Democratic State Ticket.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE AT LARGE: RISEN TYLER BENNETT, of Anson.

FOR SUPREME COURT JUDGE: THOMAS RUFFIN, of Orange.

- FOR JUDGES: 1st Dis.-JAMES E. SHEPHERD. 2d Dis.-FREDERICK PHILIPS. 3d Dis.-ALLMAND A. MCKOY. 4th Dis.-JAMES C. MACRAE. 5th Dis.-JOHN A. GILMER. 6th Dis.-WILLIAM M. SHIPP.

Probationers.

In the old times our enterprising, progressive and zealous Methodist brethren, used to hold "camp meetings" out beneath the sheltering boughs of the great trees of our forests. They were interesting occasions and never failed to draw large crowds of people, many of them camping on the ground in the rude shanties or booths, for a week or more while the meeting lasted. All the preachers of the denomination within a certain radius were expected to attend; and when eight or ten of them got together there, and got fairly to work, a "revival" was just as confidently expected as it was prayed for. In every crowd in any community may be found certain highly nervous people, easily moved by external things. The ardent, touching prayers of these truly pious and zealous men, and the glorious songs they would occasionally sing, never failed to go to the hearts of really attentive people, whether saints or sinners. Under their powerful influence the highly nervous was almost sure to fall and cry out in an agony of conviction of sin. The preachers would get hold of such, and endeavor to lead them to the exercise of faith, and often were successful in completely turning the current of a life from evil to good. But now, and then they would strike a convicted sinner who failed to satisfy their practiced eye. A certain indefinable something would suggest to them that this fellow is not honest—he is putting on—he is holding back something—he is trying to cheat his way into the church. Professed conversion in such cases usually follows rather speedily after conviction, and the subject rises with shouts of joy, and perhaps goes through the congregation shouting "glory, glory hal-leluiah," keeping it up with such persistence that it becomes a nuisance. By and by one of the preachers, or a cool-headed deacon, will go and take him by the arm and gently lead him off to one of the tents, where the man can exhaust himself without annoying others. At the end of the week when the work is finished, and the converts are to be canvassed, his case is sure to form a specialty in the discussions which ensue on the question of admission to the privileges of the church. Some one present will know the man, perhaps from his infancy, and through some such an one it comes to be known that the man is not a reliable character. Perhaps he has a reputation for lying, or is fickle and unsteady in all his ways. Politically, he is pig one day and puppy the next; socially, is an easy-going sort of fellow that makes no sharp distinctions between white and black or good and evil. Or is an inveterate speculator, seeking money or personal advantage in everything he touches. Some one or two of the older preachers would "black ball" him right away and be done with him; but the younger are in the majority and insist on giving him a trial—"let his works prove his profession," say they; and so the man is put on probation; and this brings us to the point we wish to make, which is that the WHITE "LIBERAL" DEMOCRATS ARE PROBATIONERS.

It is true that the negroes had nothing to do with their conversion; they never offered a prayer for them; they held no camp meeting to invite and gather them in; they never pitched a single tent that they hoped or expected would ramble into the gizzard of a weak democrat and turned him away from his ancient faith. The work of grace in the hearts of these high-toned bitter, and invective enemies of the negroes was not invoked or instigated by them. They know no more about it than the rest of mankind, and that is that these zealous fellows in a new born faith came before them mysteriously; and although their professions are loud and look pretty fair, and their shouts are joyous, and their abuse of bourbon democrats is bitter as gall, they fail to inspire the grand confidence necessary to conviction; and hence, if Johnson, Price, Clingman, Leach, and all the lesser fry expect ever to attain to full fellowship, they must bring forth works meet for repentance, and thus demonstrate their willingness to be trusted. In other words, the negroes are willing that these new converts may meekly follow and learn of those who have borne the heat and burden of the last fifteen or eighteen years, and after due probation some of them may stand a chance for the thing now most evidently coveted, a bit of an office or a spoonful of Government pap. Joy to the probationers.

Philadelphia Record: That deadly enemy of large oil wells, paraffine, is playing havoc with the big wells of Cherry Grove. The oil is so light that it chills rapidly, and wells that start off at one thousand barrels daily fall to do two hundred within a week's time. Under these circumstances tubing of wells is almost useless.

The County Democratic meeting here on Saturday was a spirited body, very harmonious and cordial, and did their work well. They met for the purpose of nominating candidates for county offices, including a member to the Senate and House of Commons. Lee S. Overman, Esq., nominated on the first ballot, proved to be the choice of the county for the Commons. Towns people generally desired a man from the country to fill this place, we think, Mr. Overman himself being of that number. But the country people took a different view of the subject, some of them at their primary meetings declaring in favor of him. He led off on the first ballot with the largest vote of any other person voted for. In his speech of response Mr. O. said that he had not sought the place, really did not desire it, and would freely give place to any one whom his fellow citizens might hereafter think could serve them better.

