CERTAIN CATARRH CURE. A physician's opinion of Catarrh. Has long baffled medical skill. We cannot cure it in Catarrh. We can cure it in Catarrh. We can cure it in Catarrh.

BEST REMEDY KNOWN FOR CATARRH

SORE MOUTH OR SORE THROAT

In all forms and stages.

PURELY VEGETABLE. REQUIRES NO INSTRUMENT.

It cures where others failed to give relief.

Dr. B. B. Davis, Athens, Ga., says: "I suffered with Catarrh five years. But since using CERTAIN CATARRH CURE I am entirely free from the disease."

Dr. O. B. Howe, Athens, Ga., says: "CERTAIN CATARRH CURE cured me of a severe Catarrh of the throat, and I cheerfully endorse it."

Miss Lucy C. Cox, Athens, Ga., writes, Sept. 11th, 1885: "One bottle of your remedy entirely cured me of Catarrh with which I had suffered greatly for five years."

J. H. Alford, Athens, Ga., writes Sept. 2, 1885: "My severe Catarrh of the throat was entirely cured by CERTAIN CATARRH CURE in one day."

CAN YOU DOUBT SUCH TESTIMONY? WE THINK NOT.

Only a few of our many certificates are given here. Others can be obtained from your druggist, or by addressing

For Sale by J. H. ENNISS, Salisbury, N. C. 21-1y.

I certify that on the 15th of February I communicated giving my four children, aged 2, 4, 6 and 8 years, respectively, Smith's Worm Oil, and within six days there were at least 1200 worms expelled. One child passed over 100 in one night.

J. T. STURSON. Hall Co., February 1, 1879.

Sir: My child, five years old, had symptoms of worms. I tried calomel and other Worm Medicines, but failed to expel any. Seeing Mr. Bain's certificate, I got a vial of your Worm Oil, and the first dose brought forty worms, and the second dose so many were passed I could not count them.

S. H. ADAMS. 21-1y.

Why. I cannot tell why God should send into my life. The bitter sweet, Nor do I know why toil and strife My hopes defeat.

I knew not why this weary aching My heart should feel, I only know in dreams or waking, Life seems so real.

I cannot tell why fond affection Should soon grow cold, Or why the friends we love and cherish Are quickly told.

I only know some hearts are trusting, And fail to find The love which knows no change or rusting— Pure gold, refined.

Ay, weary heart, wherever hidden, In age or youth, Sad March comes to each unbidden; But God is truth.

We know not why His wisdom sendeth Each sorrow down, Bat patient, prayerful, calm endurance Will win a crown.

Trusting henceforth His love and mercy, Our hearts will cry; Dear Father, send us hope and strength, Thou knowest why. —Tate Tannatt Woods.

Shalem Church Notes. Editors Watchman:—We are having fine weather now. The farmers are about through seeding corn, and are now busy in preparing their cotton crops...

On the night of the 18th inst., while everybody was, or should have been in their beds taking the rest which nature requires, a party of thieves broke into Best's mill and took two sacks of flour and some other things. The theft was not discovered until next morning.

The thieves were discovered and traced to the W. N. C. R. track, where they were lost. The Concord blood hounds were sent for, but could not be gotten on account of being crippled. Some of your Salisbury men should get some of these hounds and be ready for thieves.

Thieving is too common at this day and time, and we must take steps to make a sure and speedy capture of that class of criminals. A FARMER.

Woodleaf Items. Our farmers talk of organizing a farmers Club at Woodleaf. They should do so by all means. No agricultural country can succeed unless the agriculturist is successful. There is some complaint among our people about the produce market in Salisbury. Improve it, or trade will take wings for other parts.

The people in this section, generally refuse to sign the petitions being circulated, asking the county to grant an election on local option—prohibition. 1st, they say it will be an expense to the county for nothing; 2d, they say it has been thoroughly tried and killed very dead, the dearest kind of a dead and that the time has not arrived for its resurrection; 3d, they say and know that it will be injurious to the Democratic cause; 4th, they say they object to Tommy Johnston and his "chatter box." We believe in temperance, but not in a new prohibition party.

Johnny Sherwood has returned from the Oxford Asylum, where he has been under training. He is much improved and will enter the active duties of life with fair qualifications, generously donated by the charity of the Mason's and good people of the State. JEB.

