Protracted services are being held at the Methodist church in this place under the ministrations of the pastor, the Rev. Joseph Wheeler.

We are pleased to hear from James H. Horah, Esq., now of Morristown, Tenn., that he is very busy and much pleased with his new office of Pension Examiner.

Dr. Jeff. Council, of Boon, Watauga county, was in the city this week on his way to Baltimore, where he intends finishing a course in medicine.

Accidents.—The gluing business is just now coming in, and already cotton gin accidents are reported. Let those who go to run gins make every possible provision against accidents and they will save valuable lives by it.

Everybody fight this away... your nice ice cream... for 90 in the shade! Hurrah for "Hand and Scales" is the cry we have often repeated on Main street close to our office, by an enthusiastic voter who has frozen delicacy.

Lutheran.—The Rev. Wm. Stouffer, will preach to the congregation of the Lutheran Church in this city in Meroney Hall, next Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock. The public are invited to attend.

Speaking at Salem Church.—The Democrats of Locke's township will hold a meeting at Salem church, next Saturday night, Oct. 4th. There will be several speeches delivered, and a Seales and Cleveland Club organized.

The Sunday School Celebration at St. Matthew's church, Rev. T. H. Strohecker's charge, will be held the second Saturday (11th) in October. J. W. Mauney, Esq., Rev. M. Hedrick, Rev. S. Kolthoff and others will be present and say something to encourage all Sunday School workers.

Death of Mrs. Boyden.—Mrs. Jane C. Boyden, relief of the late Gen. Nathaniel Boyden, died at her residence in this place at 11 o'clock, Thursday night last. Her last illness, congestion of the lungs, was brief, lasting only about sixty hours. Few persons have died in this community whose loss was more generally deplored. She was in the 72nd year of her life.

Mr. A. L. Johnson met with quite a painful accident last Friday. After getting a load of lumber at the planing mill of A. L. Hall, Esq., he mounted on top of the lumber to drive home, when his team became frightened at the blowing of the whistle and attempted to run away, and he, in jumping off the wagon, was thrown to the ground, receiving several bruises and a painful sprain of the left knee.

Another Break.—The republicans have been pole-raising again and had another break and back set. They were hard at it Monday afternoon, and after getting the pole as high as the surrounding buildings, about 2 o'clock at night, the upper end snapped off and came tumbling to the ground. This was followed by tremendous yelling. The negroes were holding and hauling the ropes and couldn't take much hand in the merriment.

P. S.—The agony is over, the pole is up, and the negroes were specifying and huzzing until 11 o'clock last night.

BURKE'S SPEECH before the Democratic Club last Friday night, presented a number of very strong points, one of which we will mention here. The speaker could not but feel astonished that honest, patriotic men in any part of the country should be willing to vote for James G. Blaine for President of the United States—a man who, on a salary of $5,000 a year, could spend $10,000 and yet lay up a million of dollars in the mean time. Can any one believe that such a marvelous feat was performed within the limitation of honesty? The answer is no, of course. And yet that is the indication of Blaine's character, to say nothing of the facts which prove him to have debased his official position to the most corrupt uses to promote his pecuniary fortune.

Notes of preparation for fall sporting are already heard. It is a little too early to shoot birds—wait until after the 15th of this month, and then you may shoot, trap or net—not before, without breaking the law; and not then without the permission of the owner of the land on which you propose to hunt. Farmers are becoming more and more interested in their birds and reluctantly give permission to shoot them. Some would rather give you a good fat hen than to have their birds killed. It would be a good public service to spare all birds for several years, except the "English Sparrow," which seems to be regarded as a common enemy, though said to be fine for a pot pie.

SPEAKING AT ENOCHVILLE.

The democrats at and for miles around Enochville had a big day last Saturday—an old fashion whole soul rally—to raise a flag pole and hear speeches. They formed in procession on horseback and in buggies and went out to meet the speakers who had been invited to address them.—Messrs. F. E. Shober, T. C. Linn, A. Leazer, L. S. Overman and T. F. Klutz—who they conducted into the village to the music of a brass band. At a given signal a Seales and Cleveland flag was hoisted up to the top of a most beautiful 125 foot pole by the venerable HUGH PARKS, who is now in his 94th year. The old gentleman who has lived under the administration of every President the country has ever had, is fully alive to the issues of the present canvass, and mingles with the Democratic boys of today to cheer them on to victory. The day was splendidly filled, and we have the most cheering reports as to the probable results of the demonstration.