Theo. F. Klutz, Esq., was declared to be the choice of Rowan for the Senate. Mr. Klutz will serve, if Davie county concurs in his nomination. He gave us a rousing speech after the business of the convention was finished.

All the present board of county officers—Sheriff, Coroner, Clerk, Register of Deeds, Treasurer, and Surveyor—were nominated unanimously for re-election. It was a well merited compliment to these incumbents, for they are all competent, faithful, polite and devoted public servants.

The correspondent of the Raleigh News-Observer says, that Gen. Clingman squarely endorsed the present county government system, and also denounced the Morrill tariff. The General will have to be worked over, for it is evident he didn't talk right.—This correspondent was enthused by what he saw and heard, and closes his letter thus:

"After the exercises the Democrats were jubilant. Tate will beat Pearson four hundred votes, and Bennett will carry Burke by three hundred. Gen. Clingman said to a true blue, mistaking him for one of the purchasable, 'Well, upon the whole we have managed very badly. There was no concert among us. If we continue to disagree in this way we will be beaten one hundred thousand in the State, and the Vance dynasty will remain in power!'"

Late in the evening a Democrat handed around the hat with the explanation that he supposed that the Democratic band had done all they promised to do for the leads, and he wanted to hire them to play the dead march on their way to the depot. So ended the first performance of Cooper and his reverend. QUI VIXIT.

State Fair.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the Premium List of the North Carolina Agricultural Society for the Fair of 1882, to begin on the 16th of October next, and have been requested to mention that a copy will be sent to any person who will forward his address to the Secretary W. R. Gulick, at Raleigh, N. C.

An examination of the Premium List shows the following figures, given for the information of all interested:

Table with 2 columns: DEPARTMENTS and PREMIUMS. Includes categories like Field and Garden Crops, Live Stock, Poultry, Orchard Products, etc., with corresponding premium amounts.

A REASON.—Congressmen Armfield and Vance passed through last Wednesday on their way home from the adjourned Congress. On being asked when Senator Vance and his investigating committee would begin work in this State, they said: "The two republicans were imprompted to come down at once and continue the work, but they refused, saying that Mott is our man and we cannot do anything which might injure him, until after the election." So the investigation is closed until after the November elections. There must have been some danger to the Dr. or else the investigation would have gone on, and the Dr.'s acquittal paraded in the campaign.

The Charlotte Observer flouts at the heads of its editorial column the republican ticket. The Observer began its department by an attack on the county government system, still professing to be a democrat. Step by step, as if endeavoring to lead its readers into the same path, it took the downward road. It has reached its destination at last. By the way, this same paper lectured the WATCHMAN a few years ago, for unsoundness; but now behold!

It will be seen that the Code Commission recommended an amendment to the law concerning magistrates which will deny them the right of electing each other to the board of County Commissioners; and another, requiring them to carry out the will of the people and grant license to retailers, under certain restrictions. Both are good.

It is plainly visible that the original panel of the republican party are indignant at the present condition and prospect of politics in North Carolina. Dr. Mott and his revenue men and "assistants" have raped the republican party and many of the more respectable old members seem to feel that there ought to be some hanging done.

The Internal Revenue collections in North Carolina, for the year ending 30th June, 1882, sum up $2,267,414.52.

Alabama has sent to market the first bale of new cotton.

The crops over a considerable district along the Kinnar river, in the Caucasus, have been destroyed by fire.

One death and 18 new cases of yellow fever at Brownsville, Texas, on the 7th. There were seven deaths at Matamoros and an increased number of cases.

The election in Alabama went Democratic.

A negro mob in Georgia attempted to avenge the death of a negro who resisted the deputy sheriff and through mistake killed a man who had nothing to do with the matter.

The President has approved the Naval Appropriation bill, and the Sundry Civil, and some other bills.

COTTON.—Aug. 7th.—12½ at Galveston; 12½ at Norfolk; 12½-16 at Baltimore; 12½ at Boston; 12½ at Philadelphia; 12 at Augusta, and 12½ at Charleston.

Baltimore, Aug. 7th.—Corn 98@91; Oats 56@62; bulk meats—shoulders, 11@13; bacon shoulders 12; clear, rib sides 15; hams, 15½@16½; lard 14; rice coffee 8½ to 8; Sugar, A soft, 9½.

