

The dishonest absurdity of the "Liberals" is plainly seen in the fact that they charge the democrats with the whole responsibility of the prohibition enactments of the last Legislature. They know it is a lie: The leading men of the Republican party know it is false. Who has forgotten Billy Smith's ringing letter claiming for his party paternal interest in it? Who has forgotten Judge Dick's declaration that if his party took sides with the anti-prohibitionists and became identified with them as a party, he was done with it forever. Or who has forgotten that more of the republicans in the Legislature voted for the prohibition act, in proportion to numbers, than democrats, and that Judge Reed was the high priest at the altar on this measure? But what of it! Did they do wrong in this business? Certainly not. Two hundred thousand citizens petitioned for the enactment, but in order to make no mistake the Legislature provided that the Act should be submitted to a vote of the people. If they approved of it, all right—it was a law. If they disapproved, it was then inoperative—it fell to the ground. The people decided against the law, and no attempt has been made to execute it. It is dead. And yet noisy fellows here and there are shrieking against it and trying to deceive some men into the belief that they ought to build up a party on the dead carcass of prohibition! It is absurd—it is dishonest—it is a lie—and those who practice it, as well as every man who is informed on the subject, knows it to be false.

The Republicans in Ohio have passed two Legislative enactments, both coercive prohibition temperance measures without consulting the wishes of the people of the State; and the Supreme Court of Ohio has declared them unconstitutional. And yet in spite of the Court's decision, the authorities are still trying to enforce these measures. The democratic Legislature of North Carolina showed more respect for their constituents by submitting the subject to a vote of the people, who settle the question for themselves, and there it has ended, except that the scalwags are trying to build up a party on the memory of the 118,000 votes polled against it.

THEY ACCEPT IT.—We have felt a little curiosity in regard to the course of that portion of the Republican press which denounced the proposed coalition of the "liberals" and republicans on the basis of anti-prohibition. We thought after the coalition had become an accomplished fact, that the "North State" and the "Union Republican," the leading and most respectable journals on that side, would stand out in the bold, but that they would give in—submit—permit themselves to be gagged and the bitter pill forced down their unwilling throats. We are sorry to see our friend of the Winston Republican treated in this ruthless manner. He reviews the whole situation in his usual calm and dignified manner—denounces it with sorrow of heart—a tear in his eye—together with those who brought it about, and coolly reaches the conclusion thus—"We can do no better than to sustain the ticket, for what is there to hope for from the success of the Democracy?"

That settles the question so far as the "Union Republican" is concerned; it accepts Dr. Mott as the boss of the party—accepts him, smirched as he is by the investigation now going on at Washington in regard to his official conduct as revenue collector.

The Greensboro North also comes forward, but with less apparent reluctance. It heads its submission thus: "We Bow." That tells the whole story in two words. The republican party is controlled by the revenue men of the State, who, according to their own showing, gave special orders what kind of members to select for the State Convention. The rank and file of the party—the masses—the colored people—had no more to do with the selection of candidates and the construction of the platform, than their ancestral cousins in Africa. It is all the work of Dr. Mott and his revenue associates.

APPROVED.—Those who read the proceedings of the radical State Convention in this paper last week, must have been struck with one thing at least. Here it is: Resolved, That sound policy, based upon the experience of the past twenty-two years, requires the continuance of the tariff which enables the labor and capital employed in our industries to compete fairly in our own markets with the labor and capital of foreign producers.

This is the work of the white leaders and Jim Hennessey of the republican party, "scalwags," of former times—men without scruple principles, who aim to run a negro government, affording them the best chance for stealing the public money—men who are expecting a reward from Washington, of the corrupt crew in authority there, and not from the people whose confidence they abuse and whose best interests they betray.

When our fathers of the revolutionary period wanted to raise money to pay off the war debt they levied a tax of 5 and 7 1/2 per cent. on imported goods. And now twenty years after the late civil war, the Republican Congressmen lay on the people a tariff of 35 and 75 per cent on the same subjects of taxation. And this is done, not for the purpose of paying a public debt, nor for enabling our manufacturing people to compete with the labor and capital of foreign producers, but for the well known effect of enriching capitalists at the north and impoverishing the laboring people of the South and West. The greatest danger that now threatens the liberties of the people, are the monopolies fostered, built up and strengthened by the present existing tariff. They control the Legislatures, the Congress and the government of the people, and are thus undermining the citadel of "civil liberty itself. And yet the republican convention at Raleigh endorses it all, and sends down to the people for a ratification of their action. O tempora! O mores!

How It Was Done.—We gave in last week's paper a report of the late Republican Convention in order that our readers might be in possession of the facts showing the marriage between the "liberals" and the republicans. We give below an extract from the "Union Republican," of Winston, Mr. J. W. Goslen, editor, who explains how the revenue men of the State ravished the republican party, and how they submitted to it because they could not prevent it. Read!

