"Bury the Solid South with a bloody shirt shroud," was P. A. Blades' advice to a Republican meeting in Detroit, Michigan. And yet there are Southern men who repeat this bloody speech against the South and all they can do to put us under the dominion of a party who would, if they could, make the men and women of the Southern States hewers of wood and drawers of water for those of the Northern section. It is intensely sectional. Its inception, its development and all its acts since its existence, have been sectional. It made war on the South against the letter and spirit of the constitution, impoverished and plundered as like thieves, and after the war was over, did all they could to "put the bottom rail on top"—to degrade and exterminate the spirit of the white people by elevating the negro above them. All the laws were framed with a bloody shirt purpose, and we were disposed of ancient rights. Mr. Blades thinks the work of subjugation should still go on, and that Blaine is the man to promote it. It is astounding that white Southern men can give their support to such a party.

Gen. SCALES met with a frightful accident on the 15th instant, while crossing Cove Mountain, Jackson county. At a point in the road where the mountain rises like a wall on one side, and with a yawning precipice 100 ft. in depth on the other, the breaching gave way and the buggy in which the General was riding ran upon the horse and set him to kicking and plunging in a furious manner. The buggy was upset, throwing Gen. Scales down the precipice, 50 feet of which he descended and caught in the brush of a tree top. The horse and buggy went to the bottom—the horse not killed. Gen. Scales reached the road again, and found himself with whole bones but dreadfully bruised and scratched. He was consequently prevented from meeting several of his appointments, but is again in the field to the great satisfaction of his friends.

The Philadelphia Times says that nowhere in this country is the buying and selling of votes carried on so extensively, openly and shamelessly as in the New England States, but especially in Maine and New Hampshire, where "the rural voters, a large number of small farmers, who in other localities have a recognized position as independent and honest, go to the market with their votes. They sell one of them at a price that would disgrace and surprise the manipulator of votes in a city ward."

This is in striking contrast with our Southern farmers, who, as a rule, would not more sell their votes than they would sell their wives and children.

If the Radicals and Traitors should succeed in this election, the present party system would be abolished. And one-fourth of the counties in North Carolina would be governed by negro magistrates and negro Commissioners. Are white men of our State willing to see one-fourth of their territory pass into the hands of negroes? If not, stand clear of Radicalism and Traitorism.

It is the habit of men to complain of high taxes and bad government. We often hear it here, and sometimes from men who have not voted since the war. Those who do not vote have no right to complain of any taxes or any misgovernment. Do your full duty by voting and working for the party that has the best record for faithfulness and honesty, and then if any good can come of complaining you can do it with consistency. Under our form of government, it is not only the privilege, but the duty of every citizen to cast his ballot. It is no excuse or justification to say you are disgusted with politics. If the political edifice is out of place and crumpled, use the leverage of one ballot, at least, to restore it to decent shape.

What is the practical effect of the present tariff laws? Simply this: the people have to pay more for iron, salt, sugar, woolen goods, shoes, hats—all the necessities of life—than they are worth in England and other countries. The people are outrageously taxed on necessities to build up powerful monopolies at the North. This is what protection means, and the Radical party is pledged to protection. Democrats insist that duties on imports should be reduced to the actual necessities of the government. Then your plows, trace chains, hats and shoes could be bought much cheaper. Protection is against the poor man.

It is one of the duty free articles of import, substitute therefor some other article of prime necessity. To carry purely personal objections into an election is childish, far worse. To refuse to vote for a man whom you know to be capable and honest—the candidate of a good and honest party—because he is personally disagreeable to you, is practically, in this State, to vote for a bad man—the candidate of a bad and abandoned party. There is too much at stake—your happiness and prosperity and that of your children, it may be—to let wretched motives get the better of your calm, patriotic judgment.

If the negroes of this State have one particle of gratitude they will vote for the party that have given them free schools, normal schools and an asylum for their insane. What has the Radical party done for them? Let the negroes contrast the deeds of the two parties, and say which is entitled to their gratitude, and support not only in this but in all the Southern States.

Radical newspapers are continually crying about the danger of mismanagement and dishonesty by County Commissioners, under the present system of county government. The system has been in operation long enough to develop something of the kind if it was calculated to do it. Let these blind leaders of the blind point to a single instance among the hundred counties in North Carolina where a Board of Commissioners have been unjust, tyrannical, or dishonest.

The Republican party while in power issued about $20,000,000 in State bonds for railroad purposes and did not build a mile of road and left nothing in the State Treasury to show for the bonds issued. If they had continued in power to the present day, does any one suppose they would have completed the Western N. C. Railroad to the North?

Grover Cleveland is most loved and respected by those who know him best. He is the Democratic candidate for President. Blaine is most despised and distrusted by those with whom he has been intimate. Blaine is the candidate of the Radical party. Take your choice.

