A SUCCESS AT LAST.
A GOOD WASHING MACHINE.
INVENTED AND PATENTED BY
T. J. MERONEY, SALISBURY, N. C.

THIS MACHINE is a plain wooden tank lined with copper or galvanized iron, with perforated pipes in the bottom for the admission of steam, with corrugated Roller, made of same metal, and of sufficient weight. This Roller gathers the air while passing back and forth over the clothes, forcing air and water through the fabric. At same time the steam is thrown up through the perforated pipes underneath from the bottom of the tank. There are wooden strips between the pipes so as to protect them and form a smooth bottom in the tank.
The process is simple; any one can operate the machine. First, soap the clothes and distribute them evenly about four or five inches thick in the tank. Turn on enough water to cover them — turn on steam, and move the Roller back and forth until the water is colored. Turn the valve and let the water pass off. Add fresh water, and repeat this three or four times, and you find the clothes are thoroughly washed without the slightest injury, for there is no rubbing process employed, the Roller having rounded edges so as to prevent any wear or cutting. A lace handkerchief can be washed as well as a bed quilt. This Machine is in operation at Meroney & Bros. Machine Shop, where they will be manufactured at as small a cost as possible. Any one having a steam boiler in operation can use one of my machines at small cost and with satisfactory results. One person can do the work of ten wash-women in one day and do the work better.
It is a splendid thing for boiling grain and vegetables for stock.
It is also a good wool-washer.

A Live Lizard in Indiana Stone.
On Friday of last week, while getting out stone in his quarry, a mile south of Kokomo, Geo. W. Defenbaugh made one of the most wonderful discoveries probably of the present age. It became necessary to split a massive slab of stone when, to his great surprise, he found firmly imbedded in the solid rock a species of lizard of light color, with eyes, but apparently sightless, alive and active. When first found it did not appear to possess any life, but in a few moments was very lively. The lizard had been imbedded in this stone prison house for perhaps hundreds of years, feeding on nothing and lying in a comatose condition. Scientific men consider the find most wonderful. The lizard is now alive and in the possession of Mr. Defenbaugh.
If a dog loses its paw, and a rooster loses its claw, does it make orphans of them?

The San Francisco voter's ticket at the late election contained 90 names.
Here is the way Leach talks when he goes North. The Philadelphia Times says:
"James M. Leach, who is mentioned as the 'Malone of the old North State,' admitted to a reporter in New York yesterday that Hubbell sent a corruption fund of $10,000 into North Carolina, and added the Malone of the tar heels, 'we gained two Congressmen.'
Leach is a seeker and a reformer of the Arthur type. — Wtl. Star.
The following is respectfully submitted to those Democrats who stayed at home and came near letting the Radicals capture the State. Says the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle:
"The Republicans expect to carry the Virginia and North Carolina electoral votes in 1884 by a judicious expenditure of money. They argue, from recent events, that a comparatively small sum will effect the object."
Philadelphia Press: If it were potatoes on pork that had been cheapened by overproduction instead of steel rails there would have been general felicitation. We should all have rejoiced in the cheap supply and have thanked heaven for it. Why should we not equally rejoice and be thankful for cheap iron? What better right to consideration have the iron-makers than the potato-growers and the pork-raisers when overproduction brings glutted markets and cheaper prices. — News & Observer.

HOW TO MAKE A HANGING GARDEN.—Take a printer's towel as the basis. You may have a little trouble in securing one, as the craft usually hang on to a specimen so long that parting with it is like losing an old friend. Carry it home the same as you would a pane of glass, being very careful not to bend it. Suspend it by the four corners in a bay window and sow flax, lettuce, or any other seeds you may wish to cultivate upon it except pumpkin. The soil is too rich for that class of vegetable. Sprinkle carefully every morning, and in a few days it will be a lovely illustration of the old saying that nature abhors a vacuum.
The Wife.
A delicate attention to the minute wants and wishes of a wife tends, perhaps, more than anything else, to the promotion of domestic happiness. It requires no sacrifice, occupies but a small degree of attention, yet it is the fertile source of bliss; since it convinces the object of your regard that, with the duties of a husband, you have united the more punctilious behavior of a lover. The trivial tokens of regard are really a much way in the affections of a woman of sense and discernment, who looks not at the value of the gifts she receives, but perceives in the frequency a continued evidence of the existence and ardor of that love on which the superstructure of her happiness has been erected. To preserve unimpaired the affections of her associate, to convince him that in his judgment of her character, formed antecedently to marriage, he was neither blinded by partiality nor deluded by artifice, will be the study of every woman who consults her happiness and the rules of Christian duty. The strongest attachment will decline, if it suspects that it is received by diminished warmth.

Nobody proposes free trade in America, and still less a "murderous raid on the tariff." Under free trade we get no revenue. Under prohibition we get none. A tariff for revenue and only for revenue, is the just middle ground. Is both moderate and conservative. The present tariff—the tariff we propose to reform—is a war measure. It levies a murderous tax upon the people. It is the author of our overgrown monopolies and lop-sided fortunes. We propose to reform it altogether, and we are not frightened by the owl's cry that, because the fatted millionaires of monopoly are going to have some abatement in their power to rob the poor, the country is going to pot. The people are paying through the present tariff, five hundred millions of dollars in bounties to protect monopolists. This money is wrested from laboring men to be put in the pockets of millionaires. We propose to expose its details and stop it. It is robbery. It is swindle. — Louisville Courier Journal, Dem.

GRASS ON POOR LAND.—To get grass started on poor land the land should first be well cultivated and then top-dressed with what manure can be had, however small the quantity, to be well harrowed in and the grass seed (whether clover or timothy) sown without any grain. It is a mistaken notion that some grain should be sown with the grass in order to protect it from the sun. The moisture which the grain extracts from the land is of more importance to the grass than any shading could possibly be. It may probably contain some weeds the first year, but after that it would be a rare thing to find any to interfere with the grass.
