

Carolina Watchman.

THURSDAY, JAN. 7, 1886.

Congressional.

Since the reassembling of Congress on Monday there have been discussions on the silver question, the Mormon business, and Federal suffrage in Utah; the Bill reported at last session on schools has been again reported.

Mr. O'Neil, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution against the reduction of the tariff on goods of foreign manufacture. Many other resolutions were also offered, but no action was taken on any of them. There were 82 bills reported in the House on the 6th.

Installation.

Gov. Fitzhugh Lee was duly inducted into office on the first day of January, in the presence of the General Assembly of the State of Virginia, the two Houses gathering in the hall of the House of Delegates. The galleries were filled to packing by interested spectators drawn to the place from country and city to witness the ceremony, and catch a glimpse of the man who had whipped out Mahone and re-established the ancient and true Democracy. It was a joyous day to many thousands of the best people of the State.

Those Peddlers.

People in other countries beside Davidson and Cabarrus are being humbugged by peddlers of various sorts. They don't seem to remember the great stove humbug, the clock humbug, spectacle humbug, &c. Sharps think backwoods North Carolinians lawful prey for swindling—Charlotte Democrat.

Yes, Rowan, Stanly, and indeed any of our counties.

Only a few years ago there was a sewing machine peddler in Stanly selling an article for $60, which Meroney of this place was selling at from $45 to $60. A little while before a clock peddler in the south-eastern part of Rowan sold a clock for $35 which the Messrs. Horah of this town sold at $15.

New Whistle.

Machinist Gates of the Western, N. C. Railroad is making a cast iron whistle for locomotives, and it is giving so much satisfaction that the company does not intend making any more brass whistles. The whistle consists of an oblong box with straight slots on each side for emitting steam. The steam strikes on a thin edge of the casting, and the impact produces as much as a soul-racking a noise as the greatest enemy of the human race could desire.—Asheville Citizen.

If this is the new whistle used on the Western road it is a success. As to noise it is an immense improvement on former times. The new whistle is a cross between a steam boat whistle and a calliope, and is therefore suggestive. Capt. Gates is to be complimented rather than censured.

Tenement People.

The Globe Democrat has a chapter on those who fill the tenement houses of our great cities—New York, for instance. The writer says congenital disease of a physical sort is only less terrible than congenital moral disease, and that these people are afflicted with both to an extent fearful to contemplate; and that the only remedy for either is removal. Many are driven into these houses by misfortune, but the great mass of them are there by heredity. "You can tell a natural born tenement dweller by his looks. There is an utter lack of the individual about him—a something unfinished. And he is as naturally depraved as he is physically imperfect. Children sent from them to homes in the country, can rarely be retained on account of depravity, and are soon sent back to the city.

The First Presbyterian church of Columbia, S. C., has been broken up by the Woodrow question of evolution. The members were divided on this question and could not agree on a pastor. There is a majority of Woodrowites who hold the church, and they have elected a man of their own way of thinking. The minority have organized a new church, and provided another place for worship, and elected a pastor who does not believe that man descended from the monkey, nor that the monkey descended from man—the one being just as unlikely as the other.

Remote places in the highlands and inland of Scotland have recently been visited by a health officer who reports "accumulations of the most abominable description at nearly every house." People live in wretched hovels, and warm at fires built in the middle of the dirt floors, amidst smoke and soot. The officer conjectures that the pure mountain air which enters by the cracks of the doors and the smoke, neutralizes the poisons which would otherwise destroy the inhabitants. Nothing like it in this country except the tenement houses of the city may be as bad in some respects.

The Silver Question, it is conjectured, will elicit the earnest thought and attention of the Democratic members of Congress in the course of this and the next month. As yet there has been no effort to hold a caucus on it; but that some action must soon be taken is quite probable. The party is divided on the President's views in respect to it, and will no doubt approach it cautiously in order to prevent disastrous differences of opinion among themselves.

It will be something new in these days for a bill to enter a King's palace and levy on his goods and chatties to satisfy the claims of his creditors. King Ludwig of Bavaria, is said to be bankrupt. He has spent more than he owns, and his creditors are threatening to sell him out, and perhaps compel an abdication.