Mr. Editor: Perhaps it will be of some interest to some of our citizens who are troubled with damp walls in houses—particularly in basements—and are unable to keep paper or paint in good, lasting condition, to know that they can prevent all dampness by applying the following solution with a white-wash or paint brush to the wall, giving the room light and air so as to thoroughly dry and harden the wash before putting on the paper or paint. Take the proportions of one-fourth pound of bichromate potassa to a gallon of the paste or glue sizing. After this drying becomes water-proof and insoluble. The same will be found valuable gluing where imperviousness to water is desirable. Respectfully, E. N. MEDERNACH.

MINING.

T. K. BRUNER, MANAGER.

Bismuth has been discovered near Waynesville, in Haywood county, N. C. Hoover Hill milled 539 tons of gold ore during the month of August, yielding nearly 84 ounces of gold. The falling off in production is caused by dead work done in enlarging the Briol's shaft, and working the ore taken from said shaft, which proved to be poorer than usual.

Catawba county seems to have a small boom in the garnet business. They are shipping them by the car-load from Hickory to the mill at Morganton.

J. D. Stewart is sinking the Reimer shaft with three 8 hour shifts. They have a five foot quartz vein carrying auriferous iron pyrites, some of which is very rich, showing free gold with the sulphurates.

Valuable Coal Discoveries in Stokes County.

Danbury Reporter and Post. Mr. James A. Pepper, head manager and mining engineer of the Pepper mining company of this place, while mining for coal last week, to send to the State exposition, struck on the lands of Mr. John Marshall, on Town Fork, near the C. F. & Y. V. railroad, in this county, a vein of fine, soft coal, four feet thick, and only twelve feet from the surface. He took out several hundred pounds of the coal which will be sent with the county exhibit to the State exposition, and as soon as the exposition is over his company proposes to commence mining coal for market on both Mr. Marshall's and Morris' land. This company has spent a very considerable amount of money and does much toward developing the natural resources of the country.

There are three partially developed veins of coal on the lands of Mr. Cabil Hairston, near Stokesburg, one or more on the lands of Dr. A. Jones, while the out-crops on the lands of Gen. J. F. Poin-dexter and others are very promising. All that is needed to make the coal business one of the foremost industries in the county is the completion of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad to Stokesburg and Walnut Cove; and when the branch shall have been complete to this place it will bring the iron and coal so near together that somewhere in the bounds of Stokes will be the Pittsburg of North Carolina and the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad will be one of the best paying roads in the South.

To the Teachers of Rowan County:

Every teacher of Rowan county is respectfully solicited to attend our Teachers' Association, which will be held on the Second Saturday of each month. If you cannot attend regular, come as often as you can, and it will cost you nothing. There will be three recitations each meeting, conducted by teachers appointed by the Association. Each recitation is to be a model one. We propose to teach the following branches: Arithmetic, Geography, History and English Grammar—commencing at the beginning of each book. The following are subjects for the second Saturday in October: Arithmetic, by J. M. Hill; North Carolina History, by Rev. P. J. Mardoch; English Grammar, by A. W. Owen. We should be pleased to have all the teachers of the county attend the Association and assist us in the noble science of learning how to teach. No teacher will have to pay anything to attend the meetings, and I hope as many as can possibly attend will do so. J. M. WEATHERLY, Pres't.

How He Got A Position.—"I applied for a position in a banking house in Wall street six months ago, and although I proved my competency, they would not take me. I had been down on my luck and looked old and shabby. An idea struck me, I got up a new growth of hair with Parker's Hair Balsam, raised a decent suit of clothes, applied again, and they took me in a minute." So writes a clerk with $2,000 salary. The man's plain. Parker's Hair Balsam gives a person a new face.

SPEAKING AT GOLD HILL, October 9th.