The Comet. A comet is now visible in the morning skies, and it can be seen any clear morning with the naked eye, from 2 o'clock until dawn blots it from view. It is the comet discovered by Fabry at Paris, France, on December 1st last. With a telescope the comet is a beautiful object, with a tail some five or six degrees long, very slender and neatly shaped. A bright, starlike nucleus shines in the head and is surrounded by a nebulous glow of light. A group of small stars can be seen some distance back of the head shining through the gauzy train without any diminution of their lustre. The comet promises to be a conspicuous object in a few days as its brilliancy is now only 60 times that of discovery, and it will rapidly increase up to the 29th, at which time it will be brightest. The comet will then be visible in the evening, setting less than an hour after the sun, but it will be 500 times as bright as when discovery which may somewhat compensate for the disadvantage of its being seen on a twilight sky. The comet will then be moving very rapidly toward the southwest. —Char. Obs.

What Discussion Does. The friends of the Blair bill were dissatisfied at the course of the Educational Committee in the House. They went to work to get it before another committee—known to be friendly to it. But it turns out that it is defeated practically in that committee by a vote of three to one. This result is all owing to discussion. Three months ago but few had studied the bill or understood it. There are ten opponents to it now, to one the 1st day of January last. With three or four months more of discussion all important advocacy of it would disappear. —W. Star.

Florida watermelons are being shipped North.

Duelists Can't Hold Office. Mr. Richmond M. Pearson of Asheville, sometime ago published a circular abusing his colleague in the Legislature, Gen. Johnstone Jones, in regard to the passage of a Stock or No Fence law for Bucombe county. Gen. Jones recently replied, showing that Pearson was as much to blame for the passage of the law as he (Jones) was, and also showing that Pearson acted deceitfully in the matter, &c. Whereupon, it is said, Pearson challenged Jones to a duel.

If Pearson sent the challenge, he has cut himself off from ever again holding a public office in the State, and the law hereafter will be strictly enforced. Article XIV, Sec. 2, of the Constitution of North Carolina, adopted March 10, 1868, says: "No person shall hereafter fight a duel, or assist in the same as a second, or send, accept, or knowingly carry a challenge therefor, or agree to go out of this State to fight a duel, shall not hold any office in this State."

P. S.—The Asheville Advance of the 25th says: "It is rumored that the challenge has been withdrawn, and that friends of the parties are conferring together with a view to an amicable settlement of the matter." —Char. Home Democrat.

Duelling. Extracts from Johnstone Jones' reply to Richmond Pearson. Duelling is wrong in itself, a violation of the commandment "Thou shalt do no murder." It is a violation of the Constitution and laws of North Carolina. In my case to indulge in such a practice would be a violation of the oath I have taken to bear allegiance to the constitution and laws of our State. Being still a member of the General Assembly I recognize the obligation resting upon me as such.

Aside from these views I cannot recognize the method as a solution or a cure of the grievance of which you complain. Were you to kill me or I to kill you there would be no vindication of courage, nor would it satisfy your friends or mine or the public generally that the cause of complaint was just or unjust.

I regard the killing in a duel as deliberate murder, so pronounced by the highest authority, human and divine; and to fight a duel, though death might not result, both the sin and the violation of the law have been committed. Whatever may be the estimation in which the practice of duelling is held by "the code duello," it is made an infamous crime by the Code of North Carolina.

The custom has become obsolete and I think now generally regarded as both ridiculous and farcical as well as unlawful, and if I now grant your request I should feel myself to be a moral coward worthy the severe condemnation of the law, and the contempt and derision of the good and law abiding citizens.

Occupying the position I do, as a representative of the people I cannot afford to commit a crime so plainly forbidden by both the organic and statute laws, nor set such an example of lawlessness.

It will Kill our Schools. [Wilmington Star.] Ex-Gov. D. H. Chamberlain publishes a letter in the New York Evening Post from a lawyer of Richmond, Va., who is "highly honored and widely known," in which he speaks plainly and decidedly as to a measure that has just been overlaughed in committee. He says: "The Blair bill is monstrum horrendum, but the Virginia Solons, at Washington and here, support it. Both parties—a plague on both your houses—resolve for it. All the same it is full of evil to schools and all. It is as much in the teeth of the Constitution as the Kentucky resolutions of 1798. Shades of Marshall and Madison! Virginians, Democrats, ready to vote for it. God help us! But, if possible, its unconstitutionality is its least fault. It will kill our schools and kill our educational spirit. Woe to us if it passes! It may pass Congress, but I do not believe it will pass Cleveland."

Indians on the War Path. Nogales, Arizona, April 28.—About forty Apaches passed up Santa Cruz valley early this morning, killing several Mexicans and one American. They passed Colabassas at about seven o'clock this morning. In answer to a call for help, about forty volunteers, well armed, left on a special train for Colabassas. Scouting parties were organized and the hostiles were discovered in camp about two miles north of Colabassas. A second train load of volunteers left at 10 o'clock, and word was soon received that the Indians were being "corralled" and would be held for the arrival of troops.