John McFadden, of Mecklenburg county, says the Observer, had a falling out with two negro hands employed on his farm, Dec. 30, and the trouble ended by his shooting one of them, named Jim Smith, causing his death in a few minutes afterwards.

The same paper reports the shooting of J. G. Hood, at Davidson College, by his brother-in-law, J. W. Summers, Dec. 31. Hood was not thought to be dangerously wounded, though the bullet is yet under his shoulder blade.

The St. Louis Dispatch says arrangements have been perfected in that city for the treatment of hydrophobia after Pasteur's method. The West takes the lead in this as she is also doing in other matters. The distinguished discoverer of the great remedy is represented as one who cares little for money, and makes no attempt to keep his discovery secret.

There is a revival of the iron business of the country. Furnaces which have been idle for some time, are now resuming business; and the impression prevails that this must be regarded as a favorable indication of a general business revival, extending through all branches of trade, to the farming interests of the country as well. It has been mentioned as a drawback that coal has advanced, and may check the iron revival.

Maghall Parks, of Norfolk, Va., advocates an inland water line or canal from New York to Florida. Such a line is already completed from New York to Newbern, N. C., and if, as Mr. Parks says, it could be extended to Florida in two years, the safety from the perils of the sea, and the great commercial importance of such a work to the people along the line should commend it to the favor of Congress.

The good people of Charleston, S. C., seem to be greatly disappointed in respect to two of their railroads, one of which was largely built by the city as a competing line with the other. The managers of the competing line have "pooled" with those of the former, and the city is deriving no benefit for having spent nearly half a million dollars to secure reduction in freights. They have not yet found a remedy.

The Cornhill Magazine (English) says that when men began to bury their dead they did so in the firm belief of another life in the identical form in which they died. That the burial practice is evidence of a materialistic belief akin to that held by savages, who bury with the dead their bows and arrows, his faithful hunting dog, and sometimes his wife.

Steam power, says the Chicago Tribune, is in danger of being dethroned for naval purposes—gas and electricity doing the work for it. A recent experiment at the Brooklyn navy yard, with the Eureka, is the foundation for this prediction. Though to a certain extent successful, that experiment was deficient in power to give speed to a vessel.

The Tax Gatherer is the name of an Illinois paper. The name would work the effectual destruction of the paper in this country—to yell tax gatherer! would be equivalent to asking the people to disperse—in fact, it would be more effective, for they would not disperse for the asking, while the suggestion in the name of this paper would be paramount to a direct invitation.

There was a most brilliant reception at the White House on New Year's day. Thousands of people crowded the halls, among them all the foreign and American celebrities in the city at the time. It was no doubt a very tiresome day to the President, but custom has made it necessary.

The following patents were granted to North Carolina inventors in December last: A. F. Purefoy, Wake Forest, spring bed bottom; J. Y. Savage, Scotland Neck, fertilizer distributor; L. L. Taylor, Seaboard, cotton press; W. A. Guthrie, Fayetteville, printing press.

A marked change has taken place in the price of large tracts of West Virginia lands, prices having advanced most surprisingly. Many lands in that State which a few years ago were unsalable and rated as low as 50 cents an acre, have gone up to seven, eight, and ten dollars per acre.

Dr. Wm. Hammond, of New York, makes the strange prediction that in one thousand years from now, not a man woman or child then living, will have hair on their heads. People are not apt to be alarmed at what is to happen a thousand years hence.

A handcuffed prisoner in Ohio, attempted to draw from his breast a pistol to shoot his guard. A struggle ensued between them, in which the pistol was discharged, the bullet penetrating the prisoner's own heart, killing him instantly.

The New York World is taking special pains to impress the country press that it is the king of newspapers in the United States. All right, "kings" in this world of liberty, may be found in any hovel, north or south, east or west.

The citizens of Austin, Texas, have been greatly stirred up of late by several assassinations in the city. They have organized a strong police force and are using every possible effort to ferret out the perpetrators of these startling crimes.

