LUTHERAN NOTES.—Seven new members were added to St. John's Ev. Lutheran congregation, of Salisbury, on Sunday last.

The pastor, Rev. Wm. Stoudenmire, commences the canvass of the North Carolina Synod in behalf of the Salisbury church, by spending the coming Sabbath with Rev. C. A. Rose, at Franklin and Christ's Church; the 8d Sunday with Rev. W. A. Lutz, Pres. of N. C. Synod, at Enochville.

The last several days here have been very interesting to the Lutheran people of town, as work on their new church is resumed, and the promise of the boss workman has been given to have the church ready for dedication by the 1st of September next.

ELECTION OF TEACHERS.—The Graded School Committee met at the Mayor's office on last Tuesday, and elected the following teachers for the next term: Prof. Keizer, of Enochville, principal.

Mr. H. J. Overman, 1st Ass't. Miss Bessie Neely, 2d Ass't. Miss Florence Woodson 3d Ass't. Miss Cattie Moore, 4th Ass't.

The next session begins the 1st Monday in September. Mr. Jas. Hill was an applicant for his old position (1st ass't.) but coupled with a proviso that he should have a larger salary, and he was probably also an applicant for the principalship, either of which places he wanted.

The committee thought best not to raise the salary, or make Mr. Hill principal. The WATCHMAN does not believe in cheap teachers. Knowing it to be, if not the bane of the educational cause, surely the poorest economy.

Mr. Hill's demand for increased salary was just; for he is worth as a teacher more than was paid him. It may be that the Committee are restricted to certain figures, and in that case there was no alternative.

Mr. Hill will probably have to seek employment elsewhere, and it is just here that the trouble comes in. Something must be done to encourage our really worthy men to remain and help build up the town.

For years the cream of the young men have been obliged to go elsewhere, in order to command fair compensation for their time and labor. These last remarks, of course, have a general application, and are not to be construed as arraigning the School Committee.

Salisbury Woolen Mills. A new sign on Inness street attracted the eye of the writer. "Office of the Salisbury Woolen Mills." Stepping in the office (the old Express office) he enquired of Mr. C. A. Rice, who was handling bolts of cloth.

Who are the officers of the company, Mr. Rice? "J. D. McNeely, president; T. P. Johnston, vice-president; myself secretary and treasurer, and Mr. Ben Franklin, superintendent."

This is an institution the town should be proud of, and it should be the duty of all the citizens of the county to patronize and otherwise encourage this, and all institutions of an industrial nature. They are the nuclei around which is to be built the prosperity our people are so anxious to have come to the town.

A Triple Murder. Robbers Cut the Throats of an aged White Man and Woman and a Colored Boy. Raleigh, N. C., July 6.—A special to the News and Observer from Moncure North Carolina, says: Edward Finch aged 75 years, and his sister aged 80 both white, and a negro boy, about 15 years of age were murdered near there Saturday night between midnight and daylight. The throats of all were cut. It is evident that all had been knocked in the head with an axe. It is reported that several hundred dollars were stolen from the house of Finch. It is thought probable that the robbers became murders to screen themselves from detection.

It will be remembered that this property has been worked as a placer successfully for years, but the often used water has at last filled the pond with clay and choked off the supply. The result has inaugurated shaft mining. It is hoped the new operations may prove as successful as the former.

OPHIR MINE. Messrs. Geo. Merrill, H. R. Perkins and Sam'l Bligh, of New York have recently purchased the Davis property, which lies next adjoining the Bright Mine in Montgomery county. This Davis property was known to be gold bearing, but had never been developed.

Encampment Notes. We copy the following paragraphs from circular No. 1, from the office of the Adjutant-General, concerning the Encampment in this place, to convene on the 22nd: The troops will arrive at "Camp Seales" on Wednesday morning, July 22d, and leave Friday July 31st.

The camp is located on the north side of Asheville, three tenths of a mile from the Courthouse, one-half mile from the French Broad river and one mile and a half from the depot. The situation is high and commands a magnificent view, the ground is covered with grass, and troops will be afflicted with neither dust nor mud. The river affords fine bathing facilities.

Each Regiment will have its own Camp guards, but the Camps will be upon the same field, in sight of each other. While in Camp the troops will be governed by the "State Guards Regulations" and such additional rules and orders as may be prescribed.

While strict discipline will be enforced, ample time will be allowed for recreation and enjoyment. Without discipline the Encampment would degenerate into a picnic and fare, and had better not be held. Nothing will be left undone to secure the comfort and to contribute to the reasonable pleasure of the men consistent with the objects of the Encampment.

For the Watchman. SALISBURY, July 8, 1885. Just at this juncture, a word or two on sanitary measures may be read with more interest than at other times. We have heard the Knell of the church bell frequently since summer weather came upon us and the church yard has some fresh mounds which remind us very forcibly that the great reaper, death, has been at work in our midst.

that offends the nostrils of every body, but each descending shower carries the vile stuff into the earth and it penetrates through the various strata of the soil until it reaches the bottom of almost every well of drinking water in the place. At this season of the year, when the heat causes us to quaff so copiously of natures delightful beverage, we are taking into our system these impurities which poison the blood, generate disease, and cause the needless sacrifice of many valuable lives.

WHAT PARENTS FEAR.—Many persons, especially parents—object to many quack nostrums as likely to engender or encourage a love for strong drink. They are right.
