CHOLERA!

PROF. DARBY'S
PROPHYLACTIC FLUID.

The most powerful Antiseptic known.

WILL PREVENT THE CHOLERA.

It destroys the germs of Disease.

It is a fact established by science that any disease is produced by the action of germs. These germs are everywhere, and they are the cause of all diseases. They are the cause of cholera, typhoid fever, dysentery, and all other diseases. They are the cause of all epidemics. They are the cause of all plagues. They are the cause of all pestilences. They are the cause of all deaths. They are the cause of all suffering. They are the cause of all misery. They are the cause of all sorrow. They are the cause of all pain. They are the cause of all anguish. They are the cause of all despair. They are the cause of all hopelessness. They are the cause of all darkness. They are the cause of all gloom. They are the cause of all despair. They are the cause of all hopelessness. They are the cause of all darkness. They are the cause of all gloom.

It Purifies the Atmosphere.

It renders all it comes in contact with pure and healthy.

A Baby's Feet.

I. A baby's feet, like sea shells pink, Might tempt, should heaven see meet.
An angel's lips to kiss, we think,
A baby's feet.

Like rose-tinted sea-flowers towards the heat,
They stretch and spread and wink Their ten soft buds that part and meet.

No flower-bells that expand and shrink, Gleam half so heavenly sweet As trod on life's untrodden brink,
A baby's feet.

II. A baby's hands, like rosebuds furled, Whence yet no leaf expands, Ope if you touch, though close upturned,
A baby's hands.

Then fast as warriors grip their brands When battle's bolt is hurled, They close, clenched hard like lightning brands,
A baby's hands.

No rosebud yet by dawn imperiled, Match, even in loveliest lands, The sweetest flowers in all the world—
A baby's hands.

III. A baby's eyes, ere speech begin, Ere lips learn word or sigh, Bless all things bright enough to win
A baby's eyes.

Love, while the sweet thing laughs and Heavens
And sleep flows out and in,
Sees perfect in them Paradise,
A baby's eyes.

Their glance might cast out pain and sin,
Their speech make dumb and wise, By mute, glad godhead felt within A baby's eyes. —Swinburne.

IV. A City of the Dead.

Two miles from Maudan on the bluffs near the junction of the fish family is Missouri river, is an old cemetery of fully one hundred acres in extent, filled with bones of a giant race. This vast city of the dead lies just east of the Fort Lincoln road. We have just spent a half day in exploring this charnel house of a dead nation. The ground has the appearance of having been filled with treaches piled full of dead bodies, both man and beast, and covered with several feet of earth. In many places mounds from eight to ten feet high and some of them a hundred feet or more in length have been thrown up and are filled with bones, broken pottery, vases of various bright colored flints and agates. The pottery is of a dark material, beautifully decorated, delicate in finish, and as light as wood, showing the work of a people skilled in the arts and possessed of a high state of civilization. Here is a grand field for the student, who will be richly paid for his labors by excavating and tunnel-ing in these catacombs of the dead. This has evidently been a grand battle-field, where thousands of men and horses have fallen. Nothing like a systematic or intelligent exploration has been made, as only little holes two or three feet in depth have been dug in some of the mounds, but many parts of the anatomy of man and beast, and beautiful specimens of broken pottery and other curiosities have been found in these feeble efforts at excavation. Who are they and from whence did they come, dying and leaving only these crumbling bones and broken fragments of their works of art to mark the resting place of a dead nation?

Five miles above Maudan, on the opposite side of the Missouri, is another vast cemetery as yet unexplored. We asked an aged Indian what his people knew of these ancient graveyards. He answered:

"We know nothing about them. They were here before the red man."—Maudan Dakota, Pioneer.

GALVESTON, TEX., Aug. 17.—This city is on the verge of a water famine. The cisterns are drained, gardens are dried up and the effect of the drought is plainly to be seen in the products of the vegetable market. For weeks past many persons have been depending upon the liberality of their neighbors for water enough to drink, having exhausted their supplies.

Now most of those who were well provided at the beginning of the dry season are almost completely without a supply.

An indication of the extreme want to which some persons are driven is found in a notice posted in front of one of the best known and most popular restaurants in the city, "closed until it rains." A slight rain has fallen, but not enough to change the situation.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Aug. 20.—The total number of cases of yellow fever at the navy yard up to noon to day is eight, and total number of deaths three. Surgeon Owens is better. Two attempts were made to pass the cordon last night one party attempting force, the other offered a bribe of $200. The guards bonds have been doubled. No alarm is felt in this city.

Duly Stormer, a young lady aged 17 years, was caught by her apron and wound around the driving shaft of the engine at the Trackville (Pa.) Woolen Mill on Thursday. The foreman of the mill tore her from the machinery by main force. Her spine was injured and she cannot survive.