At noon a detachment of the tenth cavalry, under command of Capt. Lebo, passed here for the scene. A company of cavalry also passed Crittenden about 11 o'clock, going in the direction of Colabassas. A third train has left here with supplies. There has been intense excitement in town all day and business is practically suspended.

Rejoice at their Death. The Blair Educational Bill, as well as the Willis Bill, died among its friends in the House of Representatives this week, and the mourners are now "going about the streets" and capitol building with very few sympathizers. The friends of the Blair Bill need not mourn, for if the thing had become a law with all its outrageous provisions, a firm and influential demand would have been made on the next Legislature to cut down the school tax to one half its present rate, say to about $250,000, so that, with the aid of the Blair fund, the school money in this State would not amount to more than it is now, about $500,000 or $600,000. Let the dead bury the dead.—Char. Home Democrat.

Serious Effect of the Blair Bill. As near as can be ascertained North Carolina's proportion for the first year will be about $550,000, and for the second year $780,000, and the third the enormous sum of $1,170,000. But, be it remembered, that to secure this she must supplement it by an equal number of dollars. Now, as the amount raised for educational purposes in this State in 1885, was only $604,071.70, it follows that although there will be a surplus of about $14,000 for the first year, the second year will show a deficiency of over $200,000, and the third year a deficiency of over $700,000. Now, where is the $900,000 to come from? We can see no source from which it may be expected, except from the taxpayers of the State, who are already navelly enough burdened.—Gastonia Gazette.

Items of Interest from the N. C. State Immigration Department. W. H. Higgins, of Rayker, Pa., writes to J. T. Patrick, Commissioner of Immigration inquiring for favorable location for a number of farmers and mechanics and desires to be put in correspondence with parties having lands that they would dispose of on favorable terms. They desire to make the settlement at an early day.

E. H. Hall of Carolina has six hundred dollars which he desires to invest in a small improved farm in the western part of North Carolina. Parties having such property should correspond with Mr. Hall.

L. Croates of Charleston, Mass., writes that he has been studying the advantages of North Carolina, Georgia and Florida and that he has decided in favor of our State and wishes to purchase an improved fruit farm with some timber on it. Parties having such a place will please correspond with the gentleman.

J. W. Johnson of Cedar Springs, Canada, wishes to purchase lands in vicinity of Waynesville. He writes that he has from five to six thousand dollars and will probably desire to invest from $2,500 to $3,000 in farming. Parties in Western North Carolina having property to sell should correspond direct with the gentleman.

W. H. Flaunders, of Warner, N. H., P. O. Box, 136, says he has made much study of the different climates and came to the conclusion that North Carolina is the banner State of the South. He will make North Carolina his home.

An Errand of Charity. "Uncle Stead" is what they called a shrewd old gentleman who used to live in Wintthrop, a little way out of the village, up the side of the pond, near Reedfield. One of his fellow citizens was a man named Lovejoy. Uncle Stead met Lovejoy in the village one day, and he said to him: "Lovejoy, there's a poor woman lives out on the edge of town that needs some provisions. I'm willing to supply her, but I've sold my horse and have no means of getting the stuff to her. Now I'll buy her a barrel of flour and a ham and some other supplies if you'll carry them out to her with your team."

Lovejoy said certainly, he'd be very glad to do it. Accordingly, Uncle Stead bought a barrel of flour, a ham, a bucket of sugar, etc., and telling Lovejoy where the woman lived, sent him off on the errand of charity with the good things in his pungi.

Lovejoy easily found the house where the woman lived. He unloaded the goods, puffing like a grampus as he rolled the barrel of flour in and said to the woman: "Mr. Steadman sent you the provisions. He's a mighty kind-hearted man to send you all these things."

"Well, I don't know why he shouldn't send them to me!" exclaimed the woman in surprised accents. "He's my husband." —Lexington (Me) Journal.

Salisbury and Fayetteville—Shake! The sentiment in this community is in favor of temperance but no third party.—Watchman.

We think we can venture to assure our contemporary that Fayetteville and Salisbury can be counted off in the same file on this question. Of the many prominent professional and business men in this community who have taken a decided stand on the temperance question, we know of none who favor the third party prohibition movement. They have too much good common sense to be caught by such a flimsy clap-net.—Fayetteville Observer and Gazette.

Jeff Davis in Montgomery. Wednesday was the biggest day in the history of Montgomery, Ala. On that day Hon. Jefferson Davis received an ovation and spoke to thousands of people on the spot where he took the oath as President of the Confederate States. What changes have come since then! Let us "look not mournfully upon the past; it comes not back again." Mr. Davis spoke from a platform over which floated a host of ex-Confederates, who still believing their cause was just, were glad to hail their old chief. It was a memorable occasion. Proud of their glorious record, and fond of Mr. Davis, the Southern people are as true in their allegiance to the Union as any section of our vast domain.—State Chronicle.