"We do not think the State Convention fairly represented the sentiment of the Republican party in North Carolina. While the majority for coalition seemed to be overwhelming, it was not a faithful reflex of public opinion. We remember how the same men, in 1880, so manipulated the politics of North Carolina that the delegation to Chicago cast fifteen votes for Sherman and only five for Grant when, without question, the almost unanimous sentiment of the Republican party was for Grant. It is an easy thing for those who have the time and the money, and who make it their business, to control party conventions. The whole strength of the revenue service has been exerted to bring about "Coalition." Counties were represented in the convention by revenue officers in large numbers, and in many instances they did not properly reflect the opinions of their constituents. This will be denied, but it is nevertheless true. Everything was cut and dried, and rushed through without debate or deliberation. The delegates who voted with a roar in favor of coalition were mere puppets in the hands of the coalition leaders. Opposition was not tolerated and was even frowned upon. No recognition whatever was made of the anti-coalition element of the party. None of this class were placed upon the committees, however insignificant, and none were permitted to hold any of the offices of the convention. In fine, it seemed as if the convention was a farce. Everything was done at the dictation of a few determined men, just as the Southern States were plunged into the mad vortex of Rebellion. The comparatively few anti-coalitionists on the floor of the convention, may as well have been elsewhere for they had no chance.

We deeply regret what occurred and we state our grievances boldly having no favors to ask, and simply desiring to do our duty as the publisher of a Republican journal. No one has any right to question our Republicanism; and especially is this true of the Democrats, who have lately (in feeble numbers, as we believe) allied themselves to the Republican party. With proper self-respect we could not say less than we have said. We believe the Coalition to have been unwise, and we fear it may turn out to be a disaster. We hope our fears are unfounded."

The republican platform, recently adopted at Dr. Mott's two conventions, declare opposition to the present system of County government; and yet they nominated to the highest office, Col. Folk, for associate justice of the Supreme Court, who is the father of the present County system, as the records of the General Assembly show. And not only so, but Col. Folk, as we learn from the Lenoir Topik, still believes that the present County government is right. On that question he has nothing to recall. Consistency is put to the blush.

The Democrats of Burke County were in Convention on the 24th. J. H. Hoffman Esq., was chairman; and Robert C. Pearson and Isaac Avery, secretaries. The meeting was addressed by Maj. J. W. Wilson, S. McD. Tate, Esq., and Capt. Jos. C. Mills. There was no sign of weakness in the meeting, but the contrary. The cheering, spirited words of the speakers could not be more encouraging.

FOR ROBBERIES.—We learn that the democratic primary township meetings of Iredell county, last Saturday, generally declared in favor of Maj. Robbins for Congress, and that this sentiment will be more decidedly shown in the County Convention at Statesville next Saturday. Unless the public sentiment of the county has undergone a great change Maj. Robbins is also the favorite of the democratic masses of Rowan for Congress; but of this we shall know more in a few days.

Boiler Explosion at Charlotte. A frightful boiler explosion occurred on Saturday, about two o'clock, at the newly opened St. Catharine mine, by the track of the Air Line railroad, just beyond the western suburbs of the city, in which four men were badly hurt, one of whom was not expected to be alive this morning, and the injuries of another are thought to be fatal.

GUITEAU.—Will be hung to-morrow. Pictorial representations of the scene have been already prepared, and they have been offered for sale to the editors of newspapers for several weeks past. The enterprising people who have got them up are bent on making money out of Guiteau and the gaping, crazy crowds far and near who are supposed to be eager for the least bit of news concerning the man and the hanging.

Dr. Mott writes the Charlotte Observer of the 25th instant, denouncing the Washington correspondent as a falsifier of the facts transpiring before the Committee investigating his official conduct as Collector of Internal Revenue in this District. A complete and official report of the investigation will be published, and until then Dr. Mott is entitled to claim suspension of public judgment on his case.

We have learned that Wilkes County has not yet held any Convention to appoint delegates to a Congressional convention, and consequently that the announcement of the county having declared for Mrs. York, for Congress is incorrect or subject to modification.

Strikes have broken out among the operatives and laborers in various branches of business north, and it is causing heavy losses to capitalists and distress to themselves. The interruption to the shipping interests alone is estimated as a loss of $200,000 a day to the merchants of New York city.

The Democrats of Caldwell county in mass meeting on the 24th, declared in favor of Edmund Jones, of that county, for Congress from the 8th District. This nomination is certainly a well bestowed compliment to a notorious gentleman.

The Confederate monument at Columbia, S. C., was struck by lightning on the 22nd, and the marble figure of a Confederate soldier on the top of it was decapitated, the head falling first and the body following it to the ground. It will be replaced.

The Philadelphia Times, in speaking of the political situation in this State says: "Republicanism in North Carolina is dead and buried, and its estate is being administered upon by Independent Democrats and free whisky."

