

The Vieckburg Herald thinks that with illimitable fields for the production of sorghum in the West and South, added to the millions of sugar lands in Louisiana and Florida, it will be but a few years before we shall become a large exporter of sugar and molasses.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.
The Original and still the Best!

INSIST ON HAVING ALCOCK'S, THE ONLY GENUINE POROUS PLASTER.
One of the most remarkable inventions of the present age is ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. They are the result of years of chemical study, and only time and experience has brought them to their present perfection. Testimonials are received every day of the wonderful cures of Sprains, Weak Back, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Paralysis and hosts of other diseases. Of course the vast sales and great success of ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER have caused numerous imitations to be brought before the public, being called porous, would be the world to understand that they were a similar article to the genuine. We would most particularly caution the public against these humbugs. They contain none of the healing gums that are used in ALCOCK'S, but are simply a combination of lead, red pepper and rubber, and are vaunted in long winded advertisements as an improvement on ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. Beware of the hazy and untrue statements and never use any of these so-called porous frauds.

Alcock's Porous Plasters
Relieve Debility and Nervousness.
ALCOCK'S PLASTER works on the region of the kidneys warms the spinal marrow which is a continuation of the brain, imparting new vitality and power to the spine they strengthen that mighty organ and fill it full of foreign electricity or nervous fluid. Thus they will restore to the busy active brain of man or woman the energy and ability which has been lost by disease, worry or overwork. They restore vitality where there has been debility and nervousness, and prevent loss of memory and paralysis. Physicians highly recommend them for nervous debility, whether arising from dissipation or overwork. They are now known to be the great regenerators of the nervous system and are invaluable in all cases of hysteria.

Weak Kidneys Cured.
CORTOCOOK, N. H.,
March 3, 1880.
I have been greatly troubled with Rheumatism and Weak Kidneys. I was advised to try ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER (had used two other kinds of so-called Porous Plasters which gave me no relief) but one of yours has worked like a charm, giving me complete relief, and I have not been troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Complaint since using them, and I consider myself cured. EDWARD D. BURNHAM.

Bronchial Troubles.
122 C ST., WASHINGTON, D. C.,
January 7, 1882.
I take great pleasure in recommending ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. I was induced to try them by Mrs. Samuel J. Randall, and I found them everything desired. I used four other so-called Porous Plasters before yours, but they were perfectly useless. But immediately upon applying two of ALCOCK'S to my chest, my cold and bad cough were at once relieved. I want you to send me one dozen forthwith. JOHN T. INGRAM.

Spinal Disease Cured.
HAMMILL'S HOTEL, ROCKAWAY BEACH, N. Y., May 19, '82.
ALCOCK'S PLASTER have been of such great service to me and mine that I feel it a duty to state the facts, as briefly as possible, to induce others to use them. My wife for many years was confined to her bed suffering from spinal disease. After spending a thousand dollars in vain effort to get cured, she applied three ALCOCK'S PLASTER to the spinal column, one above the other. In a few days all pain left her. She applied fresh plasters every two weeks and in the course of ten months she completely recovered her health. She could hardly walk across the room; each day she walked a little further, and now she is able to walk five miles without fatigue. She still occasionally applies the plasters to her back, but she has been perfectly well for upward of a year.
LEWIS L. HAMMILL.

CURE OF SPRAIN.
354 MAIN ST., HARTFORD, CONN.,
April 26, 1879.
Will you please send me an ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, 20 inches long by 10 inches wide, for my back. I have weakness of kidneys. I have worn them with the best curative effect, for a week side near the heart, many years—for injury caused by strain and hitting in the army. I could not do without them; I use one about every month. I have on a Belladonna Plaster and don't like it at all, for it has not the power or strength of ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. B. WELLS SPERRY.

"A Blessing in Disguise."
484 ADELPHI ST., BROOKLYN, N. Y.,
March 29, 1881.
No family should be without ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER; their healing powers are wonderful and their efficacy far-reaching and lasting. For years past I have seen and known them to cure and relieve the most obstinate and distressing cases of rheumatism, kidney complaint, bronchitis, neuralgia, lumbago, inflammation of the lungs and throat, paralysis, asthma, spinal weakness, and neuralgic and colds. In my own case they afforded me almost instant and permanent relief. My friends consider them an invaluable and speedy remedy to all kinds of aches and pains. They are a blessing in disguise; and no wife or mother should be without them if she values her peace and comfort and freedom from nervous exhaustion and other ailments. As a strengthening plaster, also for backaches and weakness, they have no equal. I have never yet found a plaster so efficacious and stimulating, or to give so much general satisfaction. Used in connection with BRADNETH'S universal life-giving and life-healing PILLS, no one need despair of a speedy restoration to good sound health.
MRS. E. TOMPKINS.

