THE "LIBERAL PARTY."

On the first Wednesday in June the so-called Liberal Convention met in Raleigh.

The first man there who opened his mouth was Judge W. A. Moore, then and now a member of the Radical Executive Committee.

There was a special tax-bond radical. This man bench and a special tax-bond radical.

The next man there was the organization of the so-called Liberal Convention, was O'Hara, then and now a member of the State Radical Executive Committee.

Thomas S. Cooper, the new Revenue Collector and late chairman of the State Radical Executive Committee, was also there.

James H. Collins, the Radical negro solicitor for the Raleigh judicial district, was there also and so was John Hayes, of Salisbury.

Another brother and shining light there, was Dr. Richard M. Normant, late Radical candidate for Secretary of State.

Of course a few more-headed ex-Democrats were there, such as Col. T. N. Cooper, ex-Judge W. A. Moore and E. O'Hara, an old-fashioned Radical.

But no man objected that its leading delegates met in the Liberal Convention of the week before.

Do Radical Conventions make men, who are not Radicals, until passing officers.

Do Radicals Conventions permit men, who are not Radicals, to be delegates.

On the contrary the Convention not only recognized Moore, Col. T. N. Cooper, ex-Judge W. A. Moore and E. O'Hara as first-class delegates.

Senator Ransom

Met his appointment at this place on last Saturday. He commenced his speech about 2 o'clock, p. m., and closed at about 5.

For three hours he held the attention of his audience, which, though not large, was made up chiefly of the business men of the community.

We cannot undertake to epitomize the speech and do it justice. It was the most comprehensive, thorough and exhaustive speech delivered here for years.

It was clear and convincing, and must have satisfied every fair minded man that on the Democratic people rests the fate of this State.

They alone have sought and promoted the prosperity of the State and her institutions, and they alone can be depended on for the future.

They have made their record and it is a glorious one. The Republicans have also made their record, but it is without a ray to illumine it.

The Senator's speech should be heard to realize its dignity, and the importance of the subjects of which it treats.

The colored people of Philadelphia held a meeting there last week in which the leading man present, Mr. Purvis, said: "I am tired of this bugabo of the Democratic party. The Democratic party of the past is dead. There is not such a party in existence to-day; it is utterly defunct."

Forgetful of his infirmities, Mr. Purvis warned to his subject, and for more than half an hour appealed to his hearers to disregard the obligations of the past, which he thought had been fully recognized, and stand firmly as independent citizens, reserving their votes for the best men regardless of party affiliations.

COTTON THIEVES.—The Wilmington Star gives the particulars of the pursuit of three cotton thieves in the city, Saturday night last, all colored. They were so hard pressed by the police that they abandoned their boat, containing about one bale in thirteen small bags, and leaped into the river, attempting to save themselves by swimming. The police are sure that one of them was drowned, for he cried for help, and they tried to save him, but he disappeared. The other two were heard puffing and blowing in their efforts to reach certain points, but have not since been seen or heard from. It is believed all three were drowned.

TURN OUT.—There are about 500 Democratic voters in Rowan who rarely ever go to the polls on election day. We shall need these votes this year, for every good citizen, who has watched the course of politics and parties in Rowan, must feel a burning desire in his bones to give Mott-Cooper Republicanism a tall fall.

They have insulted the people by attempting to deceive them with a "Liberal" or "Prohibition Democratic" party and that to alone, to say nothing of their black record, they deserve to be rebuked.

The newspapers say that the comet of 1843 and 1880, and the one now near the sun, are all one and the same. If so, it has lost a part of its tail since 1843. At that time the nucleus was below the horizon, if it had one, but the tail, slightly bent, stretched almost to the zenith. It was visible every clear night for two or three weeks. We credit the same authority (as to its identity) with the prediction that it will, next year, crash into the sun. It only missed the sun this year by 791,000 miles.

THE capital error of the Southern States in the late unpleasantness, it is often said, was in withdrawing from the Union instead of fighting for their rights under the stars and stripes. The "Liberal" Democrats have repeated the error in their efforts at reform, by leaving the party of constitutional government and practicing trample under foot the charter of civil liberty.

THE Democratic party is poor; that is, it has no money with which to hire men to speak and work for its success, and to bribe voters. The Republican party is not only backed up by the government and the people's money, but also by the wealthy manufacturers of the North, the railroad and telegraph kings of New York, who are striving to run the government in their own interest. Let these things be remembered at the polls.

W. H. BAILEY, Esq., has accepted the Democratic nomination for a seat in the next General Assembly from Mecklenburg county. Maj. Fleming was nominated by the County Convention, but having declined to run, the Executive Committee tendered the position to Mr. Bailey. It is believed he will be easily elected. He is one of the best debaters in Western North Carolina.

