

Col. Chas. R. Jones, visiting the Louisville Exposition, on being interviewed by a newspaper man on the politics of North Carolina, said: "The sentiment of the people in our State is for a protective tariff more than ever before, and this is especially true of the Democratic party of the State."

What means has Jones more than the rest of us for knowing the sentiment of the State? There has been no public expression on which this opinion of his, so unequivocally expressed, can be based. We might judge by what we know of the sentiment of people around us, we would say the very opposite is true: the Democrats of North Carolina are less in favor of a protective tariff than ever before.

The able speeches of Vance, Ramsey and other distinguished leading men of the State for the last two or three years on this subject has, we think, gone far to quicken a public sentiment on the tariff question, and Jones has certainly ably represented it. The Democracy of North Carolina is in favor of a tariff for revenue alone, a doctrine by no means new to them, but one for which they have constantly contended for the last half century, whenever the subject came under discussion. If there is any change, it is confined to those who expect to become manufacturers and desire to reap the unjust rewards of the Eastern men who have fattened for years at the public expense.

The colored men of New York, 30,000 strong, claiming that they hold the balance of political power in the Empire State, held a meeting last week to organize their strength and isolate themselves from all party relation with a view of more effectively (and profitably to themselves) asserting their power and influence on the politics of the State. Among other resolutions adopted we quote the following:

"In view of the unsettled state of politics at this time and in consideration of the fact that no one of the political parties accord as the respect which we deem due to our numerical strength, we have resolved to band ourselves together into an organization purely nonpartisan, the future course of which will be decided by the course of events, the attitude of parties and the wisdom of the association."

They have heretofore voted with the republican party and their displeasure is properly directed against that party. The above resolution has a business look and will no doubt be met by the business men of the party, whose means and tact are undoubtedly equal to the requirements of the case. We do not expect them to vote with the Democrats who have never promised them anything, but in this State have done all that has ever yet been done for their advancement. The Democratic party will not buy voters.

"The State Chronicle," is the title of a new democratic paper to be started at Raleigh, by Mr. Walter H. Page, of the N. Y. World, and Mr. Oldham, of Winston. We do not see any immediate occasion for another Democratic journal at the State capital, but we trust it may find plenty of room and plenty of work to engage its best talents and energies. The Republican party will not leave any effort untaken to carry North Carolina in the next election, than which, if successful, we believe no greater calamity could befall the State. If the State Chronicle can afford to fight the enemy like the rest of the democratic newspapers, purely on principle, for the sake of truth and right, and without the hope of reward in this mortal life, then we welcome it with all our heart; otherwise its advent may not be productive of much political advantage.

The Germ Theory is now taking the place of guess-work as to the cause of diseases, especially those of a contagious and epidemic character. The microscope has brought to light facts which remove all doubtful disputation as to the producing cause, thus arming science in its contest with the dreadful maladies which now and then destroy the human race by hundreds and thousands. If some one will now find out how to silence the pistol, stop the flow of whiskey, prevent earthquakes, volcanoes, tornadoes, cyclones, railroad accidents, fires and sinking ships, it will comfort many one who dreads these things.

One of the coal miners of Tennessee have sent into this section card rates offering coal at the mine for $1.78 a ton. The freight will probably not exceed $1.50 to $2.00 per ton, by the car load, putting the coal down in Salisbury, for instance, at less than $4 per ton. This will be cheaper than fire wood even at the present low rates of wood; and if these rates are sustained will undoubtedly lead many persons to the use of coal instead of wood.

C. D. writes: "I wish to set grape vines the coming winter for family use alone. What varieties would you recommend, and how many of each kind?" ANSWER: The best bearers and those least subject to disease are the Concord, the Clinton, the Lee, the Delaware, and the Catawba. Five of each properly attended will afford an abundance of fruit for any ordinary family and some to spare. They need not occupy a space exceeding 40 feet square.

A train from Berlin ran into a crowd of people at Stiglitz, Germany, and killed and wounded 40 people who were crossing the track through mistake.

THE SCUPPERNON.—Some one writing in the Index Appeal, Petersburg, very strongly recommends to farmers the planting of one or two vines of this grape. The writer doubtless had in view at the time the farmers who occupy the Eastern part of Virginia and North Carolina, of which section of country it is a native. It has not, however, been found profitable in the middle portions of this State. It grows very well, and some of the vines bear light crops, but we have never yet seen one which would compare with the Concord. It is not improbable that more and better attention to location, selection of soil and labor bestowed would make it more productive. We would suggest to any one in this section disposed to try it, to select a situation well sheltered from the north and northwest winds, with a moderately deep, sandy or alluvial soil, which should be kept clean loose and mellow until the vines have acquired strength and come to bearing. No trimming but plenty of arbor room is required.