The Raleigh Register will take a brief holiday. The editor is also the State printer, and the duties of his office require so much time as to make a brief suspension necessary. The Register is a model paper.

The war against the silver dollar is bringing out its friends to such an extent that Congressmen will be apt to go slow in doing anything to depreciate its value.

There were about 10,000 business failures in the United States in 1885—a falling off of four per cent. in number and 50 per cent. in liabilities, as compared with 1884.

Harper's Ferry, the old Government gun factory, has passed into the hands of a syndicate, who propose to erect there large manufacturing establishments.

The castor oil bean (palma christa plant) is now being cultivated in parts of South Carolina in place of cotton. It pays rather better than cotton.

Three members of a family in Illinois recently died from eating pork infested with trichina.

The Georgia Chemical Works, at Augusta, are boring an artesian well on their property.

WASHINGTON.

A HANDSOME REDUCTION OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A Queen Proceeding on the Part of Mr. Acton of the New York Sub-Treasury—Treasurer Jordan Takes Possession of the Office—The Associated Bank Statement, &c.

WASHINGTON, January 2.—The debt statement issued today shows a decrease in the public debt during December of $9,089,939.84; total cash in the treasury, $494,361,954.60; gold certificates outstanding, $105,359,601; silver certificates outstanding, $38,179,465; certificates of deposit, $18,790,000; old demand and legal tender notes outstanding, $346,738,806; fractional currency (less the amount estimated as lost or destroyed), $6,959,133.77.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The secretary of the treasury today received the following telegram from solicitor McCue, who is in New York:

"Mr. Acton refused to remove the seals from the sub-treasury vaults. Under no advice the treasurer has done so, to carry on the current business."

Treasurer Jordan telegraphed as follows:

"Have taken possession of the office under solicitor's advice."
New York, Jan. 2.—Treasurer Jordan, of the United States treasury, at Washington, took charge of the sub-treasury in this city, today. Mr. Acton, whose term of office expired December 31, was on hand this morning, also. It is his intention to remain in his office until the accounts have been declared by the auditor of the sub-treasury all right. There was considerable delay in opening the vaults and for this reason business was at a standstill for an hour or two.

New York, Jan. 2.—Thos. G. Acton, assistant treasurer of the United States, in this city, received a letter December 30, 1885, from secretary Manning, ordering him to turn over his office to Mr. C. N. Jordan, treasurer of the United States. This morning Acton once obtained the following opinion from Messrs. Geo. Bliss and Ellis Root:

NEW YORK, Dec. 30, 1885.
To Hon. Thos. G. Acton—

Sir: We advise you that your term of office expired December 30, 1885; that since you have been holding over, and that your relations in this respect will not change January 1, 1886; that you have no legal right to turn over your office and the property in your charge to any person not nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate, and that you cannot do so until the President has named your successor and you have a proper receipt or release you and your bondsmen from the responsibility of turning over the office to a person not confirmed by the Senate in order that the operations of the office should not be interrupted. You would doubtless as a good citizen feel disposed to obey any order to that effect, but as the operations of the office have gone on for ten days since your term expired, we see no reason why they may not continue in the same way for a few days, until the President of the Senate can act. In view of these considerations we hardly think that the authorities at Washington can be contemplating the action reported by the press, but it would be well for you to call their attention to the views entertained by yourself and your counsel.

The following letter was delivered to Mr. Jordan this morning at the sub-treasury, in answer to his demand for the surrender of the office:

Hon. C. N. JORDAN, TREASURER OF U. S. DEPT. OF THE TREASURY.
Dear Sir: I have received a letter from you, directing me to surrender the office of assistant treasurer of the U. S. to you. You now desire to take possession of this office and of the various funds in my charge as assistant treasurer, basing your action upon the letter of the secretary of the treasury and demand from me my consent to co-operate in this action on your part. In reply I have to say that I am here ready to continue the performance of the duties of this office and cannot assent by word or act to the assumption of the control of this office by any one not appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate as my successor. You have caused your seal to be placed on the vaults containing the funds to make necessary payments from day to day and thereby interrupt the performance by me of the regular every day and necessary duties of the office. If this interruption is followed by the refusal of the Secretary of the Treasury to relieve me in the same manner that I have done since the 20th of December ult., if this is not permitted to me whatever shall be done by you in regard to the business of this office must be done without my assistance or assent and against my protest. No one can regret more than I that the action of the government to furnish a successor to me in the office of assistant treasurer has been disappointed and that a temporary embarrassment to public business should possibly occur, but I have no right by any act or omission of mine to jeopardize the rights or increase the risks of my bondsmen. I am, sir, your obedient servant,
THOS. G. ACTON,
Assistant Treasurer.