About three million dollars have been spent on public schools in this State during the last seven years. Witness what the Democratic party is doing for the education of the people. This is a party of deeds. Wherever it has full power it makes good all its promises.

We are now taxed 12 1/2 cents on the $100 of property and 37 1/2 cents on the poll for public school purposes. And the school children receive the benefit of this tax. Don't forget that there was a time when the Radical party taxed the people for public schools and no public schools were taught.

What a fine stallage fund the Radicals will have to begin on if the country should be entrusted with Blaine as her next President—over four hundred millions of surplus lying idle in the Treasury at Washington. It would never be distributed in the States for educational or any other purposes.

The Republican party claims to be the party of popular education. How is it, then, that three years of their rule—1868, 1869 and 1870—they only expended $3,000 for schools; while in one year of Democratic rule—1883—$725,000 was expended for this same purpose? Let the hypocrites answer.

The people of North Carolina pay $2,377,000 annually to the Revenue officers. For this they are repaid by the tyranny and outrages of these same irresponsible officers. Away with the Internal Revenue!

"DON'T FEEL LIKE WORK."—It makes no difference what business you are engaged in: whether you are a preacher, a mechanic, a lawyer or a common laborer, you can't do your work well while you are half sick. Thousands try to, but all in vain. How much better to keep your organs in good order by taking Parker's Tonic when you feel a little out of sorts. It would be money in your pocket. One hour of good, restful health is worth half a dozen hours full of labor and pain.

If we can get our honest, conservative white men to come out and vote in November, we shall make Radicalism in North Carolina a thing of the past, and confound those who have been calling us a "doubtful" State.

Mr. Blaine's position in regard to the internal revenue is that it ought to be continued perpetually; that it should never be abolished. See his letter of Nov. 29, 1883. Dr. York supports Mr. Blaine.

Be sure you are right and then go ahead. This is old and homely, but it is nevertheless good. It is good advice in business and morals, and not less good in politics.

The shooting scrape between Mr. Chase, Heitman and Mr. Baxter Shemwell, of Lexington, was before the Court a few days ago, and they were required to give a bond in $2,000 each to keep the peace.

Blaine is going to "stamp" Ohio. Evidently Mr. Blaine is alarmed. But the fact that all the Presidential candidates who ever tried stamping were defeated, should warn him to leave off before he begins.

Lieut. Gov. Jas. L. Robinson has been nominated by the Democrats of Macon county to serve as their Representative in the lower House of the next Legislature.

The Republican orators are very fond of reading from Mr. Blaine's letter of acceptance. It would be edifying to hear a few of his letters to "Dear Mr. Fisher."

Cleveland like an honest man said, "Tell the truth." Blaine like a sneak wrote, "Burn this letter." The two men are reflected in the three words each used.

Blaine has answered the questions filed by the defendants in the libel suit, but we cannot see that his case is made better.

It is rather late to discuss the propriety of a "joint discussion."

The case of the State against David H. Reid, for killing Wm. D. Hedrick, several weeks ago, on the Court House steps in Lexington, was before the Court in Davidson last week, and after a thorough examination of testimony, and no evidence of murder found against the defendant, the acting solicitor, assisted in the case by F. C. Robbiss, Esq., submitted to the Court that there was no ground of action and advised the Court to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, which was done.

The Western North Carolina Railroad was finished at last by the zeal and pluck of private individuals putting their own money into it. Governor Jarvis says that these gentlemen would not have touched the enterprise if they had believed the government of the State would pass into the hands of the Republican party, backed by a negro population of incompetents. The Republican party in this State has never fostered or built up anything of value to the people.

Our thanks are due the managers of the Virginia State Fair for tickets of admission, Oct. 23d and 24th, at Richmond, a city highly favored by many North Carolinians. The occasion will undoubtedly be highly interesting.

Our thanks also to the managers of the W. N. C. Fair Association for a complimentary ticket to the Fair to be held at Asheville, N. C., Sept. 23d, 24th, 25th and 26th.

Meeklenburg tax payers have returned only 4,831 sheep, not quite one sheep for every eight persons of her population. But they returned one dog; while Rowan, with a little over one-half the population of Meeklenburg, returned two dogs.

BUSINESS FAILURES.—A telegram dated New York, September 19th, says, "The Business Failures for the past week, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, number 195 for the United States, and 23 for Canada and the provinces—a total of 218, against 220 last week. This number is nearly identical and the distribution of failures almost the same as in the previous week."

Ten miles north of Auburn, N. Y., an insane woman was recently found locked up in a pen, where she had been confined for over fifty years. Her people are said to be rich, but did not like the expense of sending her to an asylum.

There is an improvement reported from Italy in respect to cholera. New cases at Naples less than 400 and deaths 97 in the last 24 hours.

A twelve year old girl of Framington, Mass., packed a valise with her mother's valuables amounting to $60,000 and ran away to Boston to meet a young man and elope with him. She was arrested and the valuables restored and she sent back to her mother.