Mr. Erwin Harris, of Cabarrus county, is reported in the Charlotte Journal Observer as testing the intensive system of Mr. Farman, of Georgia. Mr. Harris has tried it on one acre, upon which he put 1,200 lbs. of compost, and claims that he will make three bushels from this one acre. He belongs to Poplar Tent neighborhood. We shall be pleased to see a final report on Mr. Harris' experiment; and to announce that his estimate has been fully realized.

Foul air was the death of a colored well-cleaner, says the Saluda Argus, on Monday, and came near killing two others who went to his assistance.—Rain down water into a well having foul air as quickly as possible when life is endangered. Well cleaners should always send down a lighted candle or a pine torch before going into a well. If foul air is present the light will go out instantly on reaching it.

A man in N. Y. undressed and laid down on the floor of his room in a third story building and went to sleep. Next morning his dead body was found on the ground under the open window of his room; and it was apparent that the man had wakened during the night and mistook the window for his bed.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, thinks Handley will be elected Governor of Ohio. He declares his opposition to Prohibition, favors a tariff for revenue only, and says that "while Arthur's administration is respectable and satisfactory, there is nothing in it to develop enthusiasm or excite ceasure."

There was a terrible cyclone on the Atlantic, Wednesday of last week, extending, it is estimated, about 400 miles in width. The steamer City of Richmond, and a number of other large steamers were caught in it, and disasters may yet be reported unknown at the present. It is described as exceedingly violent.

Columba Redman, on trial for killing John W. Redman, in Iredell Superior Court, last week, as we learn from the Landmark, was found guilty of manslaughter and returned to the State prison for three years. The good standing of the parties in the county of Iredell, made the case unusually interesting, and attracted a large attendance of citizens at the trial, which was conducted with great ability on both sides.

The Tobacco Fair at Durham will not be held, and the money raised for it will be expended in improvements on the public roads leading into the place. This is decidedly wise. Good roads are more valuable to a community than one big show day could possibly be. Shows are always costly, short-lived and unsatisfactory. Good roads once made, abide with us for years and are a comfort and profit all the time, especially in winter.

An Incident in Judge Black's Life. Philadelphia Times.

In the eloquent introduction to his able annual address, delivered last August, before the American Bar Association, Alexander R. Lawton, Esq., of Savannah, Ga., narrates an incident in the career of the late Judge Black, which is worthy of being recalled at this time. He was speaking of Chief Justice Gibson, and of the change in the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which made it necessary for him to retire from the position of Chief Justice. "His qualities as a man," he said, "and his overshadowing reputation as a magistrate, were such that when, late in life, he was succeeded as Chief Justice and a distinguished young member of the bar declined to take his place, the latter positively declined to claim the central seat, but insisted that his venerable associate should still occupy that place—which he did to the end of his life. Gracious and touching tribute! Honorable alike to Gibson, who received, and to Black, who rendered it."

Prices Increased by Protection.

Mr. W. F. Hughes, of Pennsylvania, in a letter to the American Free Trader, discusses the question of the beneficiaries by the present High Tariff. He says: "It is not a difficult thing to know just whom protection benefits; a very little reading or thinking will suffice for that. The laborer knows that there is something that eats up his earnings fully as fast as he gets them, yet he may not have thought what it is. If we can succeed in exploding the idea that the tariff raises his wages, if on the contrary, we can show him that the blessings (if of a protective tariff consists in the tribute every poor man pays for everything he uses except his bread and butter; if he can be shown that his clothing costs him forty per cent. more than it would without any protection; that the blankets which shelter him, and the furs from the blasts of winter, cost him fifty per cent. more than they should; that his car fares and transportation rates are all higher by reason of the tax upon imported products; in short, if we can make him see that the tariff tax is levied upon all he spends, simply to aid a few rich men to become more rich still, then he may begin to realize the magnitude of blessing he receives through protection, and may suddenly change front and vote to do away with the iniquitous system forever."

WORSE THAN A SOLID SOUTH.—If Malone's history has not been falsified, it is fair to suspect that Virginia, and not the South in general, is in his mind's eye as he lays these plans, and that state success and not electoral votes for the Republicans is his chief concern. Let those Southerners who think the Democrats are so wicked dwell less on the subject of offices and more on the subject of keeping the Democrats out of power by square voting rather than by thrifty trading. The Republican party is not buying shares in the anti-bourbon Stock Company, limited. The party welcomes votes but not offers to sell them. A solid South is bad, but a South for sale in open market is worse. Why do these men join the Republicans? This whole business smacks of the spoils system in its worst estate. These plotters will, however, find that bidding is dull.

