned away, leaving the courious feminine mistress of the woods and wilderness-like canon, through which she fled with unusual quickness. The subject of organizing a party to scour the country and capture the wild stranger is being agitated,

Rev. H. M. BROWN, A. M., Principal

H. C. FISHER, Assistant

It will be apparent to any one, who will ex, mine a SOLID GOLD WATCH, that aside from he necessary thickness for engraving and polshing, a large proportion of the precious metal used, is needed only to stiffen and hold the engraved portions in place, and supply the necessary solidity and strength. The surplus gold is actually needless so far as UTILITY and beauty are concerned. In James Boss' PATENT GOLD WATCH CASES this waste of precious metal is overcome, and the same solidity and strength produced at from one-third to one-half of the usual cost of solid cases. This process is of the most simple fature, as follows: A plate of nickle composition nietal, especially adapted to the purpose, has two plates of solid gold solder ed one on each side. The three are then passed one on each side. The three are then passed between polished steel rollers, and the result is a strip of heavy plated composition from which the cases, banks, centres, beach, deed are cut and shaped by suitable dies and formers. The gold in these cases is sufficiently thick to admit of all kinds of chasing, eagraving an lienamelling; the engraved cases have been carried until worn perfectly smooth by time and use without removing the golds.
