Gov. Seymour's Opinion.

What He Thinks of Mr. Cleveland and His Course.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Colonel Dunlap, of Albany, has returned from a visit to ex-Governor Horatio Seymour, and in an interview tells a very interesting story of the old Democratic leader's estimate of the President elect.

"What?" Col. Dunlap was asked, "is his general idea of the President elect?"

"He looks upon Mr. Cleveland as a big brainy man, conservative in his opinions and likely to be found equal to an emergency. If care and discretion be exercised in the important point of selecting his cabinet, his administration will be not only a successful but a brilliant one. Mr. Seymour, however, fears that too much will be expected of the President at the outset of his official term, and some disappointment may be expressed from the impossibility of making radical changes immediately. It will take time to assimilate the entire executive force of the country to the views and designs of the new regime. This, however, will be facilitated by the investigations which must be made into the doings of Republican officials who have held power so long.

"Irregularities of every nature may be expected to be found in every branch of the public service, and notorious corruption has run rampant. When the books are overhauled, as they must be, such wrong doing as may be found will be punished by the removal of the wrong doers. The public, remarked Mr. Seymour, must be made to realize that we have a clean government. In harmony with this purpose too, the civil laws must be respected. It is Mr. Seymour's opinion that an opportunity is now open to the Democratic party to identify itself closely with the future of this country, to direct its destinies, and to carry on the government in accordance with the traditions of its great leaders, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson."

War Tax.

WASHINGTON, January 29.—The House Committee on claims decided to-day by a vote of 9 to 4 to report a bill providing for the refunding of the tax imposed by the government on States and Territories as a war tax, and releasing those States which yet owe the tax. The following table shows the amount of tax imposed and the amounts due the United States and released under this bill: Imposed, Alabama, $529,313, due $520,822; Florida, $37,523, due $33,993; Georgia, $584,307, due $512,960; Mississippi, $413,085, due $388,342; North Carolina, $576,194, due $190,000; Tennessee, $669,498, due $28,176; Virginia, $729,071; South Carolina, $363,571.

The committee was, yeas, Dockery, Price, Van Aylstine, Tilman, Brown, of Pennsylvania Ray, Newham, Ochiltree, Snyder and Elwood. Nays, Warner, Love, Dowd and McMillan.

Raleigh, N. C., January 29.—

A number of railway projects are being brought on foot. One is for a road from Goldsboro to Fayetteville, connecting at the latter place with the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad. The pressure for this road is strong. The project for building a road from Raleigh to Rocky Mount is again being agitated. A survey of the proposed line from Gaffney City, S. C., via Rutherfordton, Marion and Bakersville, N. C., to Johnson City, Tenn., has been completed as far as Rutherfordton, and is progressing towards Marion.

SUFFOCATED BY COAL GAS.—

A telegram dated Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 26, says, "at Wytheville yesterday, two young men named Vernon and Walter were found dead in a house. It is supposed they were suffocated by coal gas. One of them was in the hallway and the other in the centre of the room. They had probably discovered their danger during the night and made an unsuccessful effort to reach fresh air. They were alone in the house."

McClure at Birmingham.

The Magnificent Resources of Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 29.—Editor McClure and party arrived at midnight last night. Today he was escorted to the big furnaces and the wonderful coal and iron mines, by Mayor Lane and other prominent citizens. He said he did not see how any protection from the government to the mineral region of Alabama could equal the protection given it by the Almighty. He said our Representatives in Congress should earnestly endeavor to secure an appropriation for opening the Warrior river, and then Alabama could run England out of the market. He said many insignificant creeks in the North and West often got appropriations large enough for the opening of the Warrior river to splendid navigation. He spoke in O'Brien's opera house to-night to a large audience. He was roundly cheered for his bright prophecies regarding Birmingham's great future.

A Disgusted Solon.

T. C. Green, Republican member-elect from Mitchell county to the State Legislature, went to Raleigh at the opening of the General Assembly, but finding the Representatives of Democratic faith and principles to be overwhelmingly in the ascendancy, thought there was not much chance for him to "run the machine," so he bid them adieu for his mountain home. On arriving he told his constituency that he could not do anything with but thirteen negroes, six revenue officers and ten Republicans against ninety-five of the best looking, most intelligent Democrats. Heartily disgusted with the situation he did not tarry there even long enough to prove his attendance, but thinks he possibly may return about the last of February to see how things are going.—Hickory Press.

Increase of Crime.

The increase in crimes of violence during the year just closed is very marked. Fairly complete returns have been compiled showing 3,377 murders in the United States in 1884, against 1,494 in 1883. Of suicides there were 1,897 in 1884, compared with 910 the previous year. The number of executions have been 111 against 105 in 1883, a very small increase when the number of capital crimes have been so large. But this is accounted for in some degree when it is known that 219 culprits have met mob violence during this year, against 91 in 1883. Hanging was the general form assumed by these violent acts, only 25 of this number being shot. 157 of the victims were whites, 61 negroes and one Japanese while two women were hung to poles out in Colorado.

HE STUCK TO HIS TENT.—

On a certain street in Denver is a stone mansion of surpassing elegance, which with its ground, cost nearly one million. Directly opposite, on a vacant lot, is a tent, boarded up inside as far as the angle of the roof. The back end of it is pierced with a stove pipe, and in the front end is a door and window. In the window hangs a curtain of costly lace and in the tent is a piano of exquisite tone. The tent itself did not cost over $20. The piano, upholstery and furniture inside are said to have cost over $3,000. The owner planted his tent over 25 years ago and is one of moderately successful Colorado miners, being worth about $50,000. He prefers his tent to any dwelling-house, and says he would not exchange it for Windsor Castle.—Denver News.