THE Democrats of New York, who have been split up among themselves for years, have settled their contentions and now for the first time in a great while, present a united front to the Republicans. They have brought out a very popular ticket, and are jubilant at the prospect of a complete victory at the next election.

According to a recent decision in Ohio, on a question involving the right of a railroad company to discriminate in favor of large shippers and to the damage of small shippers, the Court held that the railroad company had no such right, and that the plaintiff in the case was entitled to recover damages, and was awarded $4,558.

A weather prophet in Canada, Dr. E. Stone Wiggins, predicts a disastrous storm on the 11th March, next. Says it will sweep over the North American Continent, England, India and the South of Europe.

We print elsewhere an announcement of the death of Col. McLeod Turner, well known in this place.

There was an earthquake at St. Louis, Mo., on the 27th. It lasted about 15 seconds, during which time there were 12 distinct vibrations accompanied with noise.

Mr. J. B. Cooper, Kirk's Mills, Stately county, is the inventor of an implement or tool for making uniform splits for chair bottoms. It works rapidly and well.

The Tariff Commission was in Wilmington on the 27th. Gentlemen of the city appeared before them in the interest of rice, peanuts and silk, which they represented should be protected.

FIRE.—W. W. Wood & Co.'s tobacco factory, in Winston, burned down on the morning of the 27th. Loss about $40,000, insurance $30,000. H. Seales & Co.'s factory was damaged $3,000.

It is reported that Mott intends to carry Mecklenburg if it costs $15,000 to do it. Money influence is republican strength but the people may laugh at it if they will only turn out and do the voting right.

E. W. M. Mackey, white, was nominated for Congress in the 7th South Carolina district republican convention on the 25th ballot, by one vote. His negro opponents, Lee and Smalls, charge bribery. No Democratic candidate in that district, which is in a stormy condition.

There was a fearful storm at New York last Saturday. The rain came down faster than it could get away, and the streets were badly damaged in some places, the cellars flooded and even the first floor of many buildings in low places; bridges were washed away, and in a few instances buildings damaged.

A Good Cherub Sitting up Aloft. The following is from the Philadelphia Record, and although a little mixed we give it as an outside view of the political situation in North Carolina:

The mongrel combination seeking office depends on the name of Lincoln in North Carolina under the name of Lincoln neither party would trust. They are claiming five out of the nine Congressmen on the hypothesis that thirty thousand Democrats will vote the Independent ticket. Such an action on the part of thirty thousand North Carolina Democrats is not at all incredible, for if there had never been such a thing as political suicide known, the Democrats would have invented it. But this year some good little cherub is apparently sitting aloft to save them from their usual folly, and the Independents of North Carolina will be wiser six weeks hence, even if they are not as cheerful as they now are.

The Republicans of Davie county held a caucus on Tuesday, the 19th inst., and decided, we are informed, upon the following persons as candidates for the various county offices:

For the Senate, Dr. Ramsey. " House, Patrick Cain. " Sheriff, W. A. Bailey. " Clerk Sup. Court, A. T. Grant. " Treasurer, Dr. McJure. " Coroner, Dr. M. D. Kibbrough.

They did not agree upon any person for Register of Deeds, but rumor has it that they would give Meph Eple two weeks to say whether he would agree to go the whole Republican ticket or not before they agree to support him if he concludes to run independent. "Darcie Times."

Never despite the day of small things. The stalwarts of New York wanted one vote to control the Republican State committee, and they forged a telegram from Collector Robertson, substituting Mr. French to act for him. The fraud succeeded; the stalwarts won the State committee, the committee won the organization of the convention won Folger, and the nomination of Folger won the new State committee and the control of the organization for the year. The forger is now exposed, but the stalwarts have begged all they wanted, and they don't care how much half-bred waiting around there may be over the fraud. Cameron couldn't have done it better, but Gould is as smart as Cameron.

We find the following in the Montgomery Advertiser: "There was a meeting of colored Republicans at the United States Court-room last night, which was variously addressed, James K. Green being President. Resolutions were adopted asking that Judge Brickel, Peter Hamilton, D. D. Shelby, and George Turner, be appointed by Governor Cobb to visit Choctaw county, and enquire into the truth or falsity of the wholesale butchery which is said the negroes were contemplating." They can be no objection to such an investigation. What the people of Alabama desire is truth and justice.

It is a good time now to pay your respects to the weeds that have grown up since the corn, &c., was laid by. Go in with a sharp weeding hoe, or better still, a good briar hook, and cut all down, and thus destroy a host that would spring up next year, if the seed were left to nature. Put them all in the compost heap, or use them to stop wash outs that have been started by the late heavy rains. It is a good time to clear the fence corners and the ditches of the weeds and briars that have come up during the present Summer.
