Both the Charlotte Journal-Observer and the Raleigh News-Observer, have execeded the record in their accounts of the proceedings of the late meeting of the stockholders of the North Carolina Railtond Co., when they say that the purchase of the Atlantic N. C. Railroad was "informally discussed," We learn upon the very best authority that no discussion was either formally or informally had on the subject. It may be that some gentleman alluded to such a project as a thing desirable, but it was not "discussed, "and no action had to justify the publications alluded to above.

The Western Tobacco Journal, of Jul 9th, with gleaned facts from the tobacco districts, speaks in cheering terms of the prospect of the crop, notwithstanding the lateness of the spring.

It is a remarkable fact that the weatl er since the spring rains which retarded farm work to an unusual late day, has been wonderfully favorable to the growth of plants of all kinds, so that, in point of fact, crops generally are promising far beyond what was expected. Fruits are also as forward as at any time at this period of the year.

So he told us some years ago. -There was a bond burning at the treasury department Thursday. These events do not occur now so frequently as formerly, as but few old bonds come in. The Governor, Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney General generally take a hand in the work of destruction. First the old bonds are carefully counted, and the character, numbers, dates, &c., are comcommensurate with the strength of the pared with the records in the big books. This being done and all found correct, Messrs. Hal Worth and H. M. Cowan take the bonds and placing them in the capacious fireplace, "apply a torch," or in modern parlance, "stick a match" to them. His name was Columbus Moore, and he was recognized as one of the parties implicated in the recent cotton stealing cases in this city. He was trying to get out of town and was stealing a ride between two box cars when his foot slipped and was caught between the bumpers. He was brought back to the city and Drs. AN AGED MUSIC BOX .- Memories of by-gone days and ghostly echoes of dead melodies hover around an old "spinet" which now stands in the centre of the depot. Yesterday a reporter saw the antique instrument, which was the first form of the latter day piano. Married in a Great Hurry.

The St. Louis Post Dispatch tells of the "quickest courtship on record," as related by an old resident. It was that of Dr. Nick McDowell, who, driving along the street in his buggy one day, saw a beautiful girl standing at the window. He immediately stopped and hitched his horse, rang the bell, inquired the lady's name, was ushered into the parlor, annonneed his own name, said he was "pleased with her appearance and wished to marry her at once." Nothing but the knowledge that she was actually in the presence of the celebrated physician kept her from fainting. To her plea of sur prise at this unexpected announcement he only replied, "Now or never." When she asked to "take a week to consider" he said, "I am going down street to attend a critical case and have no time to spare right now."

"Give me a day, then ?" "I'll tell you what I'il do. When I am through with this professional visit I'll drive around and get a preacher. If you SAVED HIN 1,800 DOLLARS. have made up your mind to marry me by that time, all right!" and he left her breathless and unable to articulate another word. When he returned they were quietly married. "No cards."

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:-Being a sufferer from rheumatism, I have tried a great many remedies for that complaint, using everything that I heard of or that my frienes knew of, and being treated by the best physicians in this city without effect. I had become discouraged and had concluded there was no help for this disease, when I fortunately met your agent, Mr. John Fish, who told me it was un-necessary to suffer any more, as Kendall's Spavin Cure would do the business, and as I was of the same profession he presented me with a bottle, which I used, and I must say without any faith, in one week I am able to walk without a cane or any other artificial help. I don't know that the Spavin Cure did it, but this I do know, I will never be without Kendail's Spavin Cure again, as I thoroughly believe it deserves its popularity, and has unqualified merit. 1 write this entirely unsolicited.