Iowa has had another terrible and destructive storm by which much property was lost, but only two or three human lives.

There were four executions at Kings-tree, S. C., last Friday—two for murder and two for robbery and arson. They were all colored.

New and terrible rain and wind storms are reported as occurring in Iowa and Minnesota, destroying a good deal of property but not many lives.

There were no delegates from Concord or Cabarrus county at the Liberal convention at Raleigh. Salisbury was represented by Stuart of the Examiner. Capt. Price did not attend, but wrote to Col. Johnston, that he was with them heart, soul, stomach, hat, boots and all.—Concord Register.

Senator Pendleton's civil service resolution is pending in the Senate, and in the meantime the work of political assessment goes bravely on, and Chairman Hubbell is scooping in the little $20 checks to ensure "a free ballot and fair count" in the coming Congressional elections.—Char. Ob.

Following the second of a series of resolutions adopted by Burke county Republican convention last week: That with heartiness we welcome the main action of Hon. J. J. Mott, chairman of the executive committee, in preferring alliance with the men of the Democracy who rose in rebellion last year against the ungracious interference with the most ancient and private privileges of the people, known as the prohibition bill.

The funny part of this business is that our young friend, Mr. Charles F. McKesson, who was chairman of the committee on resolutions in this convention and reported the above, interfered, last year, to the utmost of his ability, with the most ancient and private privileges of the people by canvassing Burke county in favor of the prohibition bill.—Statesville Landmark.

The Right Ring.

From the Lenoir Topik. The following card from J. A. Long, who was nominated by the republican convention for Superior Court Judge has the true ring. We commend it to the prayerful consideration of Col. Folk and Mr. Darby, who are among those who "have boarded the vessel of the enemy in order to try and scuttle their own ship."

"While it is true I was an anti-prohibitionist, and did what I could in my humble way to defeat it, I never believed the question to be a party one, or in any way a test of party fealty. The question is now a settled one, and as one of the Democrats who helped to settle it, I do not propose to go out side of the ranks of the Democratic party to attempt to correct any supposed mistakes it may have made in the matter. I do not propose to board the vessel of an enemy in order to try to scuttle my own ship. I do propose to stay on board and help beat back the assaults of the enemy, and if the ship goes down, I propose to go down with the ship. J. A. LONG."

Miss Fannie Fisher has a new novel in press—Irene. We trust that it will add to her laurels and make her purse heavier. We are proud of Christian Reid, not merely because she writes good novels, but because she has the vim and energy to write at all. There are many other Southern ladies, and men too, capable of successful authorship if they would only bestir themselves and make an earnest effort in that direction. Literary work is work and labor, and such labor only as many persons are capable of. Our people have taste and are intelligent, observing thoughtful and well educated. That we have so few authors is because we do not seek to develop our capabilities in that way. We can only blame ourselves.—News & Observer

DIED.

At his residence in Scotch Irish township Rowan county, N. C., on the 12th of May last, Mr. John Luckey, one of the oldest, most venerable and remarkable men of this county. Born on the 15th of January, 1793, and dying in his 89th year. He lived to see the close of every presidential term, from Washington to Arthur except the latter. Mr. Luckey was a great reader—a man of fine information, and for one of his age, of remarkable memory. He was greatly respected and venerated by all who knew him. He was a member of the Methodist church with the Presbyterian church at Third Creek, and his life, especially that of his declining years, was that of the humble christian, and his end was peace. J. A SUCCESS AT LAST. A GOOD WASHING MACHINE. INVENTED AND PATENTED BY T. J. MERONEY, SALISBURY, N. C. This MACHINE is a plain wooden tank lined with copper or galvanized iron, with perforated pipes in the bottom for the admission of steam, with corrugated rollers, made of same metal, and of sufficient weight. This Roller gathers the air while passing back and forth over the clothes, forcing air and water through the fabric. At some time the steam is thrown up through the perforated pipes underneath from the bottom of the tank. There are wooden strips between the pipes so as to protect them and form a smooth bottom in the tank. The process is simple: any one can operate the machine. First, soap the clothes and distribute them evenly about four or five inches thick in the tank. Turn on enough water to cover them—turn on steam, and move the Roller back and forth until the water is colored. Turn the valve and let the water pass off. Add fresh water, and repeat this three or four times, and you find the clothes are thoroughly washed without the slightest injury, for there is no rubbing process employed, the Roller having rounded edges so as to prevent any wear or cutting. A lace handkerchief can be washed as well as a bed quilt. This Machine is in operation at Meroney & Bros. Machine Shop, where they will be manufactured at as small a cost as possible. Any one having a steam boiler in person can do the work of ten wash women in one day and do the work better. It is a splendid thing for boiling grain and vegetables for stock. It is also a good wool-washer. State and County rights for sale by the Inventor. 19:1f