A novel craft in these waters, says the Norfolk Virginian, is a floating saw mill.

It comes from Annapolis, and is designed for Eastern Carolina. The owner proposes to go into the rivers, cut timber along the banks and saw it into boards on the deck of his barge. It is believed the enterprise will pay.

Since 1880 the total appropriations for the erection and maintenance of the White House to date amount to $1,700,000.

Too Much Snow.

Stock Dying by the Thousand, and Many Persons Frozen to Death.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Jan. 19.—During the past six weeks heavy snow storms have prevailed throughout eastern Oregon and Washington territory, and the loss of live stock is reported as very heavy. Cattle and horses perished by the thousands from exposure and want of food. The loss of sheep and hogs, however, is reported much greater. In Crook county, Oregon, the per centage of loss is very large, but in Klamath county, just South, the loss is comparatively light. The total money value to the stock raisers is difficult to estimate. The latest reports from the settled regions east of Cascade are that large numbers of persons were frozen to death during the late cold and protracted snow storm.

An Alabama Stay Law.

A Novel Proposition to Make Things Easy.

A dispatch from Montgomery, Ala., of Jan. 28, says: "In the Legislature to-day a strong bill was presented, entitled 'For the relief of the people of Alabama.' It sets forth that by reason of the hard crops, the great financial pressure in the State, etc., leaving the poor debtor to the tender mercies of his more fortunate creditors, without hope of relief without legislative aid, and Whereas, this deplorable condition renders it impossible for a large part of them to pay their debts, therefore Be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any judge of any State court to render any judgment or decree in any civil cases for less than twenty thousand dollars in two years. Section 2 and 3 fixes a twenty thousand dollar penalty for any judge, chancellor or sheriff violating the first section, said penalty to the person suing."

TERIBLE news comes over the wires of a society in New York city called the Knights of Hassan-Ben-Sabbah-Ele Howari.

The society gets its name from a sanguinary Mahometan sect which flourished in Syria in the ninth century. An "Old Man of the Mountain," commands the order. It has a death's head and cross bones for its sign, and a quotation in sanguinary French, from Charlotte Corday, for its motto. Its objects are death, dynamite vengeance, and O'Donovan Rossa and his colleagues are simply blatherskites stationed on the outside to make a noise and draw attention from the real performers.

Shades of the K. K. K., have ye materialized in Manhattan?

JUST IN TIME.—While a protracted meeting was being held in Rensselaer, Ga., a number of ministers stopped with Mrs. J. W. Davis, and she was sorely perplexed as to the means of getting something good for them to eat. She had tried in vain to get a ham in the place—all having been consumed by the large crowd in attendance and but one small chicken could be found. While she was busy in the kitchen preparing the chicken, and wondering how she could provide for her guests, a covey of partridges flew into the dining room. The doors were closed, a number of the birds caught, and the ministers fared sumptuously.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Times continues its onslaught on Parnell, with a stinging article, in which it says: "Parnell's studied silence regarding the dynamite outrages calls to mind his attempt to ignore Mr. Forster's indictment of the Phoenix Park assassins." The Times assures the Irish agitators that their present policy of murder and silence will not pay. They will never succeed in coercing the House of commons into accepting a naked resolution by means of spoliation.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE." Disease in various forms is superinduced by the existence of worms in children and adults. Shrine's Indian Vermifuge will destroy and expel them, thus removing the cause, saving both life and money.

THE FOL KILLER IN CHINA.

The famous Chinese sovereign Te Pot constructed a bridge in the environs of Peking, and ordained that it should be reserved for the exclusive use of passengers who, by way of toll, should cast a number of teals into the stream beneath.

It was no better or more convenient than any one of the other hundred and odd bridges of Peking, but many rich mandarins, from sheer love of ostentation, did not fail to use it and pay toll to the river.

Their names were carefully noted by an obsequious attendant, and at the end of a month their estates were confiscated in accordance with the precept of Confucius. "He who makes a foolish use of his fortune is not worthy to possess it."—Paris Firago.

A Temperance View of It.

If the working people of this country want to know why they have hard times every few years we can tell them. It is not overproduction nor underconsumption, as those phrases are commonly employed. If they had kept the $900,000,000 they spend every year for strong drink in their pockets for the past five years of good times, the present temporary lull in manufacturing and business activity would find many of them able to bear it without being pinched for the necessities of life. It is the overconsumption of whiskey that makes the underconsumption of food and clothing in this land of liberty and liquor. The annual bill for bread, meat, cotton and woolen goods of this great American people foots up a total of about $1,250,000,000. But its annual bill for whisky, beer and the taxes thereon is $1,400,000,000. In other words it unnecessarily drinks $150,000,000 worth more than it necessarily eats and wears. And the people who commit this folly every year are amazed that once in a few years they are hard up, and some of them want to hoist the communistic red flag and destroy everybody else's property because they have wasted their own share of the national substance in rye juice and other riotous fluids.—Boston Traveller.

Nature loves truth so well that it hardly ever admits of flourishing.

Conceit is to nature what paint is to beauty; it is not only needless, but impairs what it would improve.