A SURE CURE FOR BURNS, CUTS, BRUISES AND LAMENESS.
WEST BECKET, BERNSHIRE CO.,
Mass., Jan. 23, 1882.
We could not keep our hands off ALCOCK'S PLASTER, for 20 years we have used them and found them most effective for Burns, Cuts Bruises and all kind of Lameness.
JULIA E. SHAW.

Dressing the Hair.
The new Parisian style of dressing the hair is high in the back and on the head. The "Dejazet" coiffure is composed of two waved bandeaus, which are generally false. The hair is taken up in the back in Chinese fashion and tied rather high; it is then divided into three parts, each of which form a kind of bow with smooth loops. Each of these is fastened through the center with a shell pin. In the "Manola" style the hair is divided horizontally into two parts. The upper part is tied high, and then divided to form puffs, which are arranged in a wreath around the head. The three upper puffs show from the front. The other part of the hair is braided and taken in the center of the wreath. "Empire" coiffure consists of false crimped bandeaus. The back forms puffs and small twists of hair, with low combs placed in the center of the head and on either side of the back. Another style forms two loops in front in butterfly shape. The back is divided into small twisted pieces, which cover the whole back part of the head.

Church Manners.
BY CHAS. F. DEEMS, LL. D.
It would seem an impertinence to say anything to ordinary well-bred people in regard to their manners in church. Nevertheless, there are certain points of behavior which would be modified by thoughtful people, if they see them from the point of view at which they are looked at by a sexton, or an usher, or a pastor.
We propose to give our readers the benefit of our own observations on this subject.
The first important thing is to be in the pew before the minister enters the pulpit. Few hearers have considered the vast importance of this direction. Tardiness in reaching church has a widespread and disastrous spiritual influence. In different churches the ritual is different. Some commence with an exhortation; some with the reading of the Scripture, and some with prayer. To any one of these the ushers ought to give uninterrupted attention; but if you come in to be shown to your seat, you lose the whole effect yourself, and you deprive other souls of the good they might obtain. You injure yourself seriously, because you either think that you are more important than the service of God or at least appear to think so. If you have real reverence, you fail to show it.
A member of the House of Commons in England would disparage his reputation for decency, if he came in when the queen's address was being read by the queen herself. His behavior would not be half as reprehensible as that of a person who should enter a church and disturb the congregation while the minister was reading the Holy Scripture.
You ought to know the precise time at which the service begins, and on Saturday night lay all your plans to be in church. The minister may be making, as in the Episcopal Church, the exhortation to confession. But that exhortation and that confession are exceedingly solemn things, and never to be taken in the mouth without an intense conviction of the grandeur and goodness of God, and the wickedness and sinfulness of man. Who are you, that you dare come tramping down the aisle and slamming the pew door amidst such solemnity? When great companies of singers are engaged at a concert, every man is expected to be in his place before the first note is struck; and in churches where congregational singing prevails, every one is expected to assist, and you should be in your place with composed mind and heart attuned to the service; ready to perform your part or at least, not to jostle those who are already singing.
Sometimes, as in the Presbyterian and other churches, the minister may be opening the service with prayer of invocation. Every worshiper ought to be present at this. In some churches the services is commenced by reading the Holy Scriptures. A minister who discharges his duty faithfully in this department, carefully reads over the lessons, practicing the proper tones of voice, to bring out in the reading the shades of sacred meaning in the text. His whole intellect and soul ought to be just as much in the utterance of the sermon. How much you disturb such utterances you can never tell, but we can assure, from a sad and bitter experience, that ministers are sometimes so much thrown off the track in the reading of the morning lessons that they never fully recover themselves before the close of the sermon. And one late comer may, by the distraction he causes, produce a serious effect upon the manner in which the truth shall be presented to a thousand hearers. Therefore, be early.
A layman would add to the above that, on no account should a preacher be behind time in reaching the church, until the whole congregation become nervous and displeased at the delay. This feeling sometimes becomes so oppressive that some have gone away without hearing the sermon, and all are annoyed by it. This happens sometimes when the preacher dines out, away from home, and where he cannot, with decency, control the time and conduct of the meal, and the vanity or thoughtlessness of his entertainers, hinder him from attending in the expected time.

The Jury System in France.
The jury system is very simple in France. No man can be a juror if under 30 years of age or over 70; he must be able to read and write; must be in possession of his civic and political rights; must not be a laborer, a domestic servant, an official, a schoolmaster or a clergyman. The prefect prepares every year a list of eligible citizens to serve as jurors; ten days before the opening of the assizes the chief judge selects by lot from this panel 36 jurors plus 4, to act as substitutes. A policeman notifies each person selected to attend the court on a certain day and in default he will be fined from 200 to 1500 francs. Valid excuses are accepted.
On the opening of the trial the names of the 36 jurors are dropped into an urn. The prisoner can set aside 12 names as they are drawn and so can the government, but when 24 names have been challenged, the remaining 12 in the urn become the default jury. The judge then nominates one or two substitutes following the importance of the trial.
Ordinarily the foreman is the first name drawn, but the jury when constituted can elect their foreman. After retiring to consider their verdict, no juror can leave under a penalty of 500 francs. The verdict is taken by vote and can never descend below the division 7 to 5; the power of the jury to add on the rider of extenuating circumstances to their finding, greatly facilitates a solution. A juror is only called on to serve once in three years.