Boot and Shoe business in Boston brisk, with an increased demand from the south, mostly in small orders. Charleston is to be lit with electricity.

TWO CHANGES SUGGESTED.—We learn from the Chatham Record that the commissioners appointed by the General Assembly at its last session to revise the statutes of the State, have completed their labors, and are now prepared to report the result to the Legislature. The commissioners are three in number, viz: W. T. Dorch, of Wayne, Jno. Manning, of Chatham and John S. Henderson, of Rowan. The Record calls attention to two important changes in the existing law suggested by the commissioners. One of these would take from the county commissioners all discretion in regard to granting licenses to retail liquor, and requires that licenses be granted to all applicants who comply with certain conditions. The other takes from the justices of the peace the right to elect any one of their own number a county commissioner.

MADISON LEACH, second son of the man who "has been acting with the democrats" for these long years, remarked to a friend that he wanted it distinctly understood that "he is a democrat," and is not chasing the will-o-the-wisp Liberalism. These sentiments are worthy of young Mr. Leach, and young Mr. Leach is worthy of such sentiments. Let it be remembered, Virtue has its reward.

There is to be a lawsuit over the skeleton of Guitau. Seville is on his way to Washington to contest the will of Guitau and get possession of his bones, for which he is offered a handsome price. Mrs. Seville has, however, a better title to the bones than her husband, and she has shown a disposition to realize on them.

A man who does a mean thing is almost sure to blame his wife or some friend for having provoked him to it. So also with politicians: when they desert their party they invariably lay the blame on the party managers, to whom they apply ugly names.

The fight in Congress on the tax bill goes on. The contest grows out of the fact that the Republicans only wish to "throw out a tub to the whale" (the people) while the Democrats demand that a ten per cent. reduction shall be made, or something that shall be of real benefit to the people.

STRAIGHT OUT.—A call has been issued from mountain republicans (about Asheville) calling a straight out republican Convention to nominate a ticket. The Mott mongrel don't satisfy the original panel of the republican party by at least 45 degrees.

A dog carried from Guilford county to Indiana, did not like the climate and returned to his North Carolina home, recently, pretty badly worn by his tramp.

A man seven feet seven inches high was found with his throat cut in New York Tuesday. He committed suicide.

Congress adjourned on the 8th. Gen. Bob Vance and Col. Armfield passed up the road last night.

The fruit fair opened at Greensboro, yesterday.

Going-Gone.

"General" Leach—he was never in the war, we believe, but gets his title, like Charles Jones, from the old field militia system,—is out in a letter to his brother bolter of the Charlotte Observer, announcing to an agonizing and trembling country that he is no longer a Democrat. He gives the public to understand that whilst he has professed to be a Democrat all along he has never been one really. So we have understood and have long suspected. Jim Leach has neither fooled nor disappointed us. We have long believed him capable of doing and saying what he has done and said. He is the Dugald Dalgety of North Carolina politics. He is a veritable political soldier of fortune. In the campaign of 1880, when we listened to his terrible tirades against "G-yardfield" and the "old rotten Radical party," in which he heaped upon the Republican party all of the vials of his ungrammatical abuse, and all of the ridicule which constituted no little of his stock-in-trade as a campaigner, we wondered if he believed what he said, and if there were no good grounds for the many charges that he was "shy" and "swabbing" in his political professions.—Wil Star.

Two darkies of Newbern went to law about a calf worth $3. The cost ran up to $24 and their lawyers had to be liberally paid besides.

It was very like a case which occurred in Rowan years ago, between two white men of large substance about a goose. As reported to us, they kept it in court until the cost amounted to about $1,500, which did not include lawyers' fees.

A fellow in Texas bet $25 that he could swallow 24 raw eggs in 20 consecutive minutes; and while they were getting the eggs he was wondering and planning what he would do with the money. But the party on the other side, with consummate meanness, came in with two dozen goose eggs, and the poor fellow's beautiful visions faded away. He didn't swallow the eggs.

The steamer, Gold Dust, near Hickman, N. Y., exploded her boiler on the 7th, killing 24 and wounding 48 persons.

Political Parties of Egypt.

London Daily News. According to the Vatan, the organ of Arabi Pasha, the following are the different political Egyptian parties:

- 1. The learned men who have studied at El Ashar and the other schools of Cairo and elsewhere. The number of students at El Ashar is 16,000. They belong to the National party, with the exception of 25 Sheiks.
2. The Arab merchants and shopkeepers.
3. The merchants who know how to write and read and study the newspapers.
4. The Sheiks and delegates of the villages.
5. The half million Kofah Christians who embrace the party of the Mussulmans.
6. The army, except the Circassian officers, who are secretly for Ismail Pasha or Halim Pasha.
7. The fellahs who understand politics and hope that Arabi will liberate them from their debts and the tyranny of the Moudirs.
8. The Arabs of the Province of Belahon, who have much resemblance with the Bedouins. The true Bedouins detest politics and the fellahs.