A Kentucky Romance.

The Love of Two Brothers and Two Sisters:

Fairmount Independent.

In a certain part of our county there lived a family in which there were two brothers just entering upon the prime of youthful manhood; a short distance from them—in fact in the same neighborhood—there lives another family in which there are two sisters, also in the prime of maiden-hood, beautiful, fascinating and attractive. These young people being near neighbors, and coming in contact with each other often, almost naturally it would seem, fell in love with each other, the eldest brother with one of the sisters and the younger with the other. All went smoothly for a time, and these young people enjoyed themselves, and dreamed bright dreams of the future, and no doubt in imagination constructed fair-ry palaces of love, and gardens, like Paradise, which should only be filled with beautiful flowers and fruits of happiness and unalloyed enjoyment. Then a matter of course, the question of marrying arose, which must be referred to the parents of the young ladies for approval.

The eldest brother had no difficulty in obtaining their consent to his marrying the young lady, and the wedding day was fixed upon. Then the young brother went to the parents and made known his attachment for the other sister and their mutual desire to "splice and travel the road of life together." But the old folks were decidedly opposed to having more than one of their girls marry into "that family," and plainly informed him that if he wanted a wife he must go elsewhere to get her, intimating that he should de-stist paying further attention to the young lady in question.

But the young man was determined that if his brother married one of the girls he would marry the other. So he went to the young "lady of his love," and told her the circumstances of the situation, and desired her, if she loved him, to prove her love by running off with him.
To this she agreed and the night was fixed upon when they should carry out the mutual agreement. But now comes the strangest part of the story. The two young ladies resembled each other very much in looks, voice, etc., and by some strange freak, when the young man went to the appointed place of meeting, he found a woman there whom he thought was the right one, but she was not. Unconscious of this however, he took her to the place where the marriage ceremony was to have been performed before he found out that he was with the wrong girl. Most wonderful to relate, he thought that after he had gone to all that trouble he would get married anyway, so he asked her if she would have him, and she in order to carry out the joke, said she would, and they were married then and there. It appears that she had overheard him making arrangements to elope with her sister, and knowing the place of meeting, determined to go there ahead of her and thus fool the young man for whom she entertained a secret liking, although she was engaged to be married to his brother. Our informant also states that after they had lived together for some time the elder brother, determining to make the most of the situation, took unto himself the other sister.

WHISTLING FISH.—One of the most singular of the fish family is doubtless the whistling snaker which is sometimes caught in Walker Lake. The fish when caught emits a plaintive whistle which will almost persuade an angler with any tenderness of heart to throw it back into the water. Charley Kimball has one which was caught in a net when quite young. He keeps it in a tank and has taught it to know him and whistle when it is hungry. "When its master approaches the fish pushes its nose and mouth out of the water, and making a pucker with its lips which the human pucker does not nearly equal, whistles some shrill notes.

It appears to have some of the parrot characteristics, and Kimball thinks that in time he can teach it to whistle part of some simple tune."—Walker Lake, (Neb.) Bulletin.

The Republican party believes in stealing the Presidency; it believes in buying the Presidency; it believes in fostering and protecting monopoly; it believes in corrupting elections as a matter of personal pride; it believes in extortionate taxes and in collecting from the people $150,000,000 more taxes each year than the necessities of the Government require.

Let it be understood that we do not mean the great masses of the Republican party, but the leaders and controllers of it. Honest members of the Republican party, should there not be a change?—Tipton Times.

Two of the best farms in Culpeper county, Va., exchanged hands recently.
One of them, containing 1,300 acres, situated on the Rappahannock river, was purchased by Thomas B. Nalle for $50,000 cash; the other, containing 260 acres, near Brandy Station, was sold at $10,000 to the county treasurer, S. Russell Smith.

What Negro Voters Have Done

for the Republican Party.

The New York Sun conveys in a very condensed and interesting shape the effect that the negro vote has had upon the Republican party in five States, viz: New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Connecticut. The figures make this showing:

By the census of 1880, the number of colored males of twenty-one years and over in the several States are as follows:

New York	20,059
Pennsylvania	23,882
Ohio	21,706
Indiana	10,739
Connecticut	3,532

New York was Republican in 1880 and in 1881. A change of 11,000 votes in 1880 and of 7,000 in 1881 would have given it to the Democrats.

Pennsylvania was Republican in 1880 and in 1881. A change of 18,- 000 votes in 1880 and of 3,500 in 1881 would have given the State to the Democrats.

Ohio was Republican in 1880 and '81. Either year a change of 13,000 votes from Republican to Democratic would have elected the Democratic candidates.

Indiana was Republican in 1880; the Democrats, however, needed less than 3,500 votes in order to win.