Consumption is the cause of one death in four among the Indian tribes, a much larger proportion than among the white or the colored races. The Irish contribute more cases of consumption to the death-lists than do any other race of white people, or the colored races.

FARMERS COME AND SEE

REGARDED AS THE MOST PERFECT ONE EVER CONTRIVED. It has many points of excellence to commend it to the American Farmer. Some of which are as follows: Having circular wheels it has quite an easy draft. The weight has been reduced several hundred pounds. A lead wheel in front of the shoe carries the weight of the cutter bar and prevents any tendency to choke with loose grass. The lead wheel forms a perfect protection to the pitman and can be set higher or lower, as may be required in bottom or stony lands, where often a change from the ordinary cut is very desirable. Another important feature in this Mower is that the cutting apparatus is kept in strict line with the pitman, so that any friction or binding is rendered impossible. This is a weak point in most mowers, and very often overlooked in purchasing, though the defect reveals itself by use. It is provided with the same kind of wooden pitman as described particularly in the remarks about the regular IRON MOWER. It is a Machine that will stand the severest tests and never disappoint the farmer in its work. It can be suddenly stopped and as suddenly started again in the most difficult places in a meadow, without backing up to clear the guards or give speed to the knife.

THE DAISY, A SINGLE, LIGHT REAPER

is designed especially for those who own small farms. It is a center cut, one wheeled reaper, cutting five feet wide, having the main wheel on a line with the small grain wheel, the advantages of which can be seen by the ease with which it can be backed or turned. By the use of one lever, both ends of the platform can be raised or lowered to any desired height, raising and tipping devices are all well timed and positive, enabling the operator to size the bundles to suit the grain, its whole operation will be found simple, positive and reliable. But of his many improvements MCCORMICK'S STEEL HARVESTER AND BINDER is the acknowledged Type and Pattern for all Harvesting Machines and stands unequalled, unequalled and unrivalled in its design, construction and value as a RELIABLE HARVESTING IMPLEMENT. Its points of excellence are too many to enumerate here and must be seen to be appreciated. JOHN A. BOYDEN & Co., Sole Agents, D. A. ATWELL, Agents. Then with these we sell the Newark Machine Co's. MEDICAL MEN! WHAT TWO PROMINENT PHYSICIANS SAY OF A NOTED REMEDY.

Crawfordsville, Ga., Democrat. B. B. B. is without doubt one of the most valuable and popular medicines known to the medical science, and has relieved more suffering humanity than any other medicine since it came into use. It has never failed in a single instance to produce the most favorable results wherever it has been properly used. Physicians everywhere recommend it as doing all it is claimed to do. The following certificates are from two prominent physicians, who have done a large and successful practice for many years, and upon whose judgment the public can safely rely: CRAWFORDVILLE, GA., July 15, 1885. Editor Democrat:—For the past ten years I have been suffering with rheumatism in the muscles of my right shoulder and neck. During this time I have tried various remedies, both patent medicine and those prescribed by physicians. Last summer I commenced using B. B. B., and could see an improvement by the time I had taken one bottle. I have been taking it at intervals since last summer, and can say it is the best medicine for rheumatism I have ever tried. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public. J. W. RHODES, A. M., M. D.

CRAWFORDVILLE, GA., July 15, 1885. Editor Democrat:—About November of last year I had what I supposed to be a cold/fluor exercise on right side of neck. I used local applications, which effected no perceptible good. I commenced the use of B. B. B., and took it regularly twelve bottles, and in the time it was healed over, and now consider it well. I cheerfully recommend it as a fine tonic and alterative medicine. S. J. FARMER, M. D.

"Meal Bag on a Bean Pole." ELBERTON, GA., June 1, 1885. My brother has a son that was afflicted with rheumatism in one of his legs until the knee was so badly contracted that he could not touch the ground with his heel and had scoliosis. He took only two bottles of B. B. B., and scoliosis and rheumatism are both gone. Mrs. M. A. Elrod came to my house the past summer almost covered with carbuncles and boils. I got two bottles of B. B. B., and before she had got through with the second bottle she was entirely well. She was also troubled with swollen feet and ankles, and have been for twenty year. All gone—no more trouble with swollen feet now. I was troubled with bleeding piles since 1858. I used one bottle, and have felt nothing of the kind since taking the medicine. The clothing that I wear when I left Atlanta fitted me about the same as a meal sack with this; as they are on the same clothing now, and as for me and my household, I think three B. B. is fully orthodox, and will be worn by. Respectfully yours, J. M. BARFIELD.