A Grand Convention of the Democracy of this Congressional district was held in this city on Thursday. It was the largest convention ever held in this district, a larger number of Democrats in addition to the delegates attending from the several counties than usual. The personnel of this body was striking—the very best men of the district were here, and the good feeling which prevailed was remarkable for so large a body, divided as it was in support of the various distinguished gentlemen who were claimants for consideration.

The balloting was spirited; the fifth ballot resulted in the election of General Vance, the present incumbent. But with such an array of true men and sound Democrats as Vance, Robinson, Johnston, Mills, Gudgeon and Jones to select from, the convention could not fail to have made a good choice.

Of Gen. Vance it is needless to speak. Known and loved of all men, true, laborious and attentive, conspicuously efficient in all his duties, he will be returned to his place he honors with his usual, if not larger majority.—Asheville Citizen.

A Shocking Scandal in Wilkes.

Statesville Landmark. Astounding revelations have been made this week at Trap Hall, Wilkes county. For five or more years past Prof. C. W. White has been conducting at that place a remarkable flourishing school for boys and girls, drawing pupils from a number of counties and having on his roll more than 100 students. For two or more years past, Prof. White has paid marked attention to one of his female pupils, a young lady of the neighborhood, Miss Nannie Holbrooks, daughter of Mr. H. S. Holbrooks, and it was an open secret that they were engaged to be married. The marriage was to have taken place a year ago but was postponed by White, and lately a knowledge of the fact that the girl had been betrayed was forced upon her family. To cover the shame as far as possible, arrangements were made for her immediate marriage to White, but at the appointed time, one day last week, he was found in his room in a stupor from the effects of a half a vial of laudanum which he had taken. Recovering from the effects of this he appointed last Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock for the marriage. Monday night he had his brother, William White, to steal for him a horse from William Cheatwood, and mounting the horse at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, he rode to Statesville, arriving here in time to take the eastern train that night. Capt. Abe Bryan, an uncle of the deceived and ruined girl, arrived here Wednesday night and commenced telegraphing in all directions. In response to one of his messages he received a telegram yesterday from the policeman at High Point, informing him that he had White in custody at that place. Accompanied by Mr. W. M. Walker, Capt. Bryan left on the 1:30 train this morning for High Point, and will arrive here to-morrow morning with the culprit and take him on to Wilkes.

William White was arrested for the theft of the horse (which was recovered here) and confessed to everything. C. W. White is a graduate of Trinity College, and a young man of talent who stood high in the church and the community. He is from High Point originally, we believe, and, as stated above, has lived in Wilkes about five years. The fall term of his school, which was an exceedingly prosperous one, was to have commenced next Monday, and several young men, on their way to Trap Hill to enter it at the beginning of the session, were in Statesville yesterday, having been turned back by the news of White's atrocious conduct and his flight.

Miss Holbrooks is of a highly respectable family, and with the utmost indignation against White on account of his base conduct, is mingled a general public sympathy for her.

A SUCCESS AT LAST. T. J. MERONEY, SALISBURY, N. C. THIS MACHINE is a plain wooden tank lined with copper or galvanized iron, with perforated pipes in the bottom for the admission of steam, with corrugated roller, made of same metal, and of sufficient weight. This Roller gathers the air while passing back and forth over the clothes, forcing air and water through the fabric. At some time the steam is thrown up through the perforated pipes underneath from the bottom of the tank. There are wooden strips between the pipes, so as to protect them and form a smooth bottom in the tank. The process is simple: any one can operate the machine. First, soap the clothes and distribute them evenly about four or five inches thick in the tank. Turn on enough water to cover them—turn on steam, and move the Roller back and forth until the water is colored. Turn the valve and let the water pass off. Add fresh water, and repeat this three or four times, and you find the clothes are thoroughly washed without the slightest injury, for there is no rubbing process employed. The Roller having rounded edges so as to prevent any wear or cutting. A lace handkerchief can be washed as well as a bed quilt. This Machine is in operation at Meroney & Bros. Machine Shop, where they will be manufactured at as small a cost as possible. Any one having a steam boiler in operation can do the work of ten wash women in one day and do the work better. It is a splendid thing for boiling grain and vegetables for stock. It is also a good wool-washer. State and County rights for sale by the Inventor. 19:1t