Connecticut was Republican in 1881.
A change 1,500 votes would have made the State Democratic.

All five of these States were Democratic in 1882.

The Sun inclines to the opinion that the negro is going to quit the Republican party. The conventions that are to be held are called for the purpose of making the negro stick.
The Presidential contest will develop whether the country is practically controlled by this element.

A Problem in Flying.

A London letter says that an interesting discussion at present going on among scientific engineers in regard to the flight of birds, which has considerable bearing upon the flying machine question. It is a matter of observation that birds, without any movement of their outstretched wings and without any apparent muscular exertion, are enabled to rise in the air and move latterly even against the wind. The modus operandi of these movements is a mystery, and scientists are trying to discover the secret. The most plausible theory is that the wings may be placed in such a position as to divert a current of air from its normal course until it represents two sides of an angle, of which the apex is the hinder portion of the bird's body. If that be the case—say the theorists—there would be really two currents of air coming in collision at the apex, the result of which would be a pressure upon the body of the bird at that point, urging it forward with a force far greater than on first thought might be supposed. The smoothness of the feathers in but one direction reduces to a minimum all opposition to a forward movement. Experiments are now being carried out with mechanical contrivances to demonstrate the correctness of the theory and it is stated that the investigators are in a fair way to a discovery of the phe-nomemon, and also to a solution of the flying machine question.

ETIQUETTE.—A point of etiquette recently decided a law suit in a queer way. A German traveler on a railroad train attempted to eat a lunch while on the journey. While putting a piece of Bologna sausage in his mouth the train stopped suddenly, causing his cheek to be badly cut on the edge of his knife which he was using. He sued the company for damages, but his claim was not sustained, on the ground that it is a breach of etiquette to eat with a knife.

THE SAME OLD PROGRAMME.— Now that the farmers throughout the country have been induced by reports of big crops to sell at comparatively low prices for future delivery, and the "futures" have got into the hands of Chicago speculators, reports are coming in that crops will not be above the average, and stiff prices may be looked for. This same old programme is gone through with year after year, and will continue to be repeated as long as money can be made at it.

According to the New York Herald the United States Government is to be sued in the Supreme Court by certain holders of Georgia bonds, to recover the amount. The holders claim that they were issued by a provisional government, established by the United States, and that therefore the latter is responsible. It look so.

Success to them.

When we were ten years old we used to think, while gazing in the window of a candy store, how much we would like to work in such a place.
Now we are affected with a similar feeling while gazing in the window of a bank.

ing 150 pounds on this earth, if transported to Jupiter, would weigh 45,000

"Did you ever think what you come?" "Well, no; but we have often wondered what Vanderbilt would

It is rumored in Washington that ex-Senator Kellogg will shortly make a statement corroborating Dorsey's story as to the pledges that Garfield made and the means adopted for carrying New York in 1880.

Carp raising promises to become one of the most gigantic industries in Georgia.
It is far from inconsequential already, and the stories of fabulous success set afoot by those already in the business will doubtless draw many into it.

An experiment was lately made at Paris to determine the power of a crocodile's jaw. The animal was fixed on a table with its upper jaw connected with a dynameter. An electric shock caused him to give a sudden snap, and 308 pounds were marked on the instrument. It was calculated that the contractile force of the muscle causing the movement was 1,540.

J. J. Newell is telling some tales which cause eminent statesmen to quake in their boots. He claims to have the facts and figures to show that a million dollars were paid to Congress to secure the charter of the Texas Pacific Railway. If the revelations continue, the next House will have its time pretty well occupied in exposing Radical rascalities.—Char-lem.

The internal revenue system was established to aid in the war. The war being over and the war debt more than half paid and the balance funded out of immediate reach, there is no longer excuse for maintaining war taxes. A surplus revenue only promotes extravagance, and the way to dispose of the surplus is to raise no more revenue than is needed. The war tax must go.—Phila. Times.

A contemporary reminds the country that forty-six years ago, in the United States Senate, Mr. Calhoun said, in referring to the abolitionist of the North: "Emancipation itself will not satisfy these fanatics. That gained, the next step will be to raise the negroes to political and social equality with the whites." Was there at the time of this utterance it was considered almost the ravings of a madman, but history verified the prophecy.

A BOSTON MAN ENTIRELY OVER-

COME.

"What do they have that fish up there for?" asked the visitor at the State House, looking at the ancient cod that hangs from the ceiling of the House chamber. "It's an old superstition," replied the Boston man, "that the fish has a sort of representa-tative influence over the legislators."

"And yet," suggested the visitor, "if I am not mistaken, all of your laws are codified." The Boston man fell into a swoon, and when he came to he promised never to try to gull a countryman again.

There is no Arthur boom any more than there was a Mrs. Harris, and the newspapers which are talking about the Daily News attempting