Mr. Acton made no further objection and Mr. Jordan took control.

For a number of days the seals placed there Thursday by Mr. Jordan. Finally Mr. Jordan at 11:40 broke the seals and commenced business.

NEW YORK, January 2.—The following are the total net receipts of cotton at the ports since September 1, 1885: Galveston, 54,628; New Orleans, 1,145,316; Mobile, 159,950; Savannah, 592,750; Charleston, 330,297; Wilmington, 77,143; Norfolk, 365,616; Baltimore, 32,796; New York, 10,876; Boston, 35,112; Newport News, 18,192; Philadelphia, 14,778; West Point, 153,900; Brunswick, 12,328; Port Royal, 7,515; Pensacola, 16,435; Indianapolis, 781. Total, 3,093,371.

New York, January 2.—The total visible supply of cotton for the world is 9,058,726 bales, of which 2,745,826 are American, against 3,094,253 and 2,639,053 respectively last year; receipts at the principal ports 115,418; receipts from the plantations 219,908; crop in sight 4,540,800.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Daniel Osborne, was arrested at Winchester yesterday and afterwards met his death in a singular manner. The officer was on horseback, while the prisoner, handcuffed, walked in front. At some point on the road a farmer was met who informed the marshal that the prisoner was armed, as he had seen him trying to get a revolver out of the breast pocket of his coat. The marshal therefore dismounted to disarm the fellow and as he approached Osborne he saw him draw a weapon from his breast-pocket and apparently point it at him as well as he could, his hand and at the same instant the revolver was fired, the ball entering Osborne's left side between the ribs and passing through the heart.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—The sailors of the U. S. revenue cutter Richard Rush, which leaves for the Arctic ocean in a few days, in search of a crew of the whaling bark Amethyst, which is supposed to have been lost, have manifested much discontent over the clothing issued to them for the voyage. They say it is inadequate for the rigors of an Arctic trip, especially at this season of the year. Senator Fair proposed $300 toward the purchase of warm clothing, but Capt. C. H. Smith is obliged to decline the offer. It is believed, however, the Senator will be permitted to give each individual sailor some extra winter clothing, as a new year's gift, and in this way provide them with the necessities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A special to the News from London says that Phillips, who was so seriously wounded Christmas eve when his wife was outraged and murdered, is still in a very critical condition, but he was placed under arrest Thursday night, charged with being his wife's murderer. The Mexican, Martinez, arrested a few days ago on suspicion of being implicated in the recent mysterious murders turns out to be a pick-pocket, which accounts for the bloody clothing and ladies handkerchiefs found about his premises. He is still in custody. Mrs. Eaves, charged with the murder of her son Claude, was remanded to jail yesterday without bail.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 2.—A German family of five persons, named Bennets, living in Pine township, this county, partook of almost raw pork sausages for supper last Monday. Yesterday they were seized with violent illness, which the attending physician pronounces trichinosis of the most violent kind. The family consists of father, mother, and three children. The old people were first attacked. The doctor thinks the children will die. The others may recover, although the chances are against them. There is great alarm in the neighborhood, as several other families partook of the same sausages, but they may have cooked them thoroughly. The hog from which the sausage was made had been kept in a clean, dry pen and fattened on corn.

NEW YORK, January 2.—The weekly statement of the New York associated banks is as follows. Loans increase $2,971,500, specie decrease $1,267,100, legal tender increase $1,295,500, deposits increase $3,006,300, circulation increase $55,400, reserve decrease $423,175. The banks now hold $25,955,463 in excess of the 25 per cent. rate.