NEW IRON AND STEEL WORKS AT CHATTANOOGA.—Chattanooga Times, August 18: "For several days past a gentleman who is at present managing one of the largest iron and steel foundries in Ohio has been in this city. He is associated with several wealthy gentlemen, who propose to erect a large iron and steel foundry in the South for the manufacture of iron rails, iron architectural designs, and general work of that character. He was sent down as an expert to choose the most desirable site, and, after spending several weeks in this region, visiting all the alleged iron centres and carefully weighing their respective resources and advantages, he has chosen Chattanooga. Action will at once be taken."

The competition is open to all silk growers residing in the United States. The premiums will be awarded for the best single pound of cocoons produced during the season of 1883. The lots in competition will be carefully tested by a committee of experts; the silk will be reeled, and the quality and quantity produced will be the basis of award. The distribution of premiums will take place early in the new year, and entries must be made not later than December 1, 1883. The specimens will be shown in glass jars, which must be provided by the exhibitors. The cocoons for which premiums are awarded will become the property of the Association.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The industrial exhibition was formally opened at noon today. Preparations were continued until a late hour this morning. The final programme of the exercises were not announced until very late in the day. Temporary seats were placed in the hall for visitors during the opening exercises before 11:30. The seats on the floor and in the galleries were filled with people who waited the opening, at 12:05 the procession of speakers and specially invited guests started from the northern entrance and marching with the band went to the platform in the main hall. An involuntary play was played on the organ by Leavitt, after which President Bradley introduced the Rev. Horton who offered prayer. After another selection by the band Mr. Bradley made the opening remarks and afterwards introduced Mr. Chas. Francis Adams, Jr., who made the principal address.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The prisoners under arrest at Glasgow upon the charge of being concerned in the dynamite explosion of the 20th of January last, were today removed for trial upon charge of treason-felony. WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Commissioner Evans said today that all the claims for rebate of the tax on tobacco, snuff and cigars numbering 44,580 and amounting to $3,638,030.57 had been filed in his office. No appropriation was made for this purpose when the law was enacted when it was not known how great an amount would be required.

Woman is asserting herself in religions as well as in science and politics. There has a sect arisen in Finland known as Pure by Excellence, whatever that may mean, the belief of which is that woman is so much the superior of man that she must control the family and affairs generally. Her husband is to be a mere household power over the household, and the men must make weekly confession of their sins to her. Great Scott! What have the longers about town to say to that!—Chicago Inter Ocean.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. The most successful Remedy ever discovered in its effects and does not blister. Read Proof Below. SAVED HIM 1,800 DOLLARS. ADAMS, N. Y., Jan. 30, 1882. Dr. E. J. Kendall & Co., Gents.—Having used a good deal of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with great success, I thought I would let you know what I had done for me. Two years ago I had a speedy a colt as was ever raised in Jefferson county. When I was breaking him, he kicked over the cross bar and got fast and tore one of his hind legs all to pieces. I employed the best farriers, but they all said he was spoiled. He had a very large thorough-bred, and I used to notice your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it took the bug entirely off, and he sold after-ward for $1,800. I have used it for bone spavins and wind galls, and has always cured completely and left the leg smooth. It is a splendid medicine for rheumatism. I have recommended it to a good many, and they all say it does the work. I was in Witherington & Kendall's drug store, in a box, the other day, and saw a very fine picture you sent them. I tried to buy it, but could not; they said it would write to you that you would send me one. I wish you would, and I will do you all the good I can. Very respectfully, E. S. LYMAN. Cincinnatti, Ohio, June 3, 1882.

Kendall's Spavin Cure. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents.—Being a sufferer from rheumatism, I have tried a great many remedies for that complaint, using everything the heart of or that my friends knew of, and being treated by the same profession as presented me with a bottle, which I used, and I must say without any faith, in one week I was able to walk without a cane, or any other artificial help. I don't know that the Spavin Cure did it, but this I do know, I will never be without Kendall's Spavin Cure again, as I thoroughly believe it deserves its popularity, and has unequalled merit. I write this entirely unsolicited. Yours truly, H. B. SNOW, C. T.

Kendall's Spavin Cure. Dr. E. J. Kendall & Co., Gents.—Sample of circulars received to-day. Please send me some with my imprint, printed on one side only. Mr. Joe Votts, one of the leading farmers in our county, sprained an ankle badly, and knowing the value of the Kendall's Spavin Cure, tried it on himself, and it did far better than he had expected. Cured the sprain in very short order. Your respectfully, C. O. THIERMAN. Price $1 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. E. J. Kendall & Co., Chambersburg, Pa. Write for illustrated circular.