COL. OCTAVIUS COKE will address the citizens of Rowan at Gold Hill, Thursday, October 9. Col. COKE is one of North Carolina's ablest and most attractive speakers, and as an expositor of Democratic measures, teachings, men and methods, he is fluent, profound and true. The people of Morgan, Providence and Gold Hill will miss an intellectual feast if they fail to attend.

THIRD CREEK, OCT. 9.

The Hon. DAN'L G. FOWLE will address the people of Rowan at Third Creek on the 9th instant. Large preparations are being made for it. Messrs. Shober, Klutz, Overman and Linn, will also be there to say a word if need be. Music by the Salisbury Cornets, and a basket picnic are announced. A pleasant and entertaining time is expected. The ladies are invited to attend.

A revival meeting is in progress in the Methodist church at High Point.

The Issue.

This is the Edmunds bill. What does it mean? A negro walks into a white school. The teacher says, the law makes a distinction between you and the white children, because of race. That is the truth. The teacher refuses to let the negro be a pupil. The teacher is sued in the State court by the negro who at once removes the case to the Federal court. The Edmunds bill says that the law making the distinction because of race or color is void, and that judgment must be given as if no such law existed. The court would be bound to issue an injunction forbidding the teacher from rejecting the negro pupil.

So much for the mixed school. The bill is intended to force mixed schools.

See the record when Sumner's civil rights bill was before the Senate. Edmunds was its special champion. Merrimon and Hanson and the Democrats fought it inch by inch.

Mr. Sargeant moved an amendment—"Provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit any State or school district from providing separate schools for persons of different sex or color, where such separate schools are equal in all respects to others of the same grade."

Mr. Edmunds asked for the yeas and nays. Twenty-one, mostly Democrats, vote "yea" on the amendment. Twenty-six, all Republicans, voted "nay," among them Edmunds.

He is for mixed schools—mixed not only as to color, but mixed as to sex. Mr. Edmunds said page 4,171, Record of May 22, 1874, "what the constitution authorizes us to do is to enforce entire equality." The bill provided for mixed schools. Mr. Edmunds was the particular champion of that part of the bill. The bill passed, twenty-nine Republicans voting for it—Edmunds among them; and sixteen Senators voting against it, all Democrats we believe.

Mr. Edmunds is the advocate of mixed schools—between the races and between the sexes, and his new bill now pending provides for just that. Any negro boy under the bill can force a public school teacher to admit him to a public school in which white girls are taught!

Mr. Edmunds and the Republicans have voted for that before—they will vote for it again. The bill is pending. It is on the calendar for action. The issue is again raised. It must be met. To your tents, O Israel!—News-Observer.

York on County Government.

Dr. York now pretends to be opposed to the present system of county government, and tries to make it appear that by it the people are practically disfranchised and deprived of their rights. But when the change from the system of '68 was under consideration and the present system proposed, Dr. York not only favored it but was one of its warmest advocates. On February 13, 1871, the Democratic members of the Legislature issued an address, giving reasons why a convention should be called, and among them the following on the evils of the then existing county government system, which the Raleigh Chronicle produces: "The present county and township governments are intolerable evils. Their cumbrances and inefficiency, their expensiveness, and the numerous avenues to peculation and extortion which they open up, are grievances which should be brought complaints and remonstrances from all parts of the State. We believe there is an almost universal desire for the restoration of the old county courts, as the simplest, cheapest and most honest system of county government ever devised, and for the abolishment of the existing system, with its wheels within wheels crushing the people with burdens."

Conspicuous among the names appended to this address are those of Tye York, of Wilkes, (now Mongrel candidate for Governor), L. C. Edwards, of Granville, (now Mongrel candidate for Congress in the 5th District), and R. M. Norment, of Robeson, (now of Mecklenburg, and a candidate for almost anything within reach.) They are opposed to the system of which they were then such warm advocates and in which they took so active a part in establishing.

They are about as sincere in their advocacy of changing it now as they are pretending to favor the abolishing of the internal revenue system.

The Ohio election is just about two weeks off. It is said that the Republicans have made the campaign there a "question of finance." The marketable votes will be all bought up by Elkin and his crowd. A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says: "I may put it in a bolder way than is polite, but when you get down below the gloss and glitter of the surface the ugly fact is clear that the politicians expect the floating, ignorant, and purchasable voters in Ohio to decide the election. Many of them cannot read. Some do not see the light of day for months in the year. Still not in ignorance or need, but in cold blood they propose out of the rush and struggle, to make something for themselves. Do you wonder the real work is being done in the dark, and no one dares to predict the result?"

The cholera victims in Europe the last four months sum up 13,132.

Federal Supervisors.

We understand the Federal supervisors of elections are to be asked for by the Republicans. It is rather odd that we should hear such a thing for as yet no application has been made for the appointment of any such Federal officers to spy upon our people. The law is that when ten men in any county prior to any registration of voters or prior to any election, make known to the judge of the Circuit court in writing their desire to have such registration or such election guarded and scrutinized, the judge shall open his court and appoint for such voting precinct as may have applied in manner above prescribed, two citizens voters of the voting precinct, who shall be of different political parties, and who shall be known as "Supervisors of elections." And so, under the law, before the court can be opened, application is to be made by ten men "of good standing" in some county. Second, before any appointments can be made for any precinct, application must be made by ten men in good standing in that precinct; and thirdly, only qualified voters of the precinct can be appointed.

These supervisors are not to be interfered with under penalty when in the lawful discharge of their duties. Their duties are defined as follows: "Supervisors of elections shall have no authority to make arrests, or to perform other duties than to be in the immediate presence of the officers holding the election, and to witness all the proceedings, including the counting of the votes and the making of a return thereof." They have no authority to do more than this. Supervisors are to receive no pay.

As Democrats we have no objection to numbers being present at any box, and taking down a true account of all that passes. But as citizens of North Carolina we do object to the Republican party running to the Federal court to have men appointed to "spy" upon our elections. It is a disgrace to the State. It is an insult to the people. It brands our people with the stigma that they cannot have an election without the oversight of the Federal court.

We call on the people of North Carolina to note this thing and to repudiate it. The North Carolina election law requires that the judges of election, "the State supervisors of elections, shall be appointed from one political party, and two from the other. There are probably 1,500 voting precincts in the State, and if so, 3,000 Republican judges of election are appointed to hold the election, and 3,000 Democrats. The registrar at each box has the casting vote. These Republican judges of election are there by State authority to make note of all that occurs. They are there to decide as to what shall be done. They are there to do what is done. But the Republican committee proposes to get the Federal court to appoint men to watch these Republican judges of election along with the Democratic judges of election. They want a Republican spy on the ground to make a report of some kind to the Federal court. Let the good, honest, law-abiding people of North Carolina, who know that our elections are fairly held, remember that it is the Republican party that wants to put spies over them.—News & Observer.

The telephone itself is an admitted and established fact, but the identity of its inventor remains unsettled. Professor Bell has the patent, but Daniel Drawbaugh, a Pennsylvania mechanic, claims priority. The rival claims, disputed for years, will soon be judiciously determined by the United States courts. The lawyers are making ponderous arguments pro and con, but the matter of fact to be settled is a very simple one.

Glass Houses.

"Those Who Live in Glass Houses Should Not Throw Stones." "The wicked death when no man pertaineth."

It is amusing to see how tender-footed certain blood remedy proprietors have become of late. They make much ado about "spies and imitators," when none are in sight. The proprietors of B. B. B. would say most emphatically that their remedy stands upon its own merit. Should we attempt to imitate, it would not be those who do not understand the modus operandi of that which they offer. Our own long experience in the profession precludes such an idea. The field for blood remedies is large and broad affording ample room for all present aspirants. We do not desire to close the door against others, but the quickest remedy, does not contain mineral or vegetable poison, does not imitate, and is in the field as an honorable competitor for public favor.

TAPE WORM.

An eminent German scientist has recently discovered from a root extract, an absolute specific for Tape Worm. It is pleasant to take and is not distressing to the patient, but is peculiarly sickening and stupefying to the Tape Worm, which loosens its hold of its victim and passes away in a natural and easy manner, entirely whole, with Head, and while still alive. One physician has used this specific in over 400 cases, without a single failure to void worm entire. Success guaranteed. No pay required until removed with head. Send stamp for circular and terms.