A PRETTY APRON.—A dressy little apron for afternoon wear can be made by taking a piece of cheese cloth twenty-nine inches long by twenty-one wide, and after hemming the sides, fringing out the bottom to the depth of four inches; a couple of inches above the fringe draw the threads for two more, and run in either satin or ottoman ribbon of light weight. If the ribbon is pink, embroider in the left-hand corner above it a spray of wild roses in natural colors in outline stitch. If blue, corn flowers are pretty. At the top of the apron make two small gores so that it will fit smoothly, and after binding with the cheese cloth, tack on a piece of the ribbon long enough to tie in a bow at the back.
For one it requires one yard of cheese cloth and three of ribbon, two inches wide. The design for embroidering can be drawn or traced with a pencil from something else.
These aprons are very pretty for girls or little presents, and are both inexpensive and quickly made.

Canning Fruit.
One of the nicest fruits we have when properly canned is pears, but many speak of them as insipid. This fault is more often with the person than the fruit, many thinking it needs only a thin, watery syrup, while it is just the contrary. The fruit should be pared and cut in half and laid in cold water to preserve their color, put them on to boil in cold water without sugar, put on, too, your syrup to boil in a separate vessel, in proportion to three cups of sugar to one of water. When the pears are done you can stick a straw in them, remove them from the vessel with a skimmer, turn the syrup into the water you have cooked them in and let it boil rapidly for twenty minutes then return the pears just long enough to heat through and then lay them carefully in your cans and fill up with hot syrup. These keep nicely in tin cans, though glass is far preferable for everything and the most economical in the end. There is no need of breaking them if they are rinsed out with warm water and then set upon a double cloth wrung out of hot water.
Peaches I have canned the following way, and they were like fresh ones when opened: Pare and halve and lay in water till all are ready. Then put them into four glass jars, without cooking, a layer of peaches and a thin layer of white sugar; when your jar is full set them in warm water covering nearly to the top, let the water boil and then fill up the jars with hot syrup, which you must have in a separate vessel on the stove, and seal immediately.
Plums will always burst and lose their shape if put on in cold water and allowed to cook up; pour boiling water over them; this will toughen the skin. We can plums to use in winter in combination with stewed prunes. It makes a nicer sauce than either fruit alone, and delicious pies. Grapes and elderberries canned together make a very nice fruit for pies in winter.
The best grape jelly is made from green grapes taken off about the middle of August. It is light colored and is much nicer flavor than when they are ripe. In some localities the wild crab apple is very plentiful. These make one of the very nicest jellies, and for sweet pickles are better than the other kinds.
Wash them and put them on to boil in cold water. When you can stick a fork into them easily, remove them from the fire. The skin will be curled up all over them, this can easily be removed with a pen-knife; place them in a stone jar and pour over them a hot spiced vinegar, pretty well sweetened. This should be heated every morning for a week and poured over again; then when cold, tie closely with newspaper and cloth over it. Jelly from them is made the same as any other apple jelly. We make from ripe grapes a spiced jelly that is very palatable with meats. It is made as you would any other jelly, and then add one quart of juice to a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, and a quarter of a teaspoonful of ground cloves.—Christie Irving.

A Great Water-Power FOR SALE!
The most extraordinary unimproved Water Power on the Yadkin River is for sale at low figures. It is situated at the head of the Narrows in Stanly county, 8 miles from Albemarle, the county seat; 13 miles from Gold Hill, and about 28 miles from Salisbury. It is one mile from the public highway leading to Salisbury, from which road it is easily accessible down to the water's edge. The peculiar feature of this property is that it is a natural stone dam which makes about a six foot head of available water. The dam runs at an angle of about 20 or 25 deg. up the river nearly all the way across, gradually diminishing in height as it approaches the opposite shore. A race of 400 feet in length will add from 12 to 14 additional feet of head, making the grand power of 18 or 20. There is any quantity of building stone and slate of excellent quality, on the premises, easily transported by water.
This excellent power may be used for GRIST AND FLOURING MILLS, COTTON & WOOLEN FACTORIES, REDUCTION MILL FOR SULPHURATED ORES.
It is conveniently near the mines of Montgomery, Stanly, parts of Cabarrus, Rowan and Davidson Counties to make it a custom mill, for the reduction of ores, with the great advantage of being in the center of the mining districts named above. The ores within easy reach could not be worked out in a century.
This water power with 10 acres attached is offered at $2,500, with the option of 100 acres at $2,500. The lands are valuable for farming purposes; the situation healthy, the society good, and church and school advantages very good. Persons wishing further information may address "Watchman," Salisbury, or Mr. J. R. Littleton, Albemarle, N. C.
