INVENTED AND PATENTED BY

T. J. MERONEY, SALISBURY, N. C.

THIS MACHINE is a plain wooden tank lined with copper or galvanized iron, with perforated pipes in the bottom for the admission of steam, with corrugated Roler, made of same metal, and of sufficient weight. This Roller gathers the air while passing back and forth over the clothes, forcing air and water through the fabric. At same time the steam is thrown up through the perforated pipes underneath from the bottom of the tank. There are wooden strips between the pipes so as to protect them and form a smooth bottom in the tank.

The process is simple: any one can operate the machine. First, soap the clothes and distribute them evenly about four or five inches thick in the tank. Turn on enough water to cover them—turn on steam, and move the Roller back and forth until the water is colored. Turn the valve and let the water pass off. Add fresh water, and repeat this three or four times, and you find the clothes are thoroughly washed without the slightest injury, for there is no rubbing process employed, the Roller having rounded edges so as to prevent any wear or cutting. A lace handkerchief can be washed as well as a bed quilt. ☞This Machine is in operation at Meroney & Bros. Machine Shop, where they will be manufactured at as small a cost as possible. Any one having a steam boiler in operation can use one of my machines at small cost and with satisfactory results. One person can do the work of ten wash-women in one day and do the work better.

☞It is a splendid thing for boiling grain and vegetables for stock.

☞It is also a good wool-washer.

LOCAL.

To-night there will be a social dance party at Maj. P. N. Smith's.

Last evening there was a pleasant surprise party at Mr. W. S. Negus' home, on Fulton Street.

The colored people of Rowan will celebrate Emancipation day, Jan'y 1st, 1883, in this town, with banners, a procession and speeches.

The negro who insulted Mr. R. Vanderford, and whom he knocked down with a rock, died on last Wednesday night. It is a clear case of accidental killing.

On Christmas day, while Mr. John Murphy was waiting on customers in his store some one reached over the counter and took out his money drawer and contents. It was not missed until the thief had escaped.

New Year Calls.

In the subjoined list will be found the names of those who will receive on New Year's day:

Miss Beulah Stewart and Miss Mamine Mock, with Mrs. W. H. Overman.

Miss Columbia Boyden and Miss Belle Boyden, with Mrs. W. S. Negus, 4 to 10 p. m.

Mrs. Rankin and Miss Addie White, with Mrs. Jos. White.

Miss Julia Clement and Miss Lizzie McCorkle, with Mrs. L. H. Clement.

Miss Jennie Coffin,

Miss Maggie Davis and Miss Alice Leak, with Mrs. Chas. Price.

Miss Kerr, Miss Wilkes and the Misses Newman, with Miss Fannie McNeely.

Miss Hattie Bringle, Mrs. A. H. Boyden.

Miss Fannie Neely, with Miss Ella Brown.

Mies Lila Marsh and Miss Sallie Bruner, with Mrs. C. G. Viele.

The town ordinances were practically suspended on Christmas day, for the purpose of allowing the small boy the pleasure of popping his holiday cracker. But the streets were crowded with grown up colored men boys, who were drinking deeply. These were armed with guns pistols and fire crackers, and proceeded to make the day hideous with noise and loud profanity. At times ladies were forced to take shelter in stores to escape the flood of profanity from half drunk men on the streets. It was A SHAME AND A DISGRACE to the town. As might be expected there were fights occasionally. Mr. Rosco Vanderford was insulted by a negro, whom he promptly knocked down, when he was only rescued from probable death by a citizen and the town Constable, who were compelled to guard him through the streets with drawn pistols, so furious were these drunken colored men.

It is due the better class of colored people—those who have applied themselves and have attained a knowledge of things of "good and evil"—to say that they kept in doors and were well behaved. A great many negroes came in from the country to get drunk and have a big time, and to these probably most of the blame should be given.

But the lesson is clear—the Mayor and board of Commissioners must hereafter rule with a strong hand. The laws must be enforced, or riot and bloodshed will be the result.

A single pistol shot on Monday would have been a signal for a general riot and in the town would have been a scene of blood hardly less terrible than those in South Carolina. Let the Mayor hereafter preserve order, no matter what the cost.

Church Festivities.

Of late years the churches have been indulging the Sunday school children with christmas trees. It encourages them in many ways, and is a very pleasant old custom.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, the exercises were opened by a chorus, with Cornet obligato: "Messiah Is King," by Warren. After which Dr. Rumple invoked divine blessing.

Then followed a Cornet Solo: "Overture Religioso" composed for Cornet and Organ, by Prof. W. H. Neave.

Dr. Rumple read here, the annual Sunday school report, giving the attendence of each pupil, and the amounts contributed by each class to foreign missions and to the school.

The choir rendered a "Christmas Anthem," (Williams.) The Solo was sung by Mrs. Thos. Murphy.

Miss Ella Brown, the organist, did her part well, while the soft tone from Mr. E. B. Neave's Cornet delighted the large congregation. The design was very pretty, the end of a room, with fire place and mantle, while high up in the church was the top of the house with chimney above. The presents were hung in profusion over the wall of the room and on the mantle, the floor, and tables placed for the purpose. The effect of this scene was good, and many thought it prettier than the old time tree. The school was seated in the middle row of seats, and ushers carried the presents as the Librarian called the names.

THE LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The exercises at the Lutheran church were opened with a Christmas hymn, and followed by reading a portion of Scripture and prayer, by Rev. W. J. Smith. After a brief address on the "Origin and Object of the Christmas tree" by the Superintendent, the presents were distributed. The work of distribution occupied nearly two hours. This tree was conceded to be the finest ever seen in the Lutheran church, if not really the finest tree ever in the city.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Here the design differed from either of the others; three large arches stood in front of the pulpit, while from the tops of the tall windows on either side, hung graceful festoons of evergreen, looped to the respective arches. These arches and festoons were covered with the presents, while tables near were piled high with pretty trinkets to please the eager, expectant lad and lass, whose enraptured gaze could not be tempted from the beautiful sight, not even by the rich, mellow tones from the grand organ and trombone.

The music was a special feature here and as a matter of interest we present the whole programme of music performed and interspersed among the Christmas tree festivities at this church. Miss Lillian Warnear presiding Organist; Prof. W. H. Neave on Slide Trombone, and Mr. Thos. B. Marsh on Cornet.

The Masquerade Ball.

The young men of Salisbury, (a more generous and openhanded set never existed) have just celebrated their third annual Grand Mask Ball. It was complete in all its appointments. The large dining hall of the Boyden House was filled with spectators, who were entertained by a splendid Italian Band until the gay maskers, made entrance "two by two;" their forms enthralled in gaudy tinsil, airy gauze, and many colors. The picture was complete. Beside those in mask, there was a large number of ladies and gentlemen, en grande tenue. The following is the list of characters represented:
