

An impression has prevailed here in Charlotte for some time that the Richmond & Danville Railroad was inimical to Charlotte's interest, and yet here is a gentleman in Salisbury, who brings suit and gets judgment, because the R. & D. has regarded Charlotte as a competing point in arranging its freight schedules.

No, not because the R. & D. has regarded Charlotte as a competing point in arranging its freight schedules, but because the Richmond and Danville has violated a plain law in the statute book, which expressly provides that it should not discriminate in its freight charges to the detriment of intermediate stations along its line.

Progress is good or bad according to the results. The proposition in this case would not result in unmixed good. It would make the University an overshadowing and (to other literary institutions) crushing educational power in the State.

It is not obvious at first sight, and the party having the responsibility resting upon them would do well to go slow, as doubtless they will, until public opinion shall have made itself known in the premise.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.—The Davie Times relates the death of Peter Jones, colored, while in the act of carrying off stolen corn from the crib of Mr. Eph. Gaither.

The Railroads are operating under charters granted by the State, and must therefore be subject (under their charters) to the Legislation of the State.

Charlotte Observer: The water works of Charlotte failed on test a few days ago, to have sufficient pressure to force the water as high as it was expected and desired it should.

THE COLD WAVE which swept down from the north last week was felt in all parts of the United States east of the Rocky mountains.

From the Wil. Star. Mr. Cleveland's advent to office means a new system of bookkeeping and a close examination of the system that has prevailed for twenty years.

We see in some of our exchanges a rather remarkable tribute of praise paid to Gen. Clingman in connection with the use of tobacco leaves for fresh bruises and hurts.

We would not detract one iota of praise really due Gen. Clingman for bringing prominently before the public the value of tobacco as a remedy for wounds and hurts succeeded by inflammation.

A Good Hint.—The Durham Plant is responsible for the following good hint: "A wag in Raleigh upon being written for by a friend for a list of the candidates for speaker of the next legislature cut the list of the members elect from the News Observer and marking out the names of Republicans sent it to him."

Washington Letter.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20, 1884.

This last week in Congress has been one of unusual interest. Early in the week the Senate declared by a majority of ten in favor of the admission of Dakota; then Senator Beck and Sherman debated the silver bill; the naval appropriation bill was discussed; secret sessions were held on the Spanish treaty, and Secretary McCulloch was confirmed as Secretary of the Treasury in spite of the opposition of Senator Riddleberger.

In the House of Representatives Reagan's Inter-State commerce bill has held the floor through an interesting and, at times, exciting debate. It was on the point of passage without an amending amendment when the colored member, O'Hara, from North Carolina, moved to amend the bill by the addition of a proviso that there should be no discrimination in accommodation on any train of cars against color or race, but that those paying first-class rates should be permitted to ride in any first-class car.

A bill promoting the Bureau of Agriculture to the rank of a Government Department has at last been passed by the House. If it shall be able to run the gauntlet of the Senate Mr. Cleveland will have another Cabinet officer at his council table, and the present Commissioner of Agriculture may perhaps enjoy for a brief period the honors for which he has so long striven.

The inauguration promises to be successful at least so far as numbers, enthusiasm and money can make it so. The number of civic and military organizations that have sent representatives here to engage quarters for the inauguration is unprecedented.

A number of organizations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities will come in Pullman cars and will lodge in the cars during their stay. Others have engaged quarters at hotels, and boarding houses. A number of military organizations will lodge in halls and warehouses.

There is considerable excitement and interest in political and official circles in relation to the Spanish treaty and the Nicaraguan canal. The latter is considered much the more important of the two, while the control of the canal by the United States may seem to be a departure from our traditional policy.

The ship railway scheme of Capt. Eads across the Isthmus of Thaumtopoe will of course oppose it. Mr. Eads is a most unblinking lobbyist and a man of great wealth and plausibility.

From the Wil. Star. Mr. Cleveland's advent to office means a new system of bookkeeping and a close examination of the system that has prevailed for twenty years.

It is an open secret that Gresham was transferred from the Treasury, before he became warm in the chair, because of exposures which were inevitable had he remained, and it is known also that there are a number of subordinates in the Treasury Department who can fearfully tales unfold when relieved of political dependence.

Let the books be opened and let every rascal be exposed as far as is possible and then punished if living. Some of the thieves have gone to their place.

A Good Hint.—The Durham Plant is responsible for the following good hint: "A wag in Raleigh upon being written for by a friend for a list of the candidates for speaker of the next legislature cut the list of the members elect from the News Observer and marking out the names of Republicans sent it to him."

Whether riding, driving or walking, always turn to the right on meeting another in the way.

Office-Seekers From the South.

Philadelphia Times.

The swarm of office seekers from the South with which the country has been threatened for many years, whenever a change of party has been discussed, does not appear to be forthcoming. Inquiry at the hotels in Washington develops the fact that smaller number of Southern people will come to the inauguration on the fourth of March than have witnessed any similar ceremony since the war.

It is not probable that any serious difficulty will be experienced in finding a sufficient number of men willing and anxious to fill the offices in the South. But it is plain that the rush for place will not be anything like that predicted or even so large as it will be at the North.

No more gratifying fact could be published than the above. It would be a great point gained if our young men of the South could be taught to depend entirely on forging out a business of their own on which to rely for support.