The State Chronicle at Raleigh has become a daily paper. The Chronicle has deservedly taken a high stand among the newspapers of the State.

Visitors to the mountains and elsewhere are returning, and so far as we have learned they have had pleasant and invigorating excursions.

THE "GAME CHICKEN."

A Pen Sketch by a Richmond Man.
Mr. Chesterton, of the Richmond Dispatch, was in Charlotte and heard the joint discussion between Dr. York and Gov. Jarvis. He thus writes his impressions of York:

Dr. York, now a member of Congress, is the man, who the people down here say, is trying to Mahonise North Carolina. He is about fifty years of age, and speaks with a great deal of quiet self-confidence. He largely discards the personal pronoun I from his vocabulary, and says "Now they tell you that York," did so and so.

In Illinois the objection is made against Carter Harrison that he is too fond of using a big I. Dr. York is free from that; he says York nearly every time. Whether or not fully educated or desire to make himself better understood by illiterate people I know not, but he says "heard" for heard, "America" for America, and "foreners" for foreigners, "Kain-tucky" for Kentucky, and so on; and he told how on a certain occasion "the Democratic party squandered like a flock of partides." He said, to-day that he never went to school "but three sessions in his life, and two of them was to a dirt-road school house." For all that, and inasmuch as he has been a good deal in public life, I fancied that he was sometimes clinging to homely phraseology to bring himself square down to the level of his work.

York's speech was simply an arraignment of the Democratic party, especially on the tariff and on the Blair school bill, and he charged them with having failed to pass a bill that he (York) introduced to repeal or modify the internal revenue. He charged present hard times [of which I see little evidence in the North Carolina towns] to the agitation of the tariff. "Why," said he, "the tariff agitation has done it. The banks are flattened, the manufacturers are flattened," and he thought what was wanted was the triumph of Blaine and Logan. He pictured the horrors that would ensue with this country flooded with pauper labor, and that under our present Government our people never thought of emigrating to other countries.

"Never heard," said he, of but about six men emigrating from the United States, and they went to Mexico after the war, and the gallinippers and black goats like to eat them up, and they were mighty glad to get back." [Laughter.] Talking about the Blair bill, York grew eloquent about the value of education of the poor man, and asked the "Suppose war comes, who fights the battles of his country?"

"The answer came quick enough from some one in the crowd—'General Scales.' [Great cheering.]

It was a complete set-back for York, for you must know that the old soldier element here is strong, and Scales, Democrat, has a beautiful war record, which York has none. York upon getting this unexpected answer, switched off on to another branch of the subject.

Hearing him monotonously droning the old tune of the poor man's wrongs, and how he (York) would right them, I could shut my eyes and think I was hearing a Mahone orator in Virginia.

Another Cleveland Scandal.

The Clerical Force at Work Again, With the Approval of Mr. Blaine.
Boston Dispatch to the World.

The Republican managers are becoming alarmed and threaten to resort to extreme measures to turn the tide which has set in so strongly against Blaine since the recent publication of the missing Mulligan letters. They find that hundreds of hitherto active Republicans who were almost persuaded to vote for Blaine have come out openly against the Plumed Knight within a few days, and scolding every avenue, they have at last resolved to send forth another clerical scandal against Mr. Cleveland. His public record in every position he has filled is unassailable, and the Rev. Mr. Ball, of Buffalo, has started, it is said, another scandal.

The second installment it is said here, is to be accompanied by several affidavits from more or less obscure persons to give it a semblance of truth, and that having been submitted to him, its publication has been approved by Mr. Blaine. Your correspondent has been unable to get a glimpse at the contents of the documents, but is assured by some of Mr. Blaine's most ardent admirers that failing to reach Governor Cleveland through Mayor Sheriff and Governor, it is proposed to break his growing popularity by disseminating scandals.

It is also given out that owing to its high moral and religious tone the New York Sun is to be selected as an avenue for disseminating the scandal. The word passed along the lines since the arrival of Blaine in the State is: "Look out for a fresh scandal against Cleveland."

Col. Ed. E. Sumner, of Lincoln, a gentleman well known and highly respected in Charlotte, died at his home in Lincoln at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and was buried yesterday. He was a clever, whole-souled, genial man and his death will be sincerely regretted by his many friends in this section of the State. —Charlotte Observer.

The Eloping Epidemic.

OUR NATIVE TIMBERS.—Mr. R. W. Best, of Washington, arrived here last evening. He is sent out by the United States department of agriculture to make collections of articles manufactured from North Carolina woods, for exhibition at the New Orleans exposition. This is a compliment to the "Old North State," because such collections will not be made in any other of the South Atlantic States, as it is conceded that in North Carolina can be found all the woods which grow south of the State. Manufacturers of any articles from native woods can have an opportunity of having their business advertised by the United States department of agriculture. Mr. Best desires to obtain samples of all such manufactures.
